sured. Today the stock judging will be done. None of the stock was on the grounds yesterday, but will be all in place this morning. The entries in the stock classes are in excess of former years and of a more varied character. The live stock parade this afternoon promises to be one of the chief features of the show while the dance in

tures of the show, while the dance in the evening, the grand finale, will prove, as it has always done, one of prove, as it has always done, one of the social events of the year. Large crowds from the city are expected to visit the fair today and to accom-modate the visitors a special train on modate the visitors a special train on the V. & S. will be run from Victoria at 7.30 o'clock this evening, returning about 11 o'clock. Of the exhibits the fruit is the first which meets the attention of the visi-tor to the agricultural hall. The largest and most varied display is made by Stewart Bros., of Bonnie Briar, who captured the silver cup given by John Piercy, president of the Vic-toria Farmers' Institute, for the best axhibit of child classes. The exhibit of fruit of all classes. The exhibit consists of apples, pears, grapes and prunes and is tastily displayed. Accompanying the exhibit is played. Accompanying the exhibit is a series of photographs showing the series of photographs showing the evolution of a fruit ranch, that of Stewart Bros., in the past sixteen years, the period during which these well known fruit growers have been in the Saanich district. Another fine exhibit of fruit is made by J. R. Carmichael, who entered for the Piercy prize. The quality of this latter exhibit is fully equal to that shown by Stewart Bros. but is lacking in variety and arrangement Tanner Bros. cap-Stewart Bros. but is lacking in variety and arrangement Tanner Bros. captured the first prize for the best collection of apples. The same firm won the special prize offered by R. Layritz, for the best collection of apples, five of each variety, off trees sold by Mr. Layritz, while Errington and Cantwell took the second honors. Some twenty other exhibitors entered in the fruit classes, all making good displays.

In every case the fruit shown was of high quality, color and size and was a tribute to the fruit raising ability of the district, to which the manage-ment of the fair suggests, those easterners who are seeking homes in this part of the province, could profitably in any previous year. Messrs. Dean Bros., J. J. Rey, J. T. Harrison, W. Veltch, C. B. Jones J. Matthews, L. Hagan and othres all had carefully selected varieties on view, the whole forming a remarkable display of the district's productiveness. Mammoth squashes, turnips, pumpkins, fine look ing beets and potatoes of every variety are shown, while all the other vegetables onions, cabbages, etc., form an important part of the display. The special prize offered for the best collection of vegetables, exhibited by boys under 15 years, offered by Mr. Birch, was won by Douglas Wood; second, W. Harrison. The dairy and grain exhibits are also fully in advance of those of previous recommends.

vance of those of previous years. They will be judged today.

The same excellence is shown in the exhibits of bottled fruits, jams jellies, vinegars and wines while the display of honey, in jars and in the comb, and the collection of not plants and he collection of pot plants and cut flowers together with the bread and cake display are comprehensive and the arrangement is excellent.

One of the departments which willa glance at the entries in this department, indicates clearly that they have devoted much time and trouble to attain their object. The display of cushions, doilies, shawls handkerchiefs, tea cosies, knitted goods and a host of other articles of fine workmanship and of exceeding attractiveness and usefulness, is the best yet shown. Mrs. Brethour made the leading exhibit the fine drawn work and silk embroidery on linen being exceptionally good. A feature of the exhibits in the ladies' department is the entry made by Mary Underwood, an Indian girl of a large mat and crochet work. The swiss carving on wood, five pieces, show by George Stewart, sr., of Bonnie Brea, was also much admired. Mr. Stewart is eighty-two years of age, but time has not lessened the exellence of his work. The judges of the various classes are as follows: Cattle, Wilson Clark; horses, Provincial Live Stock Commisner Logan, who also will judge the swine; sheep, Major Mutter; fruit and vegetables, K. R. Streatfield and Mr. Dilworth; poultry, W. Bayllis; bread and cake, M. P. Smith; grain D. R. Ker of the Brackman-Ker Milling company; ladies' work and flowers, Mrs. Birch and Mrs. Ruckle. trouble was precipitated by jealousie among some of the Australian players. There was great soreness over the selection of the teams, and when Jones, Fletcher and Presgrave, of Adelaide, were left out of the final test, they openly sided with us. At half-time these players came and told us to look out, as Noblett, Kell and lumphries were going to lay Campbel out or, as it was expressed, to cut their way through to goal. I don't their way through to goal. I don't know whether these threats had in fact been made, but they were con
