International Perspectives is a journal of opinion on Canada's role in the world and on current international questions. Its purpose is to stimulate discussion and interest in international affairs. It is not intended to reflect Canadian Government policy or perceptions. Indeed, the editors often seek to include material that expresses different or contrary views. The Department of External Affairs accepts no responsibility for the views expressed except where it is clearly stated that an article by a departmental officer is a statement of Government policy. All other articles contain a specific disclaimer of departmental responsibility for their contents.

Letters of comment on issues discussed in International Perspectives are welcome and will be considered for publication. Please address your correspondence to: International Perspectives, Department of External Affairs, L. B. Pearson Bldg., 125 Sussex Drive, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, K1A 0G1.
