

a loss of time and money or, in some cases, a loss of key skills and competencies.

Although there is no single recipe for success, the material provided in the video and this booklet should provide you with a basic foundation for considering the alliance option for your business.

