"That Never Hurts Me."

BY RUTH CAMERON.
When a child fools its nurse and escapes taking some disagreeable but much needed medicine, he thinks he is lucky. When a grown-up apparently fools nurse nature, and apparently escapes the medicinal consequences of some health defying act, he thinks he is lucky. And one is just as mistaken as the other.
I heard a young man declaring the other day that his idea that you shouldn't go in bathing right after eating is all nonsense. "I do it often," he said, "and it never hurts me."
He is a man of fine physique and unusual endurance, and by reason of these things he is able to break the laws of health without any apparent punishment. But I haven't a doubt that that foolish trick is injuring him in some way or other, and that some day he will be asked to pay this debt, he is running up—and with compound interest.
"That doesn't hurt me." How often I have heard one or another making that foolish boast about some infringement of the laws of health! Of course, in all the cases I have not had a chance to watch and see if the boast was justified, but in a great many I have seen that it was not.
"I can eat anything at any time and it never hurts me." a woman I know

Now she also is paying the debt of many years' contraction. Consequences are costly things. When we suffer immediately for some infringement of the laws of health we think we are unlucky. In reality we are very lucky. "It never hurts me" is a dangerous thing to think.
Ruth Cameron

HOW TO PRESERVE YOUTH AND BEAUTY.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending thirty-one cents for cloth-bound copy, addressing Dr. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y.
The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and the improper handling of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused head, backache, headache, or hot flashes and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be avoided by a proper understanding of what to do, in those trying times that come to all women.
Mrs. G. H. Williams, of Lynchburg, Va., wrote: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors I employed tried to cure me, but I was not able to do my work. I had to hire someone all the time. Finally, I read in the papers about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle until I found it had done me good. I took, in all, five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I am able to do all my housework, and have gained fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try your 'Favorite Prescription.' It's the only medicine on earth."

Fashions and Fads.

Skirts of some of the new gowns are arranged to effect the second Empire polonaise, modernized to a lengthened drapery and cut up over the foot.
The newest hat shape of the moment is the Queen Victoria, a small sort of oblong shape with a round low crown.
Small peckpieces are made of tulle, or fur, or feathers, and are fastened in the back with loops or velvet ribbons or satin finished with fringe or tassels.
The plush or velvet gown will be found in the wardrobe of every well-dressed woman this coming winter season, just as she has her velvet or plush hat.
Some of the very smartest tailored suits are of velvet souple and broche velours in blue, and trimmed with sable or finished with white fox box and muff.

Coats for little folks are made of heavy cloth, such as ratine, zibeline, wool velour, heavy chevits, boucles, chinchilla, broadcloth and fancy rough-surfaced materials.
Combinations of black and white are very fashionable in blouses. One pretty model has a corsage of black chiffon mounted on white and a plastron of white chiffon.
The sterling silver chains are worn as a means of carrying the lorgnette. Some charming effects are made with the links interspersed with pearls or rock crystals.
The newest ornaments for the corsage are fruits and vegetables: strawberries, holly berries, tomatoes, peaches and apples are used.
A feature of the new tea-gown is the white plush kerchief folded round the shoulders just as a peasant folds her gaily colored handkerchiefs around the bodice of her dress.
Black hats are the height of smartness. They are made of velvet and moire silk, both materials are selected respectively or trim another according to requirements.
A very stunning little hat for a child is made of white beaver, with an upturned brim. The crown and edge are bound with black velvet. At the side is a buckle of dull silver.
Some of the new bags are of Ottoman shot silk, in many different shapes. They have monograms of dull gold or brilliants, which are sold separately to be pinned upon the bag.
Fans are now a necessary adjunct to a woman's toilet. They are in all sizes, from tiny ones at the end of a chain to the immense ostrich feathers.
Consider the details of neckwear this fall, it is a very important accessory. Any one who is not planning this part of her outfit is neglecting a very necessary factor in the costume.
Suits made of the combination of broadcloth and velvet are very effective. Three-piece costumes are made of charmeuse and velvet, the latter being used for the coat and the dress trimming.
Every fond father should remember that the acid test of his wonderful child is its ability to make a living after it grows up.

"Dynamite Conspiracy" Progresses.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 28—John Golden, President of the United Textile Workers of America, testified at the "Dynamite Conspiracy" trial today that he had corresponded with the Iron Workers' Union headquarters at Indianapolis about an explosion. He said in April, 1908, he had written to Frank M. Ryan, President of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, enclosing a clipping headed "Dynamite explosion" and saying "Enclosed please find newspaper clipping which will be self explanatory." The clipping referred to an explosion on April 26, 1908, at Fall River, Mass., when two spans of the Slades Ferry Bridge, across the Taunton River, were blown up. The work was being done for Bristol County by a contractor against whom the Iron Workers had called a strike. It was one of the "jobs" which Ortie E. McManigal confessed to have travelled from Indianapolis to blow up on instructions from J. J. McNamara. Mr. Golden identified a copy of a reply sent to him by Ryan. In the reply Ryan referred to an editorial in the Union Magazine commenting on the finding of dynamite on a "job" in Cleveland, which a non-union workman said he had placed in order that he might discover the explosive and be promoted. Mr. Ryan's reply to Golden was that the Fall River explosion might be classed with the finding of the dynamite.
Evidence Adduced.
Testimony that President Ryan had talked for two hours in a room to which the door was closed, was given by B. J. Cook, a former stenographer for McNamara. Cook was asked whether he had seen revolvers of explosives about the union headquarters, he replied he never had but once when he was required to take stenographic notes of magazine guns which he turned over to McNamara. "How long were Ryan and McManigal in the room?" asked Senator J. W. Kern, counsel for the defense, on cross-examination.
"McManigal came to the office and asked for McNamara," replied Cook. "I told him McNamara was out, but that Ryan was there, then he went in to see Ryan about three o'clock on the afternoon and when I left the office they were still there."
Two days before McManigal confessed, he caused an explosion at Kansas City, Missouri.
Three automatic magazine guns, one shot gun and cartridges were presented before the jury as having been the property of J. J. McNamara, James B. McNamara, and McManigal. They were identified by Frank P. Baker, prosecuting attorney of Marion County, as part of property taken from the Iron Workers after McNamara's arrest.

IN THE YEAR 1932

how much will you have accumulated at your present rate of saving? Most men will have little or nothing saved if conditions are at all similar to those of to-day.
Every provident young man appreciates the wisdom of accumulating for his own benefit at least, and looks forward to an old age of comfort and enjoyment relieved from want and worry. And every thoughtful man endowed with manhood feels that a duty rests upon him to make some provision for others dependent upon him.
The safest, simplest and most profitable way to accomplish all this, and to be sure of a snug competency by the year 1932, is by investing in a Canada Life Endowment Policy for $5,000 or $10,000, according to your means and requirements. The policy can be bought on easy instalments and facilities are provided to assist in carrying and enjoying the insurance.
Send in your name and age and let us submit to you a good proposition.
