

12.—Any respectable servant, out of place, may be admitted to the Home on payment of her board.

13.—Any inmate able to earn a day's work out of the Home, may be allowed to do so, her or his earnings to be divided between herself or himself and the Home.

14.—Any inmate having cause of complaint, may state the same to the Ladies of the Visiting Committee; complaints out of the House, especially to persons not connected with it, will not be allowed, and if persisted in, will be considered cause of dismissal.

15.—The hours for rising and retiring, and for meals, shall be prescribed by the Matron, and must be strictly observed by the inmates.

16.—The number of inmates in the Home must be at all times limited to the number specified by the Physician.

17.—These rules must be read to each inmate on admission to the Home, and they will be expected fully to obey them.
