Four clubs entered for the contest, the London Hunt, of Ontario, Canada; the Chevy Chase Hounds, Washington, D. C.; the Warrenton Hunt Club, of Virginia, and the Overland Hunt Club, of Maryland.

A charming and picturesque sight No. 3 yellow is quoted at 64c for cars of old, and 56½c for new, on the track here. Oats—No. 2 white, 31c, middle freights. Eggs they made in their uniforms of red and white with black velvet caps and silk As the entries from each club came through the gate, three abreast, they were greeted with a blast from the bugle.

They were mounted on the picked jumpers of their hunt, and made a pleasing sight to the eye as they stood grouped in the center of the arena. In this contest uniforms and appointments counted 25 per cent.

The audience tiptoed with excitement as the London Hunt led off at +0+0+0000+0+0+0+ the jumps and club followed club over the barriers. They fenced beautifully, taking the timber with grace and ginger. Dismounting afterward, each rider stood at his hunter's head, until the judging was finished, the bright colors of their uniforms blending cheerfully with the decorations and bunting of the Garden.

It was evidently a hard task for the judges to decide, and they noticeably had much trouble to reach an agree ment. Finally they sent them over the hurdles a second time before they could unite, which resulted in the first prize of $300 going to the London Hunt, of Ontario, Canada, of which Adam Beck is master, and the two whips who rode with him, W. Wilson and S. Owen. Second prize, $150, went to the Chevy Chase Hounds; third prize, $75, to War renton Hunt, and highly commended, Overland Hunt Club. LET FOOTBALL FOLOW

George Stephenson, Colored, Charged With Such Threat.

Another Hotelman Fined for Illegal Selling.

John Stephenson, a lusty young colored man and Cherry, his wife, have not lived together for some time. The reason for this unfortunate state of affairs is said by Cherry to be the the matter of providing the coin which is so desirable even in the humblest of homes. She has been compelled, therefore, to work as a domestic. She was happy until Tuesday, when John, she says, went to the place where she worked, and not only threatened to kill her, but choked her and otherwise used her roughly. So she went to the police and swore out an order for his arrest The warrant was put into effect yesterday, and at police court this morning John was bailed for $400 to appear tomorrow morning. The security for the bail will rest upon Mrs. Caroline Stephenson, John's mother, and upon himself.

Fred Fuller Said to Have Beaten Colored Girl.

Fred Fuller, a colored man, who is known to the local police, was arrested early this morning by P. C. Taylor on a charge of assault, laid by Chief Zeats, of Woodstock. His offense is said to have been one of the most brutal in the history of the Woodstock police. It is said that he pulled a young negro girl into a lane at Woodstock last week and there kicked her and beat her until she was nearly unconscious. He then left the city and his arrest was made here from descriptions sent out by the Woodstock authorities.

Chief Zeats took the prisoner back to Woodstock this afternoon. He will be brought before the magistrate to-

Ambulances in Mining District Carry | Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick's View in Regard to the Oft-Heard Cry.

> Montreal, Nov. 21.-Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick, in the course of an address at the banquet of the Insurance Institute of Montreal, said he had no intention of trespassing on forbidden ground, but wished to make a few remarks relative to the cry, "Canada for the Canadians, of which so much had been said lately He did not fully understand its mean-ing, but he hoped that it was not intended to make of Canada a sort of hemmed-up Utopia, or to raise a sort of Chinese wall about this country for the exclusion of other people. "We don't want to play alone in our own yard," he said; "we want others to come, too." Speaking of preferential trade, Mr. Fitzpatrick characterized it as meaning to Canada the full development of its political powers. It meant that for the first time in the history of the British Parliament a treaty with a foreign power had been set

Toronto, Nov. 21. - Rev. Dr. McTavish last night addressed the Baracas Club at their rooms, near the W. C. T. U. on Teraulay street, on the referendoctor's description of the new act. He said that the introduction of this measure of prohibition would be opposed by many moderate drinkers, who did not wish to be deprived of their liquer, but that many habitual drunkards, who realized that drink was an injury to

The material which he would work upon would be human minds, which to an abundant extent would be in ...s hands to mold. His work, if done right, would stand throughout ages, though he would meet with many trials, and have to stand upon his own abilities. Dr. Sowerby advised the new pastor to become an earnest student, and to prepare his sermons as if he were never to write another. He should, said the speaker, try to obtain definite results, and not mind if the public said he was sensational, when he was successful. He was now half-way up the road of success, and his future progress depended on his own resources. The congrega-tion could help him to the highest pos-sibilities, if he but won their sympathy

The charge to the congregation was given by Rev. T. S. Johnson, pastor of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church. Mr. Johnson said he thought that the form of charging the congregation as to their duties to a pastor was rather
