The cities of Albany, Troy, Lebanon, funfalo, Binghamton, Elmira, Eric, Pa., Toronto, Providence, New Haven and Rochester were represented at Albany, N. Y., on Tuesday. President C. D. White, of New York city, acted as chairman of the meeting. Applications from the above cities for representation in the circuit of eight clubs, which is to be formed, were received and referred to a committee, who will visit the cities and report to a meeting of the league as to the advantages presented by each place. The plan of organization of the clubs provides for the signing of all players by the secretary of the Eastera League and the allotment of twelve players to each viub, at a salary limit to each club of $2,000 a month. Provision was also made for a double championship season, the first season to run from about May I to July I, and the second from the latter day to the end of the season. A final series of three or five championship games will then have to be played only in the event of a different club winning both championship series. Each club is chiliged to deposit $1,000 as a guarantee fund for the faithful unfillment of all their obligations. The general admission to games will be 25 cents. Ten per cent. of gate receipts are to go to the league, 50 per cent, to the home club and 40 per cent, to the home club and 40 per cent, to the season's dues for each club was fixed at $250.

HORSE TALK.

The Board of Appeals of the National Trotting Association has decided to expel Frank L. Noble and his stallion Aleryon. The case of Robens, the driver of Aleryon in the Balch $10,000 stallion race, was continued until the next meeting of the board, to be held in May at Chicago. George Archer, of Rochester, a member of the Board of Review, testified that Noble told him that he was in possession of a $5,000 him that he was in poss check before the first hea was trotted. Closing Sessions of the London P. W. F. M. S.

Practical Papers on Interesting Topics-St. Thomas the Next Meeting Place.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Starting at 2:15 this afternoon, the last session of the society was commenced. The singing of a hymn, a Bible reading by Mrs. McKenzie (South London), and prayer, led by Mrs. Currie (Kintyre), preceded the address of the re-elected president, Mrs. Ball (Vanneck.) A recitation by Miss Duffin and a paper on "Christian Giving" by Miss Murray, of Aylmer, followed. The paper said: "Women have ever been faithful missionaries, proving themselves fitted, worthy and ever ready to teach Jesus and the resurrection. There are 70,000 women enrolled as members of the Presbyterian Chutch, only 17,000 of whom are members of our auxiliary to the W. F. M. Board. This certainly is not as it should be, and one of our most perplexing questions is, "How may we interest the women of our churches and arouse the many indifferent ones?"

"Co-operation" was the subject of an interesting and instructive paper read by Mrs. W. B. McKenzie, of Thamesford. God had called us to be co-workers with himself, and by working in union and harmony the divine injunction was fulfilled.

"Mission Bands" was ably discussed in

The programme of yesterday alternoon's session was as follows: Prayer and praise, election of officers, introductions, report of changes and additions, of men in the field; paper on "The talk on printing," by F. M. Pratt, of Hamilton. The policemen generally hold a meeting every week—the outcome of Miss Gurney's mission—and an adjournment was made to allow the sceretaries to participate. There was a good turn-out of the bluecoats, and the service proof patch. There was a good turn-out of the bluecoats, and the service proof of a Bible reading on "Prayer" by O. C. The sum of $645,022 has been leaned on mortgages, and $774,132 of principal and interest has been repaid during the year. The large sum repaid during each year (in proportion to the liabilities of the company of about $2,000,000), is due to the fact that your directors, as a rule, require some portion of the principal, together with the interest, to be repaid annually or semi-annually. This provides for any possible depreciation in values of securities, besides providing ample funds for meeting any maturing indebtedness (if required), or for loaning purposes.
