The Scrap Book

The Retort Domestic.—Husband—"Your extravagance is awful. When I die you'll probably have to beg."
Wife—"Well, I should be better off than some poor woman who never had any practice."—London Opinion.

An Eye to Business.—Motorist (to victim)—"What is your name and address?"

Victim—"John Smith, 14 Bean Street."
Motorist—"All right, Smith. Can't stop now, but to-morrow I will call at your house and try and convince you that you should carry an accident policy in the company I represent."—Puck.

The Test.—Our notion of tact is keeping a friend after said friend has purchased an automobile.—Atchison Globe.

Proved.—In moonshine districts, where the whiskey looks like water and is drunk like water, strange ideas prevail as to what intoxication really is. In a village one Saturday afternoon, a man lay in the boiling sun in the middle of the road with an empty bottle by his side.

"He's drunk; lock him up," the sheriff said.

But a woman interposed hastily. "No, he ain't drunk," she said. "I jest seen his fingers move."

—Springfield Union.

Two or Three.—Country Cousin—"Well, I was in the Metropolitan Museum this morning."

City Host—"That's nothing to brag about. I know two or three fellows living right here in New York who have been there."—Smart Set.

A Winner.—It was at the dinner-table and the hostess addressed her husband's brother:

"Do have another piece of pie, Willie."

"Why, really, I've already had two; but it's so good, I believe I will have another."

"Ha, ha!—mothers a winner!" said little Frank, excitedly. "She said she'd bet you'd make a pig of yourself."—Harper's Magazine.

A Great Joke.—"Jones grumbles that his wife can't take a joke."

"That's funny, seems to me."

"How so?"

"She took Jones."—Judge.

Embarrassing.—Senator Borah was talking at a dinner in Boise about an embarrassing question that had been asked at Chicago.

"The question," he said, smiling, "went unanswered. It was like little Willie's query. A young gentleman was spending the week-end at little Willie's cottage at Atlantic City, and on Sunday evening after dinner, there being a scarcity of chairs on the crowded piazza, the young gentleman took Willie on his lap."

"Then during a pause in the conversation little Willie looked up at the young gentleman and piped: 'Am I as heavy as sister Mabel?'"—The Argonaut.

Didn't Sound Right.—"Ma, what does d d stand for?"

"Doctor of divinity, my dear. Don't they teach you the common abbreviations in school?"

"Oh, yes; but that don't seem to sound right here."

"Read it out loud, my dear."

My Dear (reading)—Witness—"I heard the defendant say, 'I'll make you suffer for this. I'll be doctor of divinity if I don't.'"—Milwaukee Sentinel.
