

STABBED TO DEATH.

WOMAN DELIBERATELY KILLS AN ALLEGED RIVAL.

Sensational Murder in Rochester Yesterday—Five Wounds Inflicted—Supposed Murderess Arrested.

Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 19.—One of the most sensational murders in the history of Rochester was committed yesterday at 543 Court street. The victim was Miss Florence McFarlin, a music teacher. Mrs. Lulu Young, wife of Frank Young, formerly a tobaccoist, and once city purchasing agent, was arrested at the home of her father, 881 Exchange street, about an hour after the murder was committed. She is supposed to be the woman who did the deed.

The woman who committed the crime rang the doorbell and when Miss McFarlin answered it attacked her with a knife. Miss McFarlin ran screaming through the hall into the kitchen closet, pursued by her assailant. In the kitchen she stumbled, half-turning, and with a rapid slash had stabbed her to the heart. Another woman was in the kitchen, but was too frightened to do anything.

The total number of stab wounds inflicted is five. The dead woman was about 21 years of age. She was a daughter of a railroad man and a woman of refinement and education. The only words the woman who did the killing was heard to utter were: "She has come between myself and my husband and I'm glad she is dead." Mrs. Young has made no confession.

TROUBLE AHEAD IN CHINA.

ANOTHER UPHEAVAL IS BEING CAREFULLY PLANNED.

The Empress Obtaining Information Regarding the Number of Troops that Can be Raised.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 19.—According to advices from China, a Pekin correspondent of the North China Herald says the Chinese Government is secretly planning another upheaval. He points out that the Empress-dowager has received secret reports from all the Viceroy and Governors regarding the number of soldiers and the amount of war munitions that could be raised, and that instructions have been given to retain the instructors in the use of the rifle and in western drill.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Edward Small, a Wealthy Widower of Shelburne, Asphyxiated.

Shelburne, Nov. 19.—Edward Small, widower, who had been living alone in his residence on Andrew street, was found dead in bed yesterday, death resulting from asphyxiation by gas from a coal stove. Deceased was last seen alive on Saturday night at 10 o'clock, when he made some purchases in a local hardware store. The attention of a passerby was attracted by the violent kicking of the horse in the stable. Upon investigation he found that the animal apparently had not been fed for some time. He then gained an entrance to the house through a window and found it full of gas and the owner dead in bed. Coroner Norton was notified, but did not consider an inquest necessary. Deceased was a retired farmer and is supposed to be worth about $25,000.

CHOLERA IN PALESTINE.

The Population of Some Towns Have Been Decimated.

Jerusalem, Nov. 19.—The cholera epidemic is spreading rapidly. The populations of Gaza and Lydda (Ludd) have been decimated, and the authorities are taking flight. At Jaffa there have been fifty-seven deaths in three days. The disease is raging in neighboring villages. No complete returns of the mortality are available. The people in the stricken districts are in a sad plight, and relief is needed everywhere.

Geo. R. Maxwell Dead.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 18.—George R. Maxwell, member of the Dominion Parliament for Burrard, died at his residence in this city at midnight after a lengthy illness. Deceased, who was a Liberal in politics, was returned as first member for Burrard in 1890 and was re-elected at the last general election.

Submarine Boat's Success.

Cutchoque, N.Y., Nov. 18.—The submarine torpedo boat Moccasin made a successful submerged run of two miles today. She fired a torpedo at the end of the run at an imaginary warship. She came to the surface for observation three times.

Died in Electric Chair.

Auburn, N.Y., Nov. 18.—John Truck was put to death in the electric chair in the State prison here this morning for a murder committed in the Town of Virgin, Cortland County, on the night of March 14, 1899.

The New Swiss Minister.

Berne, Switzerland, Nov. 18.—The Bundesrath has appointed Fernand du Marthay to be Swiss Minister at Washington. M. du Marthay is now Secretary of Legation at Rome.

Steamer Wallace Sunk.

Two Harbors, Nov. 18.—The steamer Robert Wallace foundered last night. Capt. J. W. Nicholson and the crew were rescued by the steamer Ashland, which the Wallace had in tow, and were brought home early today by the tug Edna G.

Well Preserved

Women often astonish new acquaintances, who are introduced to a large family of strong boys and healthy girls, who call this young looking woman mother. It is popularly supposed that "maternity" is the foe of beauty, and the worn and faded face of many a mother seems to warrant the belief. But it is hard to believe that nature should compel a woman to sacrifice the rightful lower of her beauty in order to carry out a natural function of her being.

And nature does not. The pains and sufferings incident to motherhood are, to a large extent, unnatural. This is proved by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which prevents and cures nausea, tranquilizes the nerves, encourages sleep, and induces refreshing rest.

Mrs. Orrin Stiles of Downing, Dunn Co., Wis., writes: "I have been intending to write to you ever since my baby was born in regard to what your 'Favorite Prescription' has done for me. I cannot praise it enough, for I have not been as well for five years as I am now. In July last I had a baby, and I was only sick a short time, and since I got up have not had a day's sickness since. I was not only surprised myself but all my friends here are surprised to see me so well."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath.

PUTTING IT STRONG

But Does it Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is usually thought by a majority of people that Dyspepsia is a chronic form of disease, incurable by any means. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as it first appears.

The trouble with Dyspepsia is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extremes or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with "waters," "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest, and the stomach becomes more overburdened and at the same time the body nourished and sustained.

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy but its success and popularity leaves no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1,200 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperate room of 65 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much abused stomach will be given to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggists will tell you that of the many remedies advertised to cure Dyspepsia none of them give so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

TO HELP ONTARIO FARMERS

ARRANGEMENTS FOR SECURING ENGLISH FARM LABORERS.

Hon. Mr. Davis Will Co-operate With Dominion Immigration System, and Distribute by Means of Farmers' Institutes.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—The embarrassment suffered by the farmers of Ontario in recent seasons owing to the scarcity of labor is likely to be relieved to some extent by measures initiated by the Commissioner of Crown Lands, Hon. E. J. Davis, who has charge of the colonization and immigration branches of the Government. It is intended to work in conjunction with the Dominion immigration officials in England and secure for Ontario people the services of hundreds of young men who are desirous of settling in Canada. A system of distribution will be evolved through the machinery of the Farmers' Institutes of Ontario and other means, and applications from those wanting labor will be received as far as possible by the Bureau of Colonization.

Mr. George Bell, a respected farmer in Vaughan Township, West York, in an interview with a representative of The Globe yesterday drew attention to the serious condition of affairs which would exist in Ontario next spring unless some means was found of getting more labor from the old country. He was of opinion that the Government should take some steps to intercept, for the benefit of Ontario, the young Englishmen who passed through on their way to settle in the west. He said that the exodus of farm laborers and farmers' sons to the north and west had resulted in the compulsory decrease of acreage in many cases in this Province. He suggested that some means should be taken of notifying Ontario farmers when a party of immigrants arrived from England, so that they could come to Toronto and hire men, just as the Manitoba farmers went to Winnipeg in August last to hire harvest hands.

UNION AMONG FIREMEN.

BRING BRIGADE WITHIN SPHERE OF LABOR CONGRESS.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—A movement is on foot to organize the city fire brigade into a labor union, under the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, and a circular has been issued calling a meeting in Richmond Hall tomorrow night. The circular does not go further into details and state whether or not union firemen would be expected not to assist in putting out a fire in a place where non-union labor was employed or where a strike or lock-out was in progress. Chas. Thompson, when asked his view of it, said he considered it an absurdity. There were 200 men in the brigade, and not more than thirty of them were ever off duty at one time. He did not see how, in view of that, meetings could be held, especially as probably only half of the men would be able to attend, the others having business of their own to look after. In any case, he said, he did not see how such a secret organization could reasonably be permitted to exist in an organized and disciplined body like the fire brigade.

A FOUR YEAR SENTENCE.

WILLIAM STEWART SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—William Stewart, the aged frger of counterfeit bills, yesterday received sentences amounting to four years in Kingston Penitentiary. Crown Attorney Curry, in asking that sentence be passed, said Stewart had been operating about two years, that he was liable to a life sentence, while on that of having in his possession the plates and plant for the printing of the bills he was liable to fourteen years' penal servitude.

Mr. Du Vernat, counsel for the prisoner, referred to Stewart's age and said that, while Stewart had "served" the bills, he had not used them only when he was out of work and in need. He also asked the Magistrate to consider that Stewart had pleaded guilty.

Mr. Kemp, M.P., Mr. Jury, Mr. Taylor, the cigar manufacturer, each gave evidence as to Stewart's previous excellent reputation. His worship then sentenced the prisoner to Kingston Penitentiary for four years of each of the two charges laid against him, these sentences to run concurrently.

MUST PROVE FRAUD.

Important Ruling Against U. S. Postal Department.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 19.—The Post-office Department has no right to brand as a fraud or refuse the mails to a business simply because the Postmaster-General and a large proportion of the people do not believe in its methods. The fact of the fraud must be proved beyond a doubt before the Postal Department can take action. This is the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States delivered by Justice Peckham. The ruling, which is important as giving recognition to the right to people to follow their own ideas in regard to methods of curing disease, was in the case of Prof. Weimer's American School of Magnetism.

Healing V. J. M. McAnnulty, the latter being postmaster at the Town of Nevada, Mo., where the school is located. He objected to the former sending his pamphlets through the mails, and was upheld by the Postmaster-General. Weimer appealed, with the above result.

THE FIRST WOMAN.

An Old Eastern Legend That Tells How She Was Created.

The last section "Of a Finger of the Moon Reddened by the Setting Sun" in the Sanscrit work called the "Surgina of the Ocean of Time" contains a legend concerning woman's creation which is commonly credited throughout India, and which runs somewhat as follows: At the beginning of time, Twashtri, the Vulcan of Hindoo mythology, created the world. But when he wished to create a woman he found he had employed all his materials in the creation of man. There did not remain one solid element. Then Twashtri, perplexed, fell into a profound meditation. He roused himself to do as follows: He took the lightness of the leaf and the sun's rays and tears of the mist, the inconstancy of the wind, and the humility of the hare, the vanity of the peacock and the softness of the down on the throat of the swallow, the sweetness of the diamond, the cruelty of the tiger, the warmth of fire, the chill of the snow, the chatter of the jay and the cooing of the turtle dove. He melted all this and formed a woman. Then he made a present of her to man. Eight days later the man came to Twashtri and said:

"My lord, the creature you gave me poisons my existence. She chatters without rest, she takes all my time, she laments for nothing at all and is always ill." And Twashtri received the woman again. But eight days later the man came again to the god and said:

"My lord, my life is very solitary since I returned this creature. I remember she danced before my singing. I recall how she glanced at me from the corner of her eye, that she played with me, clung to me." And Twashtri returned the woman to him. Three days only passed and Twashtri saw the man coming to him again.

"My lord," said he, "I do not understand exactly how, but I'm sure the woman causes me more annoyance than pleasure. I beg of you relieve me of her."

But Twashtri cried, "Go your way and do your best."

And the man cried, "I cannot live with her!"

"Neither can you live without her," replied Twashtri.

And the man went sorrowfully away, murmuring, "Woe is me; I can neither live with her nor without her."

Sure of Applause.

That the theatrical clique is not confined to playhouses was demonstrated beyond all shadow of doubt to the teacher who was drilling the pupils for the exercises in one of the public schools.

The unresponsive bit of femininity over whom the amateur "coach" worked rejoiced in the name of Sarah. When Sarah began to talk, all her vocal organs took joyful holiday and retired in favor of her nose. In vain the teacher begged and implored. Sarah still clung to her monotone. Then the teacher threatened.

"Sarah," she said, "if you don't try to do better you will fall utterly, and then how will you feel?"

"Oh, they'll applaud me, Miss Brown," returned Sarah easily. "My mother is going to give my little brother Andy 10 cents, and if he don't begin clapping the minute I sit down he's going to be strapped within an inch of his life."

A Measure of Distance.

A northern sportsman went alligator hunting in Florida, and, as often happens with the uninitiated, he got lost. It was near night, and he was at a loss what to do. Presently he met a man riding a cow, says the Indianapolis Journal.

"Can you tell me how far it is to Miami?"

"Wasn't I reckon it's about two whoops," the man answered.

"Two-what?"

"The man seemed to take this as challenging his veracity, for he looked questioningly at the palmist, and prickly pears beside the path, then began to scratch his head."

"Praps hit may be a smitch furdier," he admitted, "but I 'low hit ain't morn' two whoops an' a holier."

A Long Felt Want.

"I have here," said the long haired theorist as he was ushered into the presence of the railway magnate, "plans for a device that will warn the engineer when any one is crossing the track."

"Can't use it," replied the busy official. "What we want is something that will warn the person who is crossing the track when the engineer happens along that way."

But Soon to Be.

Miss Ascum—Wasn't that Mr. Bonla I saw you walking with last evening?

Miss Coy—Yes.

Miss Ascum—He's a landed freeholder of the county, isn't he?

Miss Coy (blushing)—Well—er—he isn't quite landed yet.

Fitted For Politics.

"What makes you think he would be a great success in politics?"

"He can say more things that sound well and mean nothing than any other man I ever knew."

Kipped In the End.

"Oh, Alfred! Isn't it too bad! Just as we had everything so nicely arranged for our elopement, father has gone and sanctioned the match."

Few things are necessary for the wants of this life, but it takes an infinite number to satisfy the demands of opinion.
