

SECOND EDITION

A POPULAR STORY

MRS. McALISTER has reason to be gratified at the popular reception given her story,

CLIPPED WINGS

the first edition of which is already well taken up. These are

SOME OF THE COMPLIMENTS

paid it by the critics:

"Witty and clever."—Toronto Mail and Empire.

"From first to last most fascinating."—Brantford Courier.

"A forceful pen, a very captivating style."—Brantford Expositor.

"Bright, original, witty; decided literary merit."—Galt Reformer.

"One of the best Canadian stories that has been lately published."—Montreal Star.

"A handsome, wholesome, temperance book."—Chicago Christian Endeavour World.

"We commend to our young people this new, bright, strong story by a Canadian lady."—Epicorith Era.

"It is a human story—a natural, wholesome picture of the everyday life of people whom we seem to know. I like it much."—Jean Blewett.

These are a few of the many encomiums paid this most interesting story, which Dr. Withrow declares "a tremendous indictment of the liquor traffic, and sets forth the mission and power of woman to ennoble and bless society."

Paper, 40c.; cloth, 60c., postpaid.

CANADA has taken her place among the nations, and her people should instruct themselves in all the principles which form the basis of good citizenship. Good conduct in the individual means good conduct in the nation. A most useful work for this purpose, just published, is

Canadian Citizenship

By JOHN MILLAR, B.A.,

Deputy Minister of Education for Ontario.

Among the topics treated of are: The government of self, the family, the school; the rights and duties of citizens; the nature and forms of government; patriotism; the government of the Empire, the Dominion and the Provinces; municipal government; educational institutions; the judicial system; taxation; wealth; political parties; and twentieth century problems.

Price, 60 cents, postpaid.

"It explains the things about government that young people want to know, from provincial elections to fiat money and grand jury . . . an excellent book for all young Canadians to study."—Montreal Witness.

"A book which should be in the hands of every voter . . . Most citizens will find their minds stimulated and their information increased."—Canadian Magazine.

"Mr. Millar is rendering important service to Canadian teachers and scholars by his excellent books on educational topics. The present volume is characterized by the same accurate scholarship, practical treatment and grace of style as his former works."—Methodist Magazine and Review.

WE PAY POSTAGE.

WILLIAM BRIGGS,

- Wesley Buildings,

- TORONTO, ONT.

C. W. COATES, Montreal, P.Q.

S. F. HUESTIS, Halifax, N.S.