

FIG. 5.—Section through intima and media of the aorta stained for elastic fibres. A, intima well differentiated from media with moderate fibrous and delicate elastic thickening and some necrosis of its elements; B, internal portion of media relatively well preserved; C, adventitial portion of media, with destroyed elastic and muscular elements replaced by cicatricial tissue.