GREAT BRITAIN.

Items of Interest from the United Kingdom.
Bar, Mr. Spurgeon, the great London preacher, is dangerously ill with malignant gout.
Mr. Alexander Mackenzie, the ex-Premier of Canada, returned from the Continent, and is now in Scotland. He will sail for Canada about the middle of this month.
Mr. Gladstone has recently stated that the Government delayed the Suez canal negotiations in order that merchants and shippers might consider the question apart from political considerations.
At the Wesleyan conference held in London on Friday Mr. Gladstone presented a number of resolutions expressing gratification at the spread of the temperance movement.
In response to a deputation of the British Medical Association, Mr. Chamberlain has promised to introduce a bill next year dealing with the subject of ship surgeons on board Atlantic steamers.
The father-in-law of Capt. Webb has left England for the purpose of taking home with him the children of the late Admiral Webb, who were in the hands of the French Government.

AN INFORMER'S TALE.

The Irish Approver, Murdered in South Africa.
The news has reached London that James Carey, the Irish Approver, murdered in South Africa, was a fellow-passenger he continued his journey, and shot him when the steamer was in the bay of the Cape. The presence of the informer's family, O'Donnell is calm, and is strongly guarded, as it is rumored there was an attempt to rescue him. A fund to defend him is being collected.

THE INFORMER WAS TRACKED.

Mrs. Carey had undoubtedly been watched, and she was followed by a number of avengers followed, for two days after Mrs. Carey had made her arrangements to sail from Dublin, she took passage in the same steamer, taking his wife with him. The avengers believed that the surest way to find the informer was to follow his wife, and their hopes have been fully realized.

A VERY REMARKABLE STATEMENT.

A rumour prevailed in National circles in London on Sunday night, that Carey had been seen in London. The rumour was tendered to the News Agency at midnight, but refused, as no authority was given. It has been proved that Carey had been seen at Paris from Brindisi, reading, "James Carey has been shot dead."

A CROWN OF THE OLD SCHOOL.

A Funny Scene in a Bar-room.
We were all sitting at the bar when the performance, indulging in a farewell glass of two with Paul Herring, when in the midst of our conversation two strangers entered, and took their seats directly opposite to where Paul was sitting. There was something so mysterious about them that instinctively the conversation ceased, and we all watched them through the smoke. One of them, a stout, middle-aged man, with a red face, and who seemed to take the whole place in a glance, ordered with grimaces, "Two brandies-hot!" The order fulfilled, each one took the liquor, and finding it agreeable, expressed his satisfaction in a complimentary grant, then leaning back in their arm-chairs, the two strangers proceeded to examine the company in the bar-room. The man in the red face, in a recent article on the child-labor law, reflected severely on the character of the man who had been sitting at the bar. An accident occurred on the Rome and Watertown railway near Clayton, N.Y., on Friday night, by which an excursion train was wrecked by the number of passengers killed and wounded.

A VERY REMARKABLE STATEMENT.

A rumour prevailed in National circles in London on Sunday night, that Carey had been seen in London. The rumour was tendered to the News Agency at midnight, but refused, as no authority was given. It has been proved that Carey had been seen at Paris from Brindisi, reading, "James Carey has been shot dead."

THE INFORMER WAS TRACKED.

Mrs. Carey had undoubtedly been watched, and she was followed by a number of avengers followed, for two days after Mrs. Carey had made her arrangements to sail from Dublin, she took passage in the same steamer, taking his wife with him. The avengers believed that the surest way to find the informer was to follow his wife, and their hopes have been fully realized.
