NEW BAPTIST BOARD REPEATS REQUEST

Wishes to Send Representative to Inspect Canadian Training Camps.

PERSONNEL ANNOUNCED

Similar Request From Smaller Body Was Refused Last Year.

Major-General S. C. Mowburn, minister of militia, is being officially asked by the newly organized Baptist Army and Navy Board to authorize a representative Baptist minister to visit the Canadian military training camps and Canadian expeditionary forces at the front in France in the interests of the C.E.P. This was refused last year by the Ottawa authorities on the ground that the other clergymen sent had represented the Dominion of the United Church, while the Baptist application was only made by the interprovincial Baptist union of Ontario and Quebec.

The present application, in addition to being made to a new minister of militia and a new government—this time a union non-partisan administration—is made by a new Dominion Baptist board, which has been officially named the Canadian Baptist Army and Navy Board, is composed of the following provincial unions' representatives:

Ontario and Quebec—Rev. A. N. Marshall, Ottawa (chairman); Rev. Dr. O. S. C. Wallace, Montreal; Rev. A. Murie, Toronto.

Maritime provinces—Rev. C. W. Rose, Amherst; Rev. F. E. Bishop, Dartmouth, and Rev. H. R. Bayer, St. John.

Western Canada—Rev. Dr. H. P. Whitten, Brandon College; Rev. J. A. Huntley, Calgary, and C. R. Sayer, Winnipeg.

Col. C. G. Williams, J. L. Gilmour, Toronto, says respecting the sending of a representative Baptist overseas: "I have had of late a somewhat active correspondence bearing on this matter, and I believe that it is of the greatest importance that we send a man overseas at the earliest possible moment to do for our members what Dr. Chown has done for Methodists. Dr. Neil for the Presbyterians, and Bishop Richardson for the Anglicans."

PRELATE VERY BUSY.

Archbishop of York Puts In Four Hustling Hours.

Four busy hours were spent in Toronto yesterday by the Rev. Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York. Arriving at the Union Station shortly after 9 o'clock, he was met by the Bishop of Toronto, the Archbishop of Alberta, Bishop Reeve, Mayor Church, William Littlejohn, city clerk, and taken immediately to the fee house, where he dined with the bishop of the diocese. Following the dinner, which was not a formal affair, his grace went to Massey Hall. Before the meeting he met a number of prominent Toronto men in one of the ante-rooms, among them being, in addition to those mentioned in the account of the meeting, Rev. W. J. Brain, James Nicholson, Canon Plumtree, Canon Dixon, Canon Macklem, Dr. Cavelier, Canon O'Meara, Canon Marsh, Canon Morley, Canon Allen, R. W. Allan, editor of Canadian Churchman; J. D. Fairbridge, L. A. Hamilton, S. M. Hamilton, A. H. Campbell, N. W. Hoyle, K.C.; Justice Hodgins, A. R. Boswell, K.C.; Dr. T. Millman, H. T. Beck, Clarence Bell, N. F. Davidson, K.C., and Magistrate Kingsford.

Immediately following the meeting he left for Montreal. On Tuesday next he will return, addressing the Canadian Club at noon and the city council at 2.30.

COL. C. G. WILLIAMS TELLS OF NAVY'S WORK

Col. C. G. Williams addressed the Canadian Aviation Aid Club yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A., College street. Mrs. Stewart Strathay presided, and the minutes and correspondence were read by Mrs. T. Peplar, the new secretary, who takes the place of Mrs. George, who has been compelled to retire thru ill-health.

Besides comforts, the club has, during the past month, contributed $100 to the R.F.C. and the same amount to the prisoners of war fund.

There was a good attendance of women and all were thrilled with the address of Col. Williams on "The Navy." He spoke of the enormity of the task of the British navy in its ceaseless patrol of the 140,000 square miles of the North Sea against the second largest navy in the world. Of the million men in the British navy only a small proportion have become casualties.

The colonel's address was not confined strictly to the navy. He spoke of conditions in London during an air raid which occurred while he was there, when scores of women and girls were taken from a building that had been bombed by the Huns, in a condition he described as "bloody rags."

Captain Strathay of the original Princess "Pats" spoke of his experiences at the front, and was liberal in his descriptions of scenes in response to questions asked.

SHOPBREAKING FIRE.

Youths Said to Have Climbed Fire Escape.

Charged with climbing the fire escape, and breaking into Huyler's candy works, 36 Sydenham street, Andrew St. Clair, aged 17, of 457 Sackville street, and Charles Driscoll, 28 Carlaw avenue, of about the same age, were arrested by Detectives Thompson and Elliott last night.

According to the police the two youths climbed the fire escape at the side of the factory and, breaking a window, secured entrance to the building. The youths stole several boxes of chocolates, smashed the employees' lockers in searching for valuables, and carried away the keys of the factory, which they found inside the building.

They were picked up by the detectives on Queen street last night. They will appear in the juvenile court this morning in answer to the charge of shopbreaking.

DEEPEMED FAITH AND GREAT MORAL STRENGTH NEEDED

Advice of Archbishop of York to Packed House at Massey Hall.

MESSAGE FROM BRITAIN

Speaking as Representative of British People on War Matters.

Speaking as the representative of the British people and bringing a message from the oldest part of the old land, Rev. Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York, told over 3000 people who crowded Massey Hall to the doors last night, that this nation must learn to realize as the men in the trenches realize, that only by consecrating its soul as well as its arms to the war can it play the part laid down for it to play.

It was a historic meeting in more ways than one. It was the first occasion on which the Archbishop of York, the third civilian subject of the King, had ever visited Toronto, and it was the first time any one of the long line of York's archbishops had ever spoken to a large Canadian audience. It was the seventeenth meeting addressed by his grace since he landed at New York five weeks ago.

The archbishop stated at the outset of his address that he was not speaking as an ecclesiastic, but as a plain citizen of the old land, speaking to the citizens of Canada at the supreme moment in their common history. He said that the past few days had been crowded with more of horror and terror, and with more deep international significance than any other days during the past four years of war.

"My visit to the United States has been a most memorable experience," he said, "and I have been struck by the fact that anyone who like myself has seen and felt the great and memorable enthusiasm of the American people could never have realized, until now, how like the falls of Niagara, gathering body as it sweeps along and will fall with irresistible force on the common enemy of us all." He stated that the events of the past few days had done more than all else before in waking up the United States people.

Gratitude to Canada.

The great feeling of gratitude of the British people to the Canadians was expressed by the speaker. "You in Canada offered us men before we declared war and before our leaders thought that we had won the war," he said. "He had seen the Canadian army in France, and had stood on Vimy Ridge. 'I wonder how near it is possible for the Canadian army to rise again,' he said. 'How does Vimy Ridge reach into your hearts? Had I not stood on the battlefield of Vimy Ridge I would never have realized what your fellow-countrymen did there for civilization.' After describing the strategic value of the ridge the speaker said: 'I was when I had seen the ridge that I realized that after the best blood of France had been poured into the battle, it was the price of victory for the cause of the allies.'"

The great prelate pleaded for a deeper faith in the cause of the allies. "If we have come to the stage where endurance, and endurance only, will tell, it is plain that there are two things we need: a deeper faith in our cause and such moral strength as has never come into our lives before."

Prominent Man Present.

Massey Hall was filled at 7.15 and thousands were turned away. Women, it seemed, were in the majority in the galleries for while on the platform were gathered about 200 of the leading clergymen of Toronto. When the archbishop entered he was accompanied by the following clergymen: Bishop Reeves, his chaplain, the Rev. J. H. Ironmonger, the Bishop of Algoma, Bishop Roper, the Bishop of Toronto, Archbishop Cody, Archbishop Warren, Archdeacon Ingles, Archdeacon McNeill, of the Roman Catholic Church, Rev. John Neil, moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada, Rev. Dr. Chown, of the Methodist church, J. N. Shenstone, of the Baptist church, Hon. W. D. McPherson, representing the Ontario Government, Mr. Justice Hodgins, Sir Robert Falconer of Toronto University, Mayor Church, Col. Bickford, O.C., of military district No. 2, C. R. Parsons, of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, E. C. Fox, of the Canadian Club, Norman Somerville, of the Empire Club, Sir John Willison, of the London Times, Maurice Hutton, principal of University College, Bishop Bedwell, of Ontario, Bishop Clarge, of Niagara, Bishop Lucas, of McKenzie River, Justice Middleton and N. P. Davidson, K.C.

The Bishop of Algoma occupied the chair and others who gave brief addresses of appreciation were Bishop Reeve, Dr. J. A. Worrill, K.C., and Hon. W. D. McPherson.

TWO BURNED TO DEATH

Children Playing With Matches While Mother is Out Sets House on Fire.

Two children of Pte. William Hoskins, of Struthers street, Mimico, lost their lives yesterday when fire destroyed their little home about noon. The children were Jack, aged three, and Louie, aged four. An older boy, Willie, aged nine, saved his life by his presence of mind.

The children were playing with matches when the fire was ignited. The two younger children ran upstairs in their fright when the flames caught on the furniture, and refused to come downstairs to safety when the older boy called to them. The house, which was a two-story frame structure, was burned to the ground, burying the two tiny bodies in the ashes.

Their father is overseas with the 207th Battalion. Their mother has gone downtown with the eldest child, Capt. R. McLean, of the Mimico Salvation Army, is long after the remaining members of the family and has provided them with shelter. The charred remains of the two children were taken to Norman Craig's undertaking parlors, where the inquest will open today, Coroner Allison presiding.

SIX CINDERELLAS LIVE IN TORONTO

Win Box Seats for Hippodrome Performance From Violet MacMillan.

BY H. M. B.
Altho Violet MacMillan, the beautiful blonde motion picture ingenue, who is to play the part of the Hippodrome this week, is only four feet and a few inches tall and a mere infant to look at, she knows more about the theatre-going public than many I have met twice her size and three times her age.

I found Violet in her dressing room at the Hippodrome, a cosy room, dressed for her act, and if she hadn't been wearing a makeup I should have thought this child in short, airy frocks, Mary Jane shoes, and long golden curls, was the baby sister of the real Miss MacMillan.

Will Never Conflict.

"In spite of the talk of the screen interfering with the high standard of the stage," volunteered the diminutive Universal star, "it's all silly and quite wrong. The two fields are separate. You in the theatre of Shaw and Ibsen will never cease to draw legitimate audiences, who will, however, find greater satisfaction in the theatre-going public than many I have met twice her size and three times her age."

"Which do I prefer?" Violet picked her rose lips, rolled her big blue eyes, then dimpled mischievously and replied with one of those mischievous smiles which "screen" so loves.

"It's awfully hard to say. I 'spose it's about six of one and half a dozen of the other, and I like to be home in Grand Rapids with my mother and dad best of all."

"You see," continued the wee philosopher, "that's why I'm doing this. I want to be home with my friends and the silent drama. Why, I have letters from people all over the world and here in Canada whom I have never met, and now we're getting acquainted. And I'm having heaps of fun, especially here in Toronto. Why, just think, you have six Cinderellas here and in Montreal there were only two."

Six Cinderellas. Oh! yes; that needs explaining. Violet has been dancing the maidens of the Queen City to wear out these weeks. They are size twelve and a half (children's), and anyone who can put this doll's slipper on is presented with box seats at the Hippodrome. Miss MacMillan's delight at Toronto's showing was genuine.

You know everybody has been so nice to me, I'm really glad this city has won the greatest number of the contest."

VIMY HERO MEMORIAL.

Next Sunday a memorial to Lieut. W. H. Gregory, son of Robert Gregory, inspector of the morality department, city hall, will be unveiled in All Saints' Church. Lieut. Gregory was killed leading his men in the charge in the battle of Vimy Ridge. Lieut. Gregory was well known in Toronto, being associated with many movements.

STANDARDIZING CLOTHES.
British Government Controls Wool Supply of the Empire.

Great Britain has purchased the entire wool production of New Zealand and intends to distribute it equitably. In other markets also Great Britain holds the trump card, according to Frank Score, of R. Score & Sons, Ltd., King street, who has been making a special study of the wool situation. "Prices have reached the limit," says Mr. Score. "When they do fall the British Government will let them down gradually so as not to cause a panic."

Since the beginning of the war woollens have advanced about 250 per cent., said Mr. Score. The British Government has taken over all the wool exports of the country, and has been shipping wool to Canada under license for the first time in history. They are practically uniforming the people of England by standardizing clothes, to be sold at standard prices. Oxford and Cambridge greys are the colors chosen. Overcoatings and blue serge are the hardest woollens to obtain, said Mr. Score.

NOTHING ELSE LIKE IT.
There has not been any motion picture production that can quite be compared to "Lost We Forget," which is showing at the Regent, all next week. Everybody who has seen it says that it is the case. They say too, that it explains and makes public a number of things which are not generally known about the German Empire. Further, it is a drama of a thrilling type.
