Not Afraid to Love.

By RUTH CAMERON.

There are some people in this world for whom I care more than they for me. There are other people who (I think) care more for me than I for them. And I am not ashamed of the first fact and I do not see why they should be ashamed of the second. And yet there are a great many people who are ashamed if they feel more friendship or love for any other man than that other for them.

It is, on the other hand, they find that they are more important to someone than he or she to them, they swell with pride. I know a woman whose roughest boast it is that none of her friends are really necessary to her, and that when any misunderstanding comes, it is they who always make the first overtures, because she never likes to be the one to ask.

It is a beautiful thing to love. And by "love," of course, I do not mean merely man and woman love, but all kinds of affection.

What's The Trouble With Some Unhealthy Little Souls?

The more love you can feel, the better for you. Love is an exercise of the soul. The trouble with many healthy little souls is that they don't have enough exercise. If you let other people's feelings share of the loving in your soul, not only will you suffer no harm, but you will answer love, and the individual to whom we feel drawn ways felt equally drawn to us. But apparently that cannot be.

Tit-Bits of General Information.

George Hix, who was engaged at the House of Lords for a fortnight as a temporary hand in 1867, has been working there ever since. He is eighty years old, and sometimes arrives at his place of work—near the engine house—at 5 a.m.

That great French cinema comedian, Max Linder, is to appear once again in pictures, after having served his country for two years in the war zone. He is now released from the French army, and has been engaged by the Essanay Company at a salary of £1,500 per week.

Among the Russian prisoners who have recently escaped and made their way back to the Russian lines is a man who was employed by the Austrians in Lemberg to slaughter worn-out horses for food for the troops. He says that the price of cows in Lemberg is now about £64 and of pigs about £53.

BEATTY SUCCEEDS JELICOE.
LONDON, Nov. 29.
Sir John Jellicoe was to-day appointed First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, being succeeded in command of the Grand Fleet by Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty, who commanded the British battle cruiser squadron in the Jutland naval battle.

ARTILLERY AND TRENCH ACTIVITY.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
Artillery and trench activity in some sectors of the Franco-Belgian front is reported in to-day's official statement.

RUSSIAN SUCCESS.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 29.
In the region of Wakarka we have taken possession of a hill ten versts southwest of this point and captured prisoners. In the region of Kirilbaba our troops gained possession of a ridge of heights east of Kirilbaba, compelling the enemy to retire from their first positions and capturing eleven officers, seven hundred men, six machine guns and a bomb mortar. South of Kirilbaba in Dovetona valley we captured a ridge of heights along the whole of our front.

RUSSIAN CHANGES.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
A semi-official despatch from Petrograd says that Count Beterinsky has been removed as Minister of Agriculture and appointed Grand Master of the Imperial Court. Michael Degitis, Russian Ambassador to Rome, will probably be appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs in the new Trepoff Cabinet. The despatch says that if appointed M. Degitis will pursue the same policy as that associated with the name of Sergius Sazonoff, namely complete solidarity of Russia and her Allies.

GERMANS DRIVING FORWARD.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
The Roumanian retreat is unchecked, the Germans driving forward towards Bucharest along the whole front from Transylvania Passes to the Danube. The Russians are fighting hard, but the British see little hope for Bucharest.

SUNK BY GUN FIRE AND TORPEDO.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.
A report of the torpedoing of the Schemung was received by the agents for the ship in a cable to-day from Capt. Duffy, saying she was sunk by gun fire and torpedo by an Austrian submarine, 14 miles east of Cape Cata, on the 26th. All the crew are safe.

RAID ON ZEEBRUGGE.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
British naval airplanes made a raid upon the harbor of Zeebrugge yesterday, it was officially announced to-night. What damage they inflicted is not known. All the machines returned safely.

ROUMANIAN TOWN CAPTURED.

BERLIN, Nov. 29.
Clujcehti, in Roumania, 65 miles northwest of Bucharest, has been captured by General Von Falkenhayn's troops, the war office announced to-night officially.

GREEK CROWN COUNCIL SUPPORTS GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
The Greek Crown Council has voted to support the Government in opposing the Allies' demand for the surrender of arms and munitions, according to an Athens despatch. The despatch says this decision was reached after a session of an hour and a half, which was presided over by King Constantine.

THE GOVERNMENT QUESTIONED.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
Ronald McNeil, Unionist, asked the Government in the House of Commons to-day whether with a view to the discovery of intrigue in America or elsewhere having for its intention the bringing of peace before the declared objects of the Allies were attained, it would be possible to make a declaration that no question of a temporary cessation of military operations could be entertained so long as German troops remained in occupation of any territory of the Allies. Bonar Law, replying for Premier Asquith, who is confined to his home with a cold, said the question was one for the Allies to consider in concert. Until it was considered he could not make any statement except that the Allies whose territory is occupied by the enemy may be assured the full support of the British Government. Law said he doubted the advisability of making any announcement such as McNeil suggested, because it might be taken as meaning that it is all we are asking for.

GERMANY AND NORWAY.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
An Amsterdam message to the Exchange Telegraph Co. quotes the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, commenting on the report of the Norwegian Government, conceding that the submarine restrictions contained therein cannot be maintained, and says as follows: It may be supposed a final agreement will soon be reached, but in addition to the submarine question there is also trouble over the question of the position of Norway as an independent neutral to be considered. To maintain good relations with Germany, she must alter her economical policies to accommodate herself to Germany's will.

RUMORS UNTRUE.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
In the House of Lords last night Earl Derby, Under Secretary of War, set at rest the rumors in circulation that there was friction between General Sir Douglas Haig and the Home Authorities. Alluding to Lieut. General Sir Frederick Clayton's relinquishment of the post of Inspector General of Lines of Communication in France, Earl Derby said there was no connection between his retirement and the appointment of Sir Eric Geddes to superintend all questions of all railway docks and inland transport, leaving to the Administration as heretofore. The Secretary of War, said Earl Derby, in order to satisfy himself as to the adequate means for transport of the ever increasing amount of ammunition to the front, sent Sir Eric with General Haig's consent to investigate the matter. General Haig was greatly impressed with Sir Eric's report and requested that Sir Eric be appointed to carry out his own suggestions. The rumor that he had imposed upon General Haig was absolutely false. The Army Council had the greatest confidence in Haig and did its utmost to fall in line with all his suggestions, and rumors that friction existed were untrue.

OWNERS PREFER TO TAKE RISKS.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
With reference to the much discussed question of arming all British merchant ships, it is said that the Admiralty in some instances had recommended that owners arm cargo steamers, and offered to provide a gun and gunners for them on condition that the owners undertake the cost of strengthening the decks, but the owners preferred to take the risks rather than incur the expense.

HALDANE INTERRUPTED.

LONDON, Nov. 29.
Viscount Haldane, former Secretary of War, also former Chancellor, speaking before the Royal Society of Arts to-day, was subjected to a succession of violent interruptions from a number of well-dressed women, who excitedly accused him of being a traitor, pro-German in sentiment, and an enemy to his country, deserving of being sent to war. The women had to be ejected from the building.
