A Mean Revenge Frustrated-

Nothing mortified Sir John A. Macdonald more than his discomfiture last summer, and the defeat of his nominee, Mr. Vidal, in the County of Lambton He assayed, as is his custom, to take a mean revenge. All last year mail steamboats subsidized by the Dominion Government ran between Sarnia and Thunder Bay.

Lambton in person, and by his candidate elsewhere in the county, Sir John A. Macdonald plainly intimated that the people of the district must support the Macdonald plainly intimated that the people of the district must support the Government if they looked for Government favours. He was as good as his word. The estimates in the previous session contained a vote for Iake Superior Mail Service of $18,500. This year it was $6,250 less. On Mr. Mackenzie making enquiry as to the cause of the diminution, he was told the Sarnia and Thunder Bay line was to be left out in the cold; and the Minister of Justice, with an ignorance or want of veracity surprising even in him, declared the boats in question were really nothing more than an American line, have not commenced sowing yet and there is no time lost as there is little or no growth in the soil yet, the weather having remained raw and cold up to the present time.

An Ottawa paper says that one-third of the members of the Dominion Parliament are now, or were at one time, newspaper editors or publishers.
