DOUGLAS IS IN DANGER.

A Strong Case of Intimidation.

LIBERALS DROP A PROTEST—PROTEST AGAINST W. J. MCKEE TO GO ON.

Colborne, Ont., Nov. 1.—At the East Northumberland election trial yesterday two charges were taken up for consideration. The first was that Frederick MacDonald, who lives near Colborne, had been paid $5 on the night before the election to vote for J. H. Douglas, the Grit candidate, who secured a majority over Dr. Willoughby. The money, it was charged, had been paid by Capt. Brown, who, the petitioner's counsel claims, was an agent of the candidate. MacDonald swore that the money had been slipped into his pocket by Captain Brown. He knew this was so, because Brown some days before had told him that the money would be put in his pocket. Dwight McDonald was called to testify on another particular, in which it is contended he was paid for his vote. He was under the influence of liquor, however, and was sent down by the judges until he should sober up. A personal charge against the member was next taken up. The contention of the petition is that the day prior to the election Mr. Douglas called at the house of P. C. Breckenridge and obtained his vote and the vote of his son by intimidation. Breckenridge is a mill owner, and was indebted to Douglas to the amount of $100, which was secured by a mortgage on his house. There was a mortgage of $50, too, on the mill, held by an estate, of which Douglas is the administrator. The contention of the petitioner is that if these men did not vote for Douglas, he would shut down the mill generally, and close their businesses. The witnesses were Breckenridge and his son, who claimed that they considered that while no threats were actually made, Mr. Douglas's remark that they did not vote for him they would no longer be friends, was an intimidation to them, that he would take advantage of his position to bother them financially.

ELIZABETH CASES

South Huron is a Conservative Victory. Some Saw-off.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—An evening paper says:—There has been a saw-off in West Middlesex and South Grey, the Conservatives withdrawing the petition calling off the case against Dr. Jamieson. Both cases have been transferred to Toronto, and will be formally dismissed on the 14th November.

The North Essex election case, in which W. J. McKee, M. P. P., is the respondent, will be tried at Windsor on Wednesday by Judges Rose and MacMahon. The Conservatives say they are going on with the case.

Today the South Huron case will be disposed of at Osgoode Hall, the sitting member, Henry Elder, M. P. P., being allowed to hold his seat without going to the expense of a trial. This is a Conservative victory.

There is a tacit understanding that J. T. Garrow, M. P. P., for West Huron, will resign his seat when the election petition against him has been dealt with. The case will be heard at Osgoode Hall today, and will be formally dismissed by consent. The trial judges will be Justices Oler and McLennan.

there has been excitement among certain of the Queen's subjects over the fact that lawn tennis has been played by her Majesty's grandchildren in the grounds at Osborne on Sunday. There is nothing new in this fact, but the report never got into the newspapers before. "Bustle," I hear, says "Mainly About People," even went so far as to memorialize the Queen upon the subject, and received a stub for their pains. The memorialists obviously acted in gross ignorance of the fact that the Queen is free from prejudice.

MIT HIS BOSS.

Now the Police Are Looking For Him—Wallaceburg Assault Case.

(Special to The Planet.) Wallaceburg, Nov. 1.—L. P. Holston, day manager at the glass works, was yesterday assaulted and severely hurt by an employee of the works named James Kelley. The trouble arose over Kelley hitting a small boy named James Christian. Mr. Holston interfered and was knocked over a bench, his leg being strained and his head bruised. Chief of Police Cousins was immediately telephoned for but Kelley made his escape before anything was done and is now, no doubt, safe in Uncle Sam's domains.

IF MONEY COUNTS SHE IS DOWN ON IT

Then John Dryden Ought to Carry South Ontario.

Story of a Hundred Dollar Bill—It Shows How Plentiful Cash is.

Whitby, Nov. 1.—This is election day in South Ontario. Never in the history of an Ontario election have there been so many hoodlums at large as there is in South Ontario, working in the interests of the Liberal party. Every village has its quota, and even the side lines are filled with rangers driving about. So thoroughly disgusted are the independent electors that a revulsion of feeling has set in and it will not be surprising if the majority against Dryden is exceptionally large.

The fact that a young man working in the interests of the Liberal party in South Ontario had a very keeper a $100 bill in mistake, as he thought, for a $1 bill, has resulted in shedding a flood of light on the work of the independent party in this riding to elect the Hon. Mr. Dryden. In his endeavors to get back the bill, the young man in question divulged the particulars of facts which prove beyond a doubt that South Ontario, if it is to be redeemed, will be redeemed by the expenditure of big sums of money.

STORY OF A BILL.

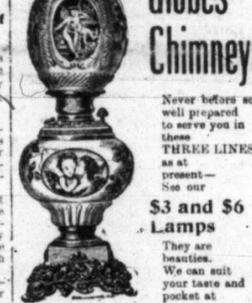

On Saturday the son of Sheriff Paxton called at a livery stable here and secured a rig to take him into the country, where he was going on political business. On returning, he handed the man in charge of the stable a bill, which he thought was a $1 bill. Shortly afterwards he discovered he had made a mistake, and on going back to the stable asked the young man, to whom he had given the bill, to let him see it, as he mistook it for a $1 bill but a $100 one, which was part of some money he had received from the political organizer. The young man in the stable stated that he had paid over to his employer the bill he had received from the Sheriff's son, and directed the latter to see his boss.

On doing so, young Paxton was informed by the proprietor that it was a $1 bill he had received, Paxton protested that it must have been a $100, and to convince the livery man he began to account for the rest of the money he had received. He stated in all that he had four $100 bills, one of which had been changed in the bank, one he showed the proprietor of the livery stable, and one he had given to a resident of Pickering village, who, it might be added, is a prominent Grit worker. In this way he tried to convince the livery keeper that he could not have given the other one to any one but to his employer.

There the matter ended as far as the livery keeper is concerned, but when the incident became known it raised a veritable tempest among Grit workers, who did not like the idea of losing so large a sum of money in this way. The matter was discussed among themselves, and every effort was made to see if the funds could not be recovered. It became evident that the more publicity was given to the matter, the more the party would incriminate itself, and consequently word was passed among the faithful that the thing was to be looked upon as a joke, and not as a serious matter, that young Paxton did not give the $100 bill as first alleged, but only the $1.
