NEW YORK, July 12.—Further pressure was exerted against some of the leading issues today, with a new low record for 18t. Paul. Union Pacific also felt the force of the selling, which was mainly, directed, however, against the metal stocks, including Amalgamated Copper and, Smelting. According to common report, there has recently grown up a formidable bear party, which is devoting no little attention to the Copper stocks, predicting its attitude on what is believed to be overmanipulation in those shares here and abroad. The balance of the list was relatively steady, with light dealings. The bond market was irregular.

BRAND NEW STORY OF AN AFRICAN FARM

English Lady Shows It To Be One of Best Agricultural Countries.

London, July 12 .- Another story of an African farm is told by Mrs. H. J. Langridge, who has just returned to London after four years' residence in British Africa, where she has engaged in fruit growing. Mrs. Langridge is of opinion that the country offers one of the greatest fields in the world to energetic agriculturists who have capital. of from $10,000 to $25,000.

She has had great success in her present enterprise, and when she returns in a few months she is going to turn her attention to coffee, which she will grow on a tract of land which she has purchased, adjoining, her husband's plantation, and 16 miles from her present farm. Coffee, she says, is easy to grow, needs less capital than any other product, and is sure of a continuous and expanding market.

Mrs. Langridge's fruit farm is known as the N' Gelani estate, and it is near Manchako Town, about 30 miles from the Uganda Railway, in the highlands of British East Africa. She has about a hundred acres and it is all under cultivation. The farm has been out for more than 25 years, but it is only recently under her management that it has been made a paying propo-

It is at present the only actual fruit bearing farm in the colony, although others are under cultivation. It contains 7,000 apple trees, besides oranges, lemons, pineapples, tangerines, plums, peaches, figs, apricots, green gages, guavas, quinces, pomegranates, and vines. She has on it 50 ostriches, 30 head of cattle, a small flock of sheep and a poultry farm. The main crop so far, however, comes from the apple trees. It pays best at present to push this crop, because it can be easily packed and shipped to Uganda, German East Africa, Zanzibar, Aden, and other parts. "The apple crop is truly remarkable," says Mrs. Langridge. "We start picking apples in December and continue without break until August. In August I strip the trees of their leaves and whitewash the bark all the way up in order to give the trees a forced rest. The trees are blossoming, fruiting and ripening all at the same time. You can see the bud, blossom, small and large fruit on the tree at one and the same

"The singular evenness of climate accounts for this remarkable fertility. The sun rises at 6 arm. and sets at 6 p.m. with unswerving regularity, and every night a cool mist comes down on the hills so that every morning everything is thoroughly moistened. There are two rainy seasons, in November and March, but the elements are very obliging and the rain descends only at night time."

The natives work very well and are very quiet and teachable. Only male help, however, is possible, as the Girls are sold at 16 years of age to the highest bidder in cows, the natives trading entirely in cows and goods. Girls are never allowed to enter do-mestic service, and the British Government will not allow Europeans to purchase girls for that purpose. The best native male servant is found in the boy who is taken away from his surroundings at about 10 o r12 years, and given a thorough training in European ways. He is then very quek and willing to learn.

Mr. Robert Logan, the G. T. R. depot police officer, was notified, however, and placed the second member of the team under arrest, as he was about to depart through the back door for York street. The man apeared very much excited and produced two sleeper tickets to show that he was bound from Chicago to New York. As the man who had been "touched" could not conveni ently return to London to testify in the police court, the prisoner was allowed to proceed. His mate, however, did not eturn to that train.

It is claimed by the police that the isual method of the picpockets working trains was employed in instance. DECISIVE LIBERAL VICTORY IN SASKATCHEWAN

RECIPROCITY THE ISSUE, Or the other hand, Walter Scott, in a manifesto issued a few days before the election declaring that reciprocity and the wider markets' question generally was the only issue before the electors, and in this he was in great measure borne out by the facts. There was little or no criticism of the administrative record of the Government during the campaign. In general it was admitted to be good, though some small points in it were brought up for dis-

PLANKS WERE SAME.

Further, the planks in the Scott platform and the Haultain platform were practically identical, both policies including good roads, the return of the Provincial domain to Provincial control, cheap money for farmers, loans and railway extensions. The points at issue were, therefore, confined to two. One was a matter of political history, Haultain alleging Scott was not the rightful premier of Saskatchewan-that this honor was stolen from him (Haultain) at the time autonomy was granted. The other was the question of wider markets. Haultain derided the introduction of a question on which Saskatchewan could take no action, that is reciprocity. stolen from him, that the election was Conservative Slogan. At the same time the Conservative brought on without sufficient notice. slogan throughout the province was "Saskatchewan for Borden and Hauling the province for a month before the tain," and federal issues were kept ing the province for a month before the prominent throughout the campaign by the Conservative speakers, such as the Haultain had all the federal help that the Conservative speakers, such as the Borden Government's new homestead regulations, the public ownership of elevators at the head of the takes, and others. The Scott candidates kept always prominent the "wider, markets" question, on which Liberalism swept Saskatchewan last September into a ratio of nine to one. "If Saskatchewan does not announce to the world that it considers reciprocity still a live question, who then will not consider it dead?" was their reasoning.

In organization the two parties en-tered the contest on an equal basis. In jority would be smaller than in the last Haultain Had Help.

1908 Haultain claimed the province was House.

EARLIER DISPATCHES Regina, Sask., July 11.—Late returns tonight show that the Scott Government has carried the province by a large majority. The defeat of the Opposition was decisive, former Conservative strongholds, such as Souris, Pipestone, Last Mountain, Moose Mountain, and Pheasant Hills, returning supporters of the Government by substantial majorities. In four cities the Conservatives did fairly well, splitting fairly even in Moose Jaw, the Liberals helding Regina and Saskaton. The Liberals showed remarkable gains, the holding Regina and Saskatoon. The Liberals showed remarkable gains, the farmers apparently regarding the question of wider markets, which was such a prominent feature in the campaign as of paramount importance, insuch a prominent feature in the campaign as of parametric importance, massuch as throughout the campaign the Opposition levelled little or no criticism at the records and policies of the Government. Mr. Haultain himself had a narrow win in South Qu'Appelle. Final results tonight give him only 20 majority. Two of his chief lieutenants, Dr. W. Elliott and A. B. Gillis, both went down to defeat. Tremendous interest was taken in the result in the capital, and throughout the province. In the city, as soon as returns definitely established the return of the Government, the Liberals organized an impromptu procession and with bands playing paraded the city streets. Tomorrow it is proposed to organize a great demonstration, in which most of the successful Liberal andidates will participate. The Liberals attribute their success to the record of the Government. combined with the desire of the farmers of Saskatchewan to again go on record as demanding an outlet to the south for their grain.

CONSERVATIVES MUM.

The Conservatives have little to say on the result. They maintain that eciprocity was an issue that should not have been introduced into the camaign. They admit themselves defeated, however, after a hard, straight fight, which the Opposition fought under more favorable conditions as to organzation of party funds than in any previous contest since the province was reated.

Took a Slump. In the Association cup, Bert Heaman and his rink went into the finals, and, after making a great start, allowed the Ecclestone rink, of St. Catharines, to creep up on them. They fell off badly from that on, and the St. Ketts rink won Skip W. J. Snelgrove and his rink arrived home today from the O. B. A. tournament at Nlagara-on-the-Lake, and report that they had a splendld time. Mr. Snelgrove witnessed the final game between Charley Abbott's rink and the Van Valkenberg rink, of Belmy Beach. It was a great game, and both teams played in great form. Abbott was particularly good, and the prettiest bowling of the afternoon took place in the sectond to last end, when, by some great drawing, the Thistle skip counted four shots. His last two bewis were drawn through a port that the spectators imagined was hardly big enough for a bowl to pass through.

When Abbott drew the first shot, and to pass through.
