tery Will Be Probed by Police.

Samuel Johnston, 62 Beverley street, who was found-about 8.30 a.m. Sunday in an unconscious condition in the bottom of the excavation for the new Excelsior Life Building at the corner of Adelaide and Toronto streets, died shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday evening in St. Michael's Hospital. The police are investigating the circumstances surrounding the case.

When Johnston came on duty Saturday evening he received $28, his salary for two weeks, and when he was found Sunday morning there was, it is said, only $5 on his person. When he was found it was thought that he must have fallen from some of the scaffolding around the excavation, but the police are endeavoring to find out, if possible, if he met his death thru foul play.

ENGLAND COULD HAVE STOPPED GREAT WAR
