Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the immense importance to be attached to the scrutineers appointed in the interest of the Government candidates thoroughly understanding their work. PERKINS' FUNNY COMEDY. "The Man from Mexico." which appears at the Opera House tomorrow evening is not an ordinary comedy performance, but one of the superior written plays that has gained a reputation for its complete dialogue and actions. It has no suggestive parts, and is uproariously funny, and in the hands of Walter Perkins and a good company one can see and enjoy three hours of hilarious fun. The American election returns will be read from the stage, a special wire having been put in.

"KERRY COW."

When one witnesses Joseph Murphy's impersonation of Dan O'Hara, the blacksmith, in his play of "Kerry Gow," there are two qualities so strongly apparent that there is an almost constant conflict of analysis. The truth is that Mr. Murphy is simply a conscientious actor who gives his best effort at each stage of his performance, and so is solved the secret of the lasting popularity and prosperity of the only legitimate Irish actor now before the American people. The "Kerry Gow" will be seen here on Wednesday evening next, and the election returns will be given by special

WILL YOU HELP?

A Request From Mayor Rumball-Its Observance Will Assist the Demonstration.

The citizens of London should do everything in their power to make the reception of the soldiers the best possible. One way in which they can help to do this, is by exercising a little selfrestraint. It is the earnest desire of Mayor Rumball and the members of the reception committee that the people leave the station platform clear. This will save a crush and also give the relatives of the boys an opportunity to meet them before they are taken away. The public are also requested to line both sides of Richmond street, leaving plenty of room for the parade. If the citizens do this their thoughtfulness will be appreciated by the mayor and committee.

It may not be generally known to the citizens of London that they have in their midst a company engaged in the manufacture and sale of Ladders growth has been simply phenomenal. Their Waggoner Extension Ladder, with wire reinforcements, has made a name for itself that is known from the rock-ribbed Atlantic coast to the sunny slopes of the Pacific. It is seldom in the annuls of trade that such results in such a short space of time have been attained, and while persistent effort accounts for much of the remarkable growth, yet the fact cannot be them. If possible, they will take part overbooked that to the merits of the in the demonstration here, but they Weggoner Extension Ladder, the patoverbooked that to the merits of the ents for which the company-The Waggoner Ladder Company, Limited-own and control, is this marvelous growth In a great measure due. Its simplicity, strength and lightness are a revelation to all who see it, and their first thought is, "Do I need a ladder?" Their second thought is, "If I do, I want a Waggoner Extension Ladder." Nor is this only the case as regards individuals. It applies as well to municipalities, as the company is now supplying fire ladders to cities, towns and villages throughout this broad Domin-ion. The company's ladders have given such universal satisfaction, and inquiries for fire trucks from the fire departments have been so frequent, that the company at last decided on securing larger premises, and at present they have orders enough on hand to employ a large force for the winter in the manufacture of ladders and stephaldders of all descriptions, fire trucks, painters' trestles and many other spechalties. Among them is an invalid's chair, and at a price within the reach of all. The company is now removing to their new location. Their factory is situated on the corner of York and Coliborne streets, and will afford them ample space, and equipped, as it will be, with every machine and appliance that ingenuity has devised, and experience has taught to be necessary for good work, and plenty of it. The Waggoner Extension Ladder Company should certainly be in a position not only to hold the trade already secured, but also increase it to an extent that from the present outlook is practically unlimited. If the increase in trade continues, and the sales for 1900 are any guide, as it has, the demand for the Waggoner Extension Ladders for fruit-picking alone, next fall, will tax even the new equipment to its utmost.

West Elgin.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

The London Free Press of the 3rd inst. publishes an article headed, "West Eligin—The War Between the and it is a fact that he is familiar with McGuganites and the Caseyites," in wrote you that Frank Oliver, our Libabout 1,800 compositions. His conduct- which an attempt is made to set forth eral member, would be elected. Now ing is not a mere matter of form; it is virile and inspiring, and his plenteous mannerisms are spontaneous to newspaper within this constituency people in the east may think think think the east may the east possessed so little self-respect as to berta is small, but when I tell you we publish such an article, it would not have over 13,000 votes on the list, and have needed a reply, and, in fact, 134 polling places, you will see we are would have evoked nothing but the well-merited contempt even from those whom it would be intended to aid. As has been already stated by The Advertiser, as well as other newspapers, A. D. McGugan was the choice of the Reform convention, held on Oct. 25. His opponent on that occasion was not Mr. Casey, the latter having retired from the political contest. Therefore, Mr. McGugan did not "turn Casey down " and did not boast of doing so Besides, Mr. McGugan is above that sort of thing. The Free Press article alleges that the "McGuganites" consist of "about half a dozen Rodney wirepullers, convention-packers and ballot box manipulators." and says further that "lif the party is going to be run by the 'riff-raff,' who pulled the wires for McGugan, It is high time that the party was purified by shaking off such barnacles, and that above all things, they want an honest and truthful man to represent them." Now, the Reform party of West Elgin are not wire-pullers, nor ballot box manipulators, and furthermore, the convention at Bismarck was composed entirely of men who would be an honor to any community. Among the supporters of Mr. McGugan were old and tried Liberals, some of whom have attended conventions ever since confederation. All ages were represented, from the young man who will mark his balllot on Wednesday next, to the veteran elector, who went to choose a candidate to support the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie. The verdict of such a convention is sufficient to prove that the Reform electorate of West Elgin is almost a unit in their support of the Reform candidate. The townships of Oxford and Howard will give Mr. Mc-Gugan, at least calculation, 90 per cent of the Reform vote.

'Mr. Casey, ex-M.P., appeared at the nomination, and announced that he would run as an independent supporter of the government. No doubt a num-ber of Liberals will support him, perhaps for personal reasons. Whatever following he may have, they will not be the "riff-raff," either. That element (if its exists) doesn't count in this constituency. The Conservative party seem very solicitous for Mr. Casey's welfare just now. He is the man who for 28 years they made a target for their abuse. Nor do they care for him now; it is anything to oppose a straight Liberal.

Republicans and Democrats Both Claim New York, Connecticut, Et Al.

New York, Nov. 5.-Only at the headquarters and at the leading po-litical clubs were there any traces of political activity today. Both republican and Democratic leaders revised To carry freedom to the Rand. their figures and election estimates. When battle's awful notes were heard and both sides moved them up a peg their figures and election estimates or two. On the Democratic side, Richard Croker claimed the borough of Manhattan by 90,000 plurality. It is understood they expect to carry New York State by from 20,000 to 30,000 plurality. The Republican leaders, on the other hand, claim the state by not less than 100,000 plurality.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew is of the opinion that the Republicans will come down to the Harlem River with 185,000 plurality.
Washington State is claimed also by both parties. The same is the case regarding Connecticut. Chicago, Nov. 5.—Illinois has been regarded at both national headquarters as one of the pivotal states of the contest. Both the Democrats and the Republicans have been active and earnest, and the chairmen of both central committees claim a majority for the national and state ticket.

Cincinnati, Nov. 5.—On the day before election it is conceded that the Democrats will make gains in Cincinnati and in other cities, but the Republicans expect equally large gains Omaha, Neb., Nov. 5.—The chair-man of the Republican state committee claims the state by 5,000 to 7,000. Chairman Hall, of the Democratic state committee, claims Fusion will win by at least 18,000.
