St. James' Church Adopts the Individual Communion Cup.

Local Orangemen Attend Divine Service at Christ Church.

Rev. J. H. Moorehouse's Advice-Hunter and Crossley in Albany-Interesting Church Notes.

THE INDIVIDUAL COMMUNION CUP. The first church in Canada to adopt the 'individual" communion cup is St. James' Presbyterian Church, London. The cups are very small and are passed to communicants on trays that hold 30 cups each. The entire set was presented to Rev. M. P. Talling by a lady who favors the change. ORANGEMEN PARADE.

The stirring music of the fife and the beat of the drum were heard on Sunday afternoon when the Orangemen of London marched to divine service in Christ Church. The brethren assembled in the Orange Hall, corner of Dundas and Richmond streets and at three o'clock fell in line in the following order: Ahoghill Fife and Drum Band; Hackett L. O. L., No. 805, R. D. A. Hillier, master; Boyne, L. O. L., No. 298; Maurice Baldwin, master; Benefit L. O. L., No. 762, J. Holmes, master; Black Preceptory, No. 346, Wm. Fox, preceptor; Ahognill L.O.L., No. 230; Loyal True Blues, No. 11, C. Fitzwalters, master. The turnout was about 200 strong. The route taken was Dundas to Wellington street, and thence south to the church, and during the entire march the band struck up tamiliar lively airs. Rev. J. H. Moorehouse, the new rector of Christ Church, occupied the pulpit, and chose as the subject of his sermon I. Thessalonians, v., 21. From this text Mr. Moorehouse preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion. Among other things he disclaimed an intention of encouraging animosity to any religious body, and suggested that Orangemen should have the strongest sympathy for the Roman Catholic section of the community. While they, as well as every section, should maintain the principles in which they believed, bitterness of spirit was always to be condemned. Charity and love should be the predominating principles of everyone. The ollection was in aid of the Protestant Orphans' Home. THE MEN'S MASS MEETING. As usual a very large number of men turned out yesterday to the Y. M. C. A. mass meeting at 4:15 in the Grand Opera House. The music was excellent, Mr. W. L. Blakie favoring the audience with two solos, in addition to the selections rendered by the orchestra. The speaker, Mr. H. M. Ciarke, Michigan state secretary, Y. M. C. A., took for the subject of his remarks, the caption of "Backbone," the story of Daniel, and also the 11th chapter of Hebrews. Moral courage, he said, was an element of all true greatness. Some eximples of men of courage were Daniel, Moses, Peter, John, Savonarola, Luther and Lincoln. God had need of such men meeting next Sunday.

HUNTER AND CROSSLEY IN ALBANY, meetings at the First Methodist Church | in every ward leads to the conclusion that are becoming so interesting that people are going an hour before time for the services to begin in order to get a good seat. This church, though one of the largest in the city, if the attendance grows as rapidly in the next two evenings as it has in the past | At the general election Mr. Hobbs friends two, will be far too small to hold all who wish to hear the evangelists, Hunter and Crossley. Messrs. Hunter and Crossley conduct their meetings in an entirely original way. Mr. Hunter seems to be the leader, and it would be hard to find a man better fitted for such work. The meetings never drag. There are no long, wearisome prayers or exhortations. Sometimes the solemn hush that comes over the audience is almost oppressive. At times one can almost hear the breathing of those near by. The outlook for a great revival is most encouraging. NOTES. Miss Tillie Barnard, for some years alto soloist of the Queen's Avenue Methodist Church choir, has resigned, and Miss Bertie Land has accepted the position. The new Baptist Mission Church, which is being erected on Hill street, near the Port Stanley Railway crossing, is progressing rapidly. It is expected the outside work will be completed in a couple of days. The call to Rev. Wm. Cooper, of Knox College, from Springfield and Aylmer will be presented at a meeting of the London Presbytery in London on Nov. 13.

Mr. Ezekiel Taminosian, the clever native Syrian (from Antioch), who has been spending some time in this city, spoke very acceptably at the London West Methodist Church Sunday morning and at the Colborne Street Church in the evening. Mr. Taminosian, who is highly educated, speaks the English language fluently, and the information he gives regarding the country that figures so prominently in Bible history is of more than ordinary interest. The singing of Miss Maud Fowler was much admired Sunday evening. She is a credit to Mr. Fetherston, and the Queen's Avenue Methodist choir may well be proud of her as a soloist. The children of Dundas Street Center

Methodist Church Sunday school are being actively trained for an entertainment which will be given on the evening cf Thanksgiving Day. Rev. J. W. Annis, city, will preach the anniversary sermons of Park Street Methodist Church, Chatham, on Dec. 9. Mr. H. N. Clarke, of Detroit, preached Sunday evening in the Talbot Street Baptist Church.

Mr. Fred L. Hardey has again taken the position as leader and organist in the choir of the Centennial Methodist Church. His efforts on Sunday were very satisfactory. Ezekiel Taminosian, the Syrian, addressed the children of the King Street

Presbyterian school on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Taminosian has a pleasant menner in speaking to the little ones. The morning and evening services in St. Andrew's Church Sunday were conducted by the Rev. J. G. Stuart, B.A., of St. Mark's Church, Toronto. Large congregations attended both. The reverend gentleman preached in the morning from the text: "Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand," Matthew, iii., 2, and in the evening from the invitation, "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come, ye, to the waters, and he that hath no money, come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price," Isa., v., 11. Both discourses were exceedingly interesting and instructive. Next Sunday the pulpit will be occupied by Rev. Dr.

Mungo Fraser, Hamilton. Feeling reference was made at Knox Church, South London, Sunday morning to the death of Elder Alex. Gauld, who had been an office-bearer of the congregation since its institution. The "Dead March" was played by Prof. Greene and the choir joined in an appropriate hymn. Army and navy veterans in Toronto attended St. Margaret's Church in a body on Sunday. Prof. Clark preached. After the service Sir Oliver Mowat, Prof. Clark and the reverend gentlemen connected with the church shook hands with all of the old soldiers and congratulated them on their good appearance.

Close of the Registration on Saturday Evening.

Large Gains for the Supporters of Mr. Hobbs.

Registration Has Proved a Bonanza for Them. The first registration in London under the act recently passed by the Ontario Legislature, necessitated by the holding of the bye-election on the 20th of this mouth, closed on Saturday. The registration was continued for four days and proved an eminent success. Hundreds of men by this arrangement will be able to vote at the election two weeks from to-mortow who without registration would have been nuable to go to the polls. This shows the wisdom and fairness of the law and the abtoday. Rev. Anna Shaw will address the surdity of the clamor raised by the opponents of Mr. Hobbs against registration. In all 2,505 persons regis-Albany Journal: The union revival tered. Careful oversight of the registration the supporters of Mr. Hobbs have made enormous gains. Of the 2,505 persons who registered it is claimed that at least 1,400 will support the candidate of the Government which was victorious in June last. discovered two obstacles to success that do nct operate against him in this election. At least 200 persons in this city then expressed their intention to support Mr. Meredith on purely personal grounds, or because he was the leader of the Opposition, and in the event of the defeat of of the Province. Those citizens now see no reason why they should not support Sir power for another four years. The former situation of affairs has been changed by the resignation of Mr. Meredith and his withdrawal from public life. The other disadvantage which operated against Mr. Hobbs in June last and is now remedied by the registration was the incomplete character of the voters' lists. It was found that many young men and newcomers in the city were unable to vote because their names were not on the lists under which the election took place. But with the complete list now provided and the enormous gains of the friends of Mr. Hobbs in the registration which closed on Saturday night his election seems to be assured beyond a doubt, if his friends are not over-confident. All that is needed now is that a full vote be polled on the 20th inst., and watci fulness that none of the exintending to vote for Mr. Hobbs are permitted on the 20th of November. THE REGISTRATION. during the four days in each of the six as well as a native could have done, and wards: No. 1 ward..... No. 3 ward..... No. 4 ward..... No. 5 ward..... No. 6 ward..... 227

NOTES. Seventy-two soldiers registered in the fifth ward. They came down in companies on Saturday night. A number of those who registered have their right to do so questioned. The court of appeal to try these cases will sit on Saturday, Nov. 10, and Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 11 o'clock each day.

The narrowest escape from disfranchisement recorded took place at No. 3 ward on Saturday night. A few minutes before 10 o'clock it was discovered by his friends that Mr. A. Stanton, coal, wood and ice dealer, though a resident of the city for happiness and comfort in life as a keen many years, and a tenant, had not his name placed on the regular voters' list. A con- Lippincott's. veyance was immediately procured. The driver dashed to his residence, gave Mr. Stanton scarcely time to get his hat on his head, and had him at the booth one minute before 10 o'clock. At 10:01 he would have been too late.

Picked Up $500. TORONTO, Nov. 4. - Archie Kerrigan, western traveler for Porter & Co., Montreal, picked up a purse containing nearly $500 on Front street, opposite the city hall yesterday morning. Mr. Kerrigan promptly made inquiries for the loser, finally discovering the owner, who warmly thanked Mr. Kerrigan for restoring her lost treasure. The lady, who declined to give her name, had driven down to St. Lawrence market in an open carriage, had evidently pulled her purse out of her pocket along with her handkerchief, and it had dropped into the roadway unnoticed by her.

179 DUNDAS STREET. AN EYE SEARCH LIGHT.

A REMARKABLE INVENTION NOW IN USE IN EYE HOSPITALS.

The Ophthalmometer Throws a Beam of Electric Light Into the Eye and Locates the Trouble-The Doctor Peeps Through a Telescope.

One of the most remarkable inventions which has lately come into practical use in the hospitals of the Dominion is the ophthalmometer. It is used for examining the eye when it is in a state of disease, and it illustrates how accurately modern science has come to deal with the ailments to which the flesh is apt to fall heir.

The invention of this new instrument was found to be a necessity. It is an acknowledged fact among specialists in diseases of the eye that poor eyesight is on an alarming increase in Canada, especially among children. The number of school-children who wear eye-glasses continually in the cities is double or treble what it was several years ago. The very large increase of work which this has occasioned for the doctors in the eye hospitals rendered it extremely difficult for them to carry on their examinations as they had heretofore done. The old method of examining the eve was to station the patient at some distance from a chart on which were printed letters of various sizes. If the person under examination was perfectly clear-minded, a more or less accurate result was obtained; but in the case of a child or a person dull of comprehension the result was not generally so good. The ophthalmometer does away with all this uncertainty, and by its use the veriest tyro fresh from the medical college can the invention of Profs. Javal and Schiotz, It is a combination of a telescope and a large painted disk, on which is projected an intense electric light. In front of the disk is a small wooden mask-like frame in which the patient places his face. On the disk are a series of divisions. The doctor looks through the telescope at the patient's eye. The effect of the intense light is to cause the numbers and show out clearly on the cornea or rear wall of the patient's eye. Connected with the disk is a sliding arrangement by means of which any desired point on the disk may be located, so that in a case of astigmatism. for instance, it is only necessary for the physician, after locating the source of the trouble, to make a record of its exact location on the disk. Since the reflection on the eye corresponds exactly with the disk itself, he has no trouble in doing so.

Of course, the different markings are meant to show the different degrees of affliction, and after the record is made it Sir Oliver, would be the Prime Minister is the easiest thing in the world for the doctor to prescribe the proper pair of glasses to be worn. And the best part of Oliver Mowat, who has been returned to it all is that this point is established beyond a doubt People need have no fear hereafter of making a mistake in the selection of their eveglasses, for that selection is made according to an absolute rule. and not, as in the old method, according to their sensations merely. Having the eyes examined by electricity, which is really what it amounts to by this method, is as yet something of a novelty, even among physicians. Some years ago the celebrated Dr. Helmholz devised an instrument much after the fashion of this one, but it was too complicated to be of Russian Hotel Rates.

The next time I had occasion to hire quarters in a hotel for a sojourn of any length I resorted to stratagem by way of giving myself an object lesson. I looked pedients adopted to spirit away electors at the rooms, haggled them down, on principle, to what seemed to me really the very lowest notch of price. I was utterly worn out by the time this was accomplished. I The following is the total registration even flattered myself that I had done nearly was satisfied. But I sternly carried out my experiment. I did not close the barexperienced hand. When we moved in, the landlord was surprised, but he grasped the point of the transaction, and seemed to regard it as a pleasant jest against him, and to respect us the more for having outwitted him. The Princess apologized for having made such bad terms for us-and meant it. I suspect that that was a very fair sample of the comparative terms obtained by natives and outsiders in all bargains. It is one of those things at which one smiles or fumes, according to the force of the instinct for justice with which he has been blessed-or cursed-by nature. Nothing, unless it be a healthy, athletic conscience, is so wofully destructive to all sense of justice.—Isabel F. Hapgood, in Striking Changes in Kilauea.

An account of the striking changes which the great lava lake in Kilauca has undergone this year appears in the Hawaiian Gazette. The lava steadily rose after the last great break-down of the floor of the crater in March, 1891, when an area of 2,500 feet long by 2,000 feet wide fell more than 500 feet in one night. Toward the and of last year the rising and over-flowing of the lake filled the pit thus produced. Since that time the activity of the lake has been intense, as many as twenty-three over-flows of liquid lava having taken place in a single day, and the walls surrounding the lake have been rapidly
