

❖ Trotting Great Grand Circuit Outlook

JOHN McGRAW WILL WAGE WAR ON THE NATIONAL PLAYER LIMIT

Will Centre Hit Fire on Low Roster Limit of Older League at Annual Meeting—A Big Handicap in World's Series.

[illegible][illegible]

Since I took hold of the New York team, I have my own opinion of the way I will be treated by them. One indication of mine is that young players believe I can do more good by keeping youngsters under my personal observation than by sending them to the minor leagues. I am not concerned that anybody else will think I am wrong. I have said to "you fellows," I'm all right, "all right" is a good word, but I'm not copping myself. I'm out to beat the 21st century.

the bench for four seasons. You slammed me for not turning him out in the minor league pastures. Well, I was the only one of my experience who needed nursing. It would have ruined him to send him down. I had faith in him. I was willing to spend years in cultivating him as I thought best for him. I have real sweatpaul for my pains.

Manager Moran has notified his players that all four Penn State players must report to him for spring training. It will be a shorter training trip than ever before. "Probably the camp will start in the middle of March and last through the end of March. Wint exhibitions we play will be limited to one or two. We won't be expected to break the trip north. It is pronounced that the Eagles will reach home on the evening of the opening of the season."

Sir A. Beck Second
Major Kilgour Sixth
Horse Show Winners

William H. Moore led the list of winning owners at the recent National Horse Show with $4110 to his credit, as compared with $2950 in 1915. Cups worth $1500 helped to make up his total this year. "Duke's" victory was a surprise, coming from the Rochester team in the International League, the general feeling was that he would not find the National League pitchers very easy picking. It was admitted that Hoelke's fielding would satisfy. It was also believed that he the in the heavy harness classes. Sir Adam Beck of London, Ont., was second on the list of winning owners, with $1175 in money and $950 in plate, all of which he won in the hunter and jumping classes.

James Cox Brady's Hamilton Farm horses and ponies, over fifteen and $200 in plate. McBrady had entries in the classes for hackneys, hunters, harness horses and ponies.

Considering the fact that he exhibited only three horses, Edward T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia was the most successful exhibitor in this year's show, his trotters having won every light harness class on

Miss Constance Vaulain of the Philadelphia contingent captured money prizes aggregating $995 and plate valued at $250, but her chief achievement was the winning of the championship for heavy harness horses not exceeding 15.2 hands, with Princess Sheila in competition with Major Kilgour of Toronto won $900 in money and $250 in plate with his string of Canadian hunters from Sunnybrook farm.

Charles D. Lanier, with only two hunters entered, won $950 in money.

Charles E. Bunn of Peoria, Ill., won

A. W. Atkinson of Camden, N.J., won $70 in money and $150 in plate with harness and saddle horses.

Major William Mitchell of the United States army won $510 in military, jumping and thorobred classes.

That pitchers cannot and therefore are not expected to hit the ball is readily proven by a glance at the 1916 National League averages. Of the last 42 men in the standing 34 of them are pitchers, while the other eight are mostly recruits who have been found wanting. The best swat 460 in money and $100 in plate. The average in the bunch is .128, while the lowest is .075.

WELL!
TALK ABOUT

MAY AS WELL
GO TO A REAL JOINT

YOUR HIGH-COST-OF-LIVING

QUICK LUNCH TO DAY 50¢

AND GET A REGULAR PICAL

AH - - - - -

I - - - - - I'LL GO GET

FREE

10

Home Amusement

Dad and the whole family—Cards, Billiards, Bowling; just the same as on the green. Scientific and instructive pastime.

Set of 4 Bowls and Jacks.....$4.00
 Set of 2 Bowls.....$2.00

With complete rules of game.
SAMUEL MAY & CO.,
 102-104 Adelaide Street West, Toronto.
 Originators and sole manufacturers.
 Special discount to agents

HOF BRAU

Liquid Extract of Malt
 The most invigorating preparation of the kind ever introduced to help and sustain the invalid or the athlete.

W. H. LEE, Chemist, Toronto,
Canadian Agent.
MANUFACTURED BY
e Rheinhardt Salvador Brewer
Lmited, Toronto

Sporting Notices

Notices of any character relating to future events, where an admis-

Announcements for clubs or other organizations of future events, where no admission fee is charged, may be inserted in this column at two cents a word, with a minimum of fifty cents for each insertion.

ARPENTIER TELLS OF

THRILLING ADVENTURE

er Flew Over German Line
at Height of Only Two Hundred Yards.

George Carpentier, the heavyweigh

Paris on leave from war service, he writes for a London newspaper a little of his experiences and his prospects. He looks forward to re-entering the ring and is convinced that it won't be long before he is free to put on his gloves for fighting of a different sort.

many months past. Expressing his confidence, he says:
Will I be glad to get out of this hell a thousand times yes, but not before I have seen to it that the gates I have been shut so tight that they will never be flung open again.
World of Horror

I shall always remember that when I caught your Bombardier Wells, the silent Belgian people screamed that bomb was cruel and ghastly and must be more. Then they did not know. The meanish Belgian can never be again. The Belgians have lived too long in a world of horror."

have seen sixteen months on the front line as a pilot. Much have I seen, have had fights high in the clouds. I have been wounded. I have received the Croix (Croix de Guerre), and I have been recommended for and shall receive the Legion of Honor.

'I have been lucky, immensely so. I have been in many tight corners. I hope to be that some of the charms given me when I left London instead of hitting Young Ahearn have brought me good fortune.

'But I would tell what the "Order of the Day," which is what you would for "Gazette," says about what I did. I was awarded the Medaille Militaire. It is that I was over the German lines at a place only 200 yards and that when I returned to our lines my biplane was found to have received no fewer than fifteen bullets.

ancing your arm, shall I say, you have a sense of danger. I never in all my life thought or even dreamed of being eaten. I always believed in myself. I am now with my machine. It is no more human. You feel that it knows you and that it is part of yourself; you come to love it. It is terrible and, like in the at big flight, in which I can now witness. I have I was hugging and wrestling with death all the time, I did not once quail with fear. I was, of course, conscious that I was being potted at all the time.

Fifteen Bullet Marks.

"To fly as low as I did was risky."

be done if I were to be of service to artillery seemed to fill me with a sense of security. It was only when I went back into our lines and saw the first bullet marks and the holes that had been riddled in my machine that I realized that I was as near being knocked out

These days my duties, tho often exciting and dangerous, do not consist in fighting enemy aeroplanes. Indeed, my orders are even to avoid engaging them. I have been compelled to do so on several occasions, and under a heavy handicap because of my machine not being

"It is my business to assist in the direction of our artillery fire by means of wireless message and signaling. I like my work ever so much, for it assures me that I shall always have my wits about me. I am very like the boxer who, the he is planning by ever so many points, has a

the army I have found much love able to believe that I am in some great game—a fierce, murderous game,
true, but a game, nevertheless."

