A survivor says there was savage fighting between the soldiers and sailors for possession of the few boats belonging to the transport.

STRAINED RELATIONS. Berlin, April 24.-The utterance of the Russian press give the German papers an opportunity to discuss Russo-German relations, and even the Russophile journals admit the existence of a strong anti-German sentiment among the organs of Russian opinion of late. The Kleine Journal, which is persistently Russophile, admits regretfully that Germany's relations with Russia continue strained. When the attention of official circles was called specifically to the attitude of the Russian press, the reply was the relations between Russia and Germany continued entirely satisfactory. "Russian press utterances," said a high German official, "may represent the anti-German sentiments of certain official personages in St. Petersburg, but Russia is not a homogeneous country, and reveals many currents of opinion." A FEMALE BLUEBEARD. Paris, April 24. - A female Bluebeard has just eluded the French police, taking away all the records in the Sligo Champion, a seditious of her eight marriages, and her clever libel, alleging in connection with a lopolice, taking away all the records Boat Leaves Chicago on Sunday.

Chicago, April 24.-The steamship line between Chicago and Europe, will leave the shipyard at South Chicago on Sunday next, going into the Chicago River for her cargo. She will sail for Liverpool the following Wednesday. The steamship Northman will come from the shippard later in the week, and after taking on board her cargo will sail for Hamburg. The Northwestern will probably carry 50,-000 bushels of grain to Buffalo on her way to the ocean. She can easily do this, as her cargo must be lightened to the 14-foot draft of water in the proud of this. Physicians Welland Canal. The space occupied by the grain will be filled by the grain will be filled.
