SWEPT OVER DAM TO DEATH

George Jupp of Bellwood Caught By the Intake in the Grand River.

FATAL KICKS FROM CHESLEY HORSES

Widow Commits Suicide With a Razor Rather Than Undergo a Second Surgical Operation.

Guelph, July 30.—George Jupp of Bellwood was drowned last night in the Grand River at Blyth, and his body swept over Richardson's dam. He went swimming with his brother, Alfred Jupp, J. H. Williams of Guelph, and Alfred Macdonald of Bellwood, the river running high and the amount of water going over the dam being equal to a spring freshet. The men swam up to the fall and were caught by the intake of water, Jupp being unable to sustain himself against the current. Williams and Alfred Jupp swam over to him, the former reaching him, but the two men locked arms and were being carried over the fall. Williams, noting head downwards to the gravel ridge, where he was pulled out unconscious, and was only resuscitated after half an hour's efforts. Jupp's body went over the fall and was not recovered until 6 o'clock this morning. Deceased was about 30 years of age.

TWO IN ONE VILLAGE

Chesley, July 30.—Yesterday afternoon, Thomas Bagg, a farmer, near Chesley, was killed by a horse in one barn, and died from his injuries in half an hour. Another similar case occurred in this village about 8 o'clock last night. A farmer named George Patterson, near Chesley, was killed by a horse belonging to a Mr. Acton, and died this morning.

TOOK LIFE WITH RAZOR

Guelph, July 30.—A general gloom has been cast over the community in and around the village of Wainfleet by one of the most sorrowful occurrences that ever happened in the neighborhood. About 4 p.m. on Saturday Mrs. James Pirie committed suicide by cutting her throat with a razor in the root cellar of her barn. The deceased had undergone an operation some time ago at the Guelph Hospital, and her condition was such as to necessitate another operation before she died in the immediate future. This had such a depressing effect upon the mind of Mrs. Pirie as to render her despondent.

SUICIDE AT INGERSOLL

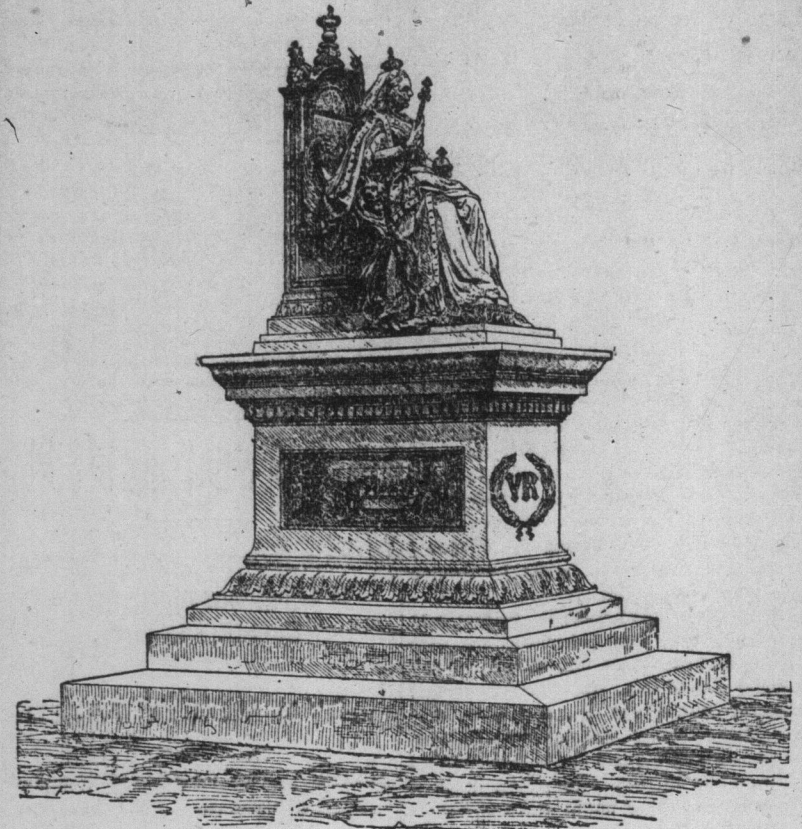

Ingersoll, July 30.—On Saturday night last Mrs. Johnston, a widow, threw herself into the mill pond and was drowned. Her body was found Sunday morning. Mental depression, induced by illness, was the cause.

ONTARIO STATUE OF THE QUEEN WILL BE THE FINEST IN CANADA

Is Nine Feet High and a Replica of the Jubilee Structure Erected in Hong Kong in 1897—Altogether a Work of Art.

The statue of Queen Victoria, which will be erected in the Queen's Park, will be the finest in Canada, according to D. J. McInosh of the McIntosh Granite Company, who went to England at the request of the Ontario government to choose a model. After seeing various statues of the Queen in several cities of England and Scotland, he selected the model by Maggi, the celebrated Italian sculptor, as the most perfect in workmanship and design of the many he had seen.

HAMILTON NEWS

BODY OF FRANK MARSH IS FOUND YOUNG MAN MISSING FOR A WEEK

Work on the New Third Water Main Must Go On—Order Asked to Commit John Calder for Alleged Contempt of Court.

Hamilton, July 30.—(Special.)—The first case brought under the new criminal code regarding marital relations will come up at the Police Court to-morrow. This evening, acting on a warrant, Detective James Cooper and Campbell arrested Mrs. Lizette Dow on a charge of living and cohabiting with William Ray, 150 North Bay street. The charge was laid by Mrs. Lizette Ray.

FOUND

Police Constable Hazel this morning found the body of a young man, presumably Frank Marsh, in the coat pocket was found a post card written from Hartford and addressed to "Frank Marsh, 183 Mary street north, Hamilton." The local police enquired at that address and found from a young man, named Frank Marsh, that he had not seen his brother for a week, when he left without saying where he was going. He was a member of the 4th Field Battery and went with it to Deseronto for the annual camp. While there he suffered from malaria and his mind was more or less affected since then. He was about 24 years old.

FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

George C. Thomson, on behalf of the creditors of John Calder & Co., now before Judge Salder this morning for an order to commit John Calder to jail for contempt of court for not attending for examination prior to an insolvent proceeding. Calder's business prior to the assignment, H. Carswell, K.C., opposed the motion, and produced a medical certificate showing that an examination at that time might have been attended by fatal results. He asked for a three months' adjournment.

SOME INDUSTRIAL WARS

Garment Workers, Packers and Natters Longshoremen Dissatisfied.

New York, July 29.—It was said today at the headquarters of the striking garment workers and tailors that no definite day could be set for the men to return to work. At least 15,000 would have gone back this morning, but the action of the contractors' association, in making demands upon the manufacturers, blocked the program. Until contractors and manufacturers reach an agreement, a big majority of the strikers will have to remain idle.

PACKERS AND NATTERS

Manchester, July 29.—At an afternoon meeting of the representatives of the packers' and natters' union and the four millers, the latter, while granting the advance in wages asked, absolutely declined to sign a contract for a year or any other period. The union representatives withdrew to consider the situation.

NO NON-UNION IRE

Weybridge, July 29.—The entire force at the Percett Boiler Works walked out today, rather than work non-union from the Weybridge mill. It is the first local complication in the strike. Thirty men quit work. The foreman said they could contain no other sheets, so the works closed down.

MINEERS GO OUT

Logan, Ohio, July 29.—Over 500 miners continue for exhibition. About 20,000 men were on the grounds.

Says the Death Rate in Protection Camps Will Mean Extinction of the Race. THE HORRORS ARE APPALLING

Raising Funds to "Alleviate" the Distress Among Women and Children.

Chicago, July 30.—Rev. Herman D. Van Bruckhuysen, a Boer clergyman, who has just arrived in Chicago to raise money to alleviate the sufferings of his countrymen, who are confined in the concentration camps in South Africa, describes the horrors of the camps as appalling. He says that women and children are dying at a rate that would mean the extermination of the Boer race in nine years. The people are cramped up in unsanitary quarters, where they are unable to secure sufficient food or clothing, with disease making terrible ravages among them.

Protection camps' is the official name for these horrible places of misery and death. They are protection camps because they furnish the British with their strongest weapon of defence against the Boers. By keeping helplessness Boer women and children at Johannesburg, Potchefstroom, Kromstad, Bloemfontein and other places, the English are sure that the food supplies of those places will not be cut off. Every Boer knows that if he tears up the railroad and isolates one of the garisons it will be his own people who will suffer. It is my belief that if the British should remove those Boer women and children they would find the country attitude responsible for their care, and the English would be able to disturb their report of the Boer people, that it would be impossible to feed the British army.

The pedagogue will be nine feet high, with a base thirteen feet long by ten feet wide. It will be built of Canadian grey granite, in nine pieces, the base weighing sixteen tons. The whole will be set on a bottom of seven feet of concrete, and the total weight of the pedestal will be something like thirty tons. The architect is Greek, with the carving in the Italian Renaissance. Two bronze panels, one on each side, will represent scenes in the life of the Queen in his belief. On one side will be a representation of the Queen's first council, held in Kensington Palace in 1857; the other will represent the Thangskate service in West Africa in 1887 or the Thangskate service in front of St. Paul's Cathedral in 1857, probably the more well known. Work on the pedestal is now well advanced. The design will be completed before the Duke's visit.

Vote to Strike Fails to Receive Two-Thirds Majority of The Union.

As shown before her late Majesty the Queen Under the royal and distinguished patronage of E. R. H. the Duke of Cornwall, Canada and the Lords of the Admiralty.

MONDAY, AUGUST 5TH, AND WEEK.

There will be no strike of the painters and decorators. This was decided upon at the special general meeting of the union, held last night in Richmond Hall, at which the situation was fully discussed. The meeting was called for the purpose of considering the case of the 12 painters of James Casey's shop, who went out on strike several weeks ago, because he refused to pay some men union wages. After the strike, the painters claim that they were blacklisted by the Master Painters and Decorators. They reported their case to the union, who in turn notified the Executive Board of the International Brotherhood of Painters.

After Gompers Investigates.

The firm of Northey & Co. state that so far as their factory is concerned, there is no strike. A number of the men have returned to work, and the other places have not been filled. Mr. Morrison of the American Federation of Labor reports that 30 of the 40 places vacant in his shop have been filled. Mr. Morrison says he will advise the union, in the other shops, the brass moulder, brass finisher, core makers and pattern makers as well.

Small Fire on Elm-street.

Trifling damage was done by a small fire which occurred early this morning in a vacant building in the rear of 108 Elm street. The place is only been vacated yesterday. The cause of the fire is unknown.
