Letting Light in Upon the Political Tory Tricksters.

John A. Robinson and his editorial brother of the Chronicle, the two sleek gentlemen who are in charge of the government press, have been recently making strenuous efforts, with the hope of convincing the people that the present is the best government that ever ruled in this colony. Of course, all who take cognizance of the management of the colony's public business know this is not so, but rather it is true that, in addition to their inability to "run a bulls-eye shop" their disposition to squander and waste, in every shape and form, the revenues of the Colony is simply astounding. Surely he is a very poor political economist.

With a Very Sinister Eye, who talks continuously about the abundance of revenues and tries to conceal from the public gaze everything about the astounding extravagance of the Government. The public revenues belong to the people—the people who from their hard toil pay the taxes and keep the public machinery running, and they are now uniting in the greatest demand that was ever made, that in the disposal of big revenues our financial interests shall be conserved by wise and beneficial legislation. He is certainly a very poor business man who talks all the time about the income while reckless extravagance runs riot and threatens the most serious consequences. The inherent energy and outward expansion of trade invariably lead to increasing revenues but it is the

Other Side of the Question that needs the most serious attention at the present time. No matter what government may be in power the revenue will go on increasing. It received its best impetus and superior management under the administration of the Right Hon. Sir Robert Bond, twelve years ago, and to Sir R. Bond we must go back to retrieve the colony from everlasting ruin. Why do I say this? Why do the people, at the present time, cry out for a change? Why are they so much in earnest about it? It is because since the present spendthrift crowd came into power it has been nothing but one continuous scene of riot on the monies rightfully belonging to the people. Boodle! Boodle! Boodle!!! and that continuously. How different under Premier Bond's management. Facts speak for themselves. Look back only for one moment over the record of the Bond government and you can with all honesty and truthfulness, blanch the faces of J. A. R. and P. T. McG., if they are capable of being blanchd, by a record that ought to put to shame the rioters and picnicers who have been grossly guilty of squandering the public funds for the past four years. Premier Bond was able to accomplish, with a revenue hundreds of thousands of dollars less than the present time, something that commands him to the unanimous support of the people. Study the following if you will—

During the first quadrennial term of Sir Robert's government—from 1900 to 1904—the expenditure on able-bodied poor relief was reduced from $250,000 to $15,000. During the same time the earnings of the people increased from $39.57 to 44.24 per head. The average earnings of a family had increased from $197 to $221. The imports increased from $100,000 to $103,800. The deposits in the Savings Bank increased by nearly half a million dollars. The exports of lumber increased from $100,000 to $275,000 a year. The exports of mineral increased in value by nearly a quarter of a million dollars annually. The government at the same time, or for the same period reduced taxation by more than $200,000. During the same period the Telegraph system was extended to Labrador, and 18 lighthouses were erected for the protection of the lives of fishermen and seamen. For public pharvhes and breakwaters $76,000 had been expended.

During the same period the government increased the grant for public schools by 25 per cent, and settled to the satisfaction of the country the long-standing public grievance known as the French Treaties question. Besides all this, during the same period—from 1900 to 1904—new avenues of employment for the laboring classes had been opened up; the mining and lumbering industries had been quickened, commerce received a new impetus and prosperity abounded throughout the land.

From 1904 to 1908 the same ratio of prosperity went on as if Divine Providence was pleased to smile approval upon the ministry of Premier Bond. The average earnings of the people still further increased to $52.10 per head, the imports still further increased by a million dollars annually. The deposits in the Savings Bank still further increased by $100,000.00 annually. The mining industry received a new impulse and rushed forward with an increase of $150,000.00 annually. The grant for public schools was increased by $60,000.00 a year. Seventy new lighthouses and fog alarms were erected, and telegraph and post offices were largely multiplied throughout all parts of the island.

All This and What Else? All this was accomplished by the Administration of Premier Bond without the imposition of a single cent of increased taxation. All this and what else? Why in justice to the people whom he had pledged himself to serve Sir R. Bond reduced taxation to the extent of some $900,000.00, and Sir Robert will do it again when the new lease of power comes, and come it will, as there is a "Divinity that shapes our ends" and guides the destiny of nations and colonies as well.
