

WOMAN'S LIFE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

"I was passing age of life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound has done for me during my life. Complete health means so much to me, and I am willing to make my name known to you by publishing this. CHAS. BARCLAY, Wille, Vt.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Her advice is free, helpful.

When the clarinet player began, John shut up his book, rose from his chair and went to the window. "Do you know no other tunes," he asked, "than those four you play here every Friday?"

"No, sir." His voice was very deferential and as sad as his music.

"Well, don't you imagine we must all be very tired of them?"

"I often think of that, sir. I often think of that. But you only hear them every Friday."

"You mean you hear them every day of the week?"

"That is what I mean, sir."

"There is always the other person's point of view. You learn that as you go along, and in the street you will learn it as quickly as anywhere. The man who runs into you on the pavement is going in his direction as well as yours, and it is always a nice point to decide whether you ran into him or he into you."

"From 'The City of Beautiful Nonsense.'"

Scems to me there is one of the best sermons I have ever read in that clever little passage from a very clever little book.

"There is always the other fellow's point of view."

That sounds like a commonplace statement, almost, an axiom.

BUT while EVERYBODY knows it, only one in a hundred remembers to APPLY IT in judging the conduct of his fellow beings.

On an ocean trip which I took last summer the ship was some hours late in starting owing to an unexpected heavy freight. During this wait I happened to be sitting near the first officer, and I should say on an average of every three minutes it was quite impossible for him to tell.

Towards the last his answers became rather short and I heard one woman come away saying most indignantly to her companion: "Well, I think he's a queer officer if he can't answer one simple question more pleasantly than that. Isn't that what he's paid for? I declare I have a mind to complain of him to the company."

Now, if the lady in question had only considered that it wasn't her one simple little question that had tried the officer's temper, but seventy-five or a hundred variations of that little question, I'm sure she would have been more tolerant.

But you see, she just didn't remember that "There is always the other person's point of view."

And that's the way it is with most of us.

We don't mean to be unreasonable, but we just don't think of the other side of the matter.

If we would only try harder to remember that everybody with whom we deal has a point of view which includes circumstances and conditions which we can't possibly understand or appreciate, surely we would pass more lenient judgments.

A Poor Weak Woman As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles. Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficiency. The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG. SC'S WOMEN WELL. The many and varied symptoms of woman's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1908 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed free on receipt of 50 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address as above.

Household Notes. If a pair of shoes has become stiffened with walking in the wet, they should first be washed with warm water and then have oil well rubbed into them. The conventional Bavarian cream, flavored with coffee and served in individual glasses, makes a pleasing dessert, especially if topped with whipped cream. To prevent cooking odors, fill a tin cup with vinegar and place it on the back of the stove. This will prevent the spread of cooking odors throughout the house. Weak nerves mean nervousness, nervous headaches, debility. They call for good food, fresh air, and a nerve tonic. Let your doctor select the medicine. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, free from alcohol. Lowell, Mass.

Hardwood floors should never be cleaned with water. Kerosene oil sprinkled on a wooden cloth removes scratches and stains. Always rub with the grain of the wood. Ammonia should not be used in the evening or near a fire, nor should the bottle be allowed to remain unopened. It is inflammable, and its fumes are not specially healthful. In making leftovers for soups never combine fish and meat, beef and lamb, chicken and beef. Sometimes a little bacon or pork bones can be added to soup stock for richer flavoring. When washing out a tub with coal oil to quickly remove dark rims do not neglect to wipe later with clean water and dry well. The oil left on collects dust and makes a tub slippery. To clean awnings make a warm lather of soap and squeeze the down in this till it is clean. Rinse in fresh cold water with a little bluing in it. Then shake and hang in the air to dry. Mica in stoves, when smoked, is readily cleaned by taking it out and thoroughly washing with vinegar, slightly diluted. If the black does not come off at once, let it soak for a short time. To avoid constant running to the cellar have chains run from the furnace doors through the floor to some convenient spot on the first story. This will be found an easy way to check a furnace. When two glass tumblers or dishes stick together so that there is danger of breaking in getting them apart, put cold water in the inner one and hold the other one in warm water, and they will separate. To quickly cloud the windows in bathroom, etc., apply with a brush a solution of epsom salts mixed in vinegar. This gives a capital frosted appearance, and becomes permanent if white varnished over. Combs should not be washed with water. This is apt to split the teeth. A stiff nail brush is a good thing to keep for cleaning them. After using the brush take a damp cloth and wipe between each tooth with it. Before preparing vegetables or fruits that stain the fingers a very good plan is to previously rub the thumb and forefinger with a little grease, which will prevent the stains that are so unsightly and difficult to remove. To insure a good light, lamp wicks must be changed often, as they soon become clogged and do not permit the free passage of the oil. Soaking wicks in vinegar 24 hours before placing them in the lamp insures a clear flame.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia In all its Forms can be Cured. It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden. Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Duckworth Street and Theatre Hill. Small size, 25 cents; postage, 5c extra; large size, 50 cents; postage, 10c extra. Mail orders must be accompanied by remittance.—Oct 29, 1m.

Deadlock in the Legislature. No Surrender on Either Side by Members of Saskatchewan House. Regina, Sask., March 13.—A curious situation exists in the Saskatchewan Legislature. At midnight on Saturday a 61 hour deadlock ended to be renewed to-day. Each side is firmly resolved not to surrender. No business can be transacted, and it looks as if dissolution is inevitable. This trouble developed an acute stage on Thursday when the Opposition announced that no business will be transacted until the Government had given assurance that the new voters list would be prepared. This Premier Scott refused to do. The Opposition claims there are no proper voters list in existence in the Province. The Government to-day declared one of two things would be done at once unless the Opposition receded, dissolution or the rules amended, so as to prevent the Opposition blocking supplies. Mr. Haultaine refused to yield.

To Drive Mormons Out of England. London, March 12.—A bill to drive Mormon missionaries out of England is being prepared by the Government, and will be passed without any opposition. Investigation by Home Secretary Winston Churchill showed that five hundred young girls have recently left England for the Mormon Colony in Utah without the consent of their parents.

Beaver Flour makes more bread than any other flour on the market—bread that takes up water readily, "stands up" well in the oven, looks well, tastes well and is light and nutritious. Being a carefully prepared blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat, Beaver Flour is also an ideal pastry flour, making the most delicious cakes, pies and biscuits. Keeping two flours—one for bread and one for pastry—involves unnecessary expense and bother. Beaver Flour is best for both. Ask your grocer for it. Hr. Grabe Notes. Mr. A. Munn and Mr. Alex Bryden, of St. John's, spent Sunday with friends here. They return to the city to-day. The Bell Island steamer with a number of passengers on board entered the harbor shortly after tea hour on Saturday. The harbor being frozen over she was unable to get into the wharf, but the captain forced the ship into the solid ice, when the passengers walked ashore. The steamer left for the island again yesterday. The lads of King Edward Brigade had made arrangements to attend service at the Kirk yesterday forenoon, but the morning proved so disagreeable that only about fifty of them turned out. Mrs. Thompson, the organist, had arranged some special music, and the choir, assisted by Mr. Collis, Mrs. N. Davis and Mrs. W. J. James, helped in no small way to make the service what it was—a real hearty one. A most appropriate solo was rendered by Mrs. James, entitled "Have courage, my boy, to say no," the choir joining in the chorus. We thought it a beautiful piece for the occasion, and must right here congratulate Mrs. James on its rendition. The hymn "Stand up for Jesus" was heartily entered into by the lads. Rev. Mr. Coffin delivered a very suitable sermon from the words of David to Goliath, "The Battle is the Lord's." The lads were most attentive; they could not be otherwise with such a discourse prepared especially for them. After service they marched back to their headquarters, where a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the pastor, the organist and the choir of St. Andrew's Church for the excellent service they had enjoyed.

In the evening the service in the above church took the form of a memorial service for the late George Makinson, whose remains were committed to Mother Earth on Saturday. Rev. Mr. Coffin made touching reference to Mr. Makinson's career and of his half a century in connection with the Kirk; he also spoke of the pleasure it was to him to visit and converse with Mr. Makinson, particularly during the past year. The hymns, anthem, &c., were suitably arranged for the occasion. At the close of the service, while the congregation stood with bowed heads, the organ pealed forth the Dead March in Saul. The occasion was a very solemn one, and the very able discourse of the Rev. F. S. Coffin will linger long in the minds of those who were present.

Festival of Empire. A meeting of the Festival of Empire was held in the Board of Trade Rooms last night, Hon. Sir E. P. Morris presided. The chief question for discussion was the sending of exhibits to London. The work of gathering the samples together has been completed, and the first lot will be sent away by the S. S. Durango; the balance will be shipped later. The Newfoundland station at the Crystal Palace grounds is nearly completed. The walls will be decorated with photos of the scenery of the Colony below and above with frescoes designed for a similar purpose. Mr. J. P. Howley, F. G. S., will again be in charge of the Newfoundland Exhibit. Mr. J. Outerbridge, who is now in England, being Chairman of the Committee, will take a direct interest in the Newfoundland Exhibit when it arrives there.

Had Smallpox. After the Golden Hind arrived here yesterday Dr. Campbell went on board and gave the vessel a clean bill of health as all the crew are well. One of the crew was stricken with smallpox after the vessel left Pernambuco, when Capt. Herald isolated the man and gave him skillful treatment until she reached Barbadoes where she was held for 4 weeks on quarantine, the sailor being looked after by a physician and recovering under his care. The man is now perfectly well, and owing to the care of the captain no new cases developed on the vessel. Lumber Property Sold. We hear that the timber property at Pinware River, Labrador, has been sold in England, and that a cablegram to that effect reached the city yesterday. Two of our merchants in the city are the principal holders of the property, and as the price obtained is a very liberal one they both stand to become rich men.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

A useful apron of generous householdly size designed to protect the entire dress. The back is held in position by a strap of material that is buttoned to the front at the waistline. A pocket is a useful addition that will be appreciated by the wearer, although it may be omitted if desired. Gingham, denim, Holland and cambric are all suitable for the making, and finishing braid or narrow-edging may be used for trimming. The Medium size requires 3-7/8 yards of material 36 inches wide. Cut in sizes: Small, Medium, Large. A Pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in stamps or silver.

Blue cashmere with bands of fancy braid for trimming, will make a very neat dress of this model. Challenge, lawn or similar materials will develop it nicely, for dressy wear. The full waist portions are finished in front with a panel that extends to form part of the skirt. The pointed yoke portions are outlined by a deep bertha, that lends itself prettily to lace or embroidery for decoration. The skirt is plaited below the belt. The Pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8, 10 years. It requires 4-3/8 yards of 36 inch material for the 6 year size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.
