

RUSSIA WILL KEEP FIGHTING TO END

Will Co-operate in War With United States to Secure Liberty.

WELCOME TO ROOT

Powerful Speech of American Delegate Enthralled Petrograd Ministers.

Petrograd, June 15, via London, June 17.—"The Russian people consider war inevitable, and will continue it. The Russians have no imperialistic wishes. We know that you have none. We shall fight together to secure liberty, freedom and happiness for all the world. I am happy to say that I do not see any moral idea or factor between America and Russia to divide us. We two peoples—Russia, fighting tyranny, and America, standing as the oldest democracy—hand-in-hand will show the way of happiness to nations great and small."

These ringing words, expressing the attitude of the Russian Government toward America and the American mission headed by Elihu Root, were voiced tonight by M. Tereschenko, minister of foreign affairs, responding for the council of ministers to Mr. Root's address of sympathy and good-will on the part of the American Government.

The American ambassador, David R. Francis, presented the Root mission to the ministers at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, explaining that the members of the mission had come to Russia to discover how America can best co-operate with its ally in forwarding the fight against the common enemy. The presentation was very formal, only a few Russian officials and the members of the American Embassy, including M. Kerensky, the youthful minister of war, just back from the front, wore the khaki blouse of a common soldier.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Phillip Richards Stuffed up all Possible Air Vents and Turned on Gas.

With every crevice in his room blocked with paper, even to the keyhole, and the fumes of gas heavy in the room, Phillip Richards, 117 Ossington avenue, was found dead in bed yesterday morning by the proprietor of the house. When Richards failed to come downstairs at breakfast time, a search was made, and the strong smell of the gas leading the searchers to the room. The landlord found the tap of the gas full on, and Richards lying on the bed. According to the police, Richards, who was single, had been despondent for some time. He was about 50 years of age. The body was removed to the morgue, where it is probable an inquest will be held.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

While making another air raid over England yesterday the Germans lost one of the two zeppelins engaged in the expedition. It was engaged and destroyed by a British pilot. The other zeppelin apparently made its escape. The airships dropped many bombs before their raid ended. One coastal town suffered heavy damage from the projectiles. Two persons were killed and 15 persons wounded by the raiders, according to an early report. The destruction of one of the raiders makes the expedition a fiasco. The chief value of these expeditions, in the eyes of the Germans, is that they dispense frightfulness in liberal doses, but in this raid the zeppelins encountered another kind of frightfulness, that proved the undoing of one of them.

The British official bulletins from France yesterday and Saturday had records of successful air fighting, including the destruction of 13 German machines, as their main characteristic. The British also made further progress on the battlefront south of Ypres. The renewed intensity of the aerial fighting marks further preparations for the offensive. Many persons are inclined to believe that Field Marshal Haig plans his next blow against the La Bassee-Armentieres salient, perhaps, in conjunction with a Canadian attack from the southwest in a movement to get behind Lens, so as to turn the town. East of Armentieres lies another great French coal bed, which the allies would find useful to capture, or at least to make untenable for the enemy. The Belgian sector has also become extremely lively, as if foreshadowing an advance up the coastal region to seize the line of the Scheidt.

Stewart Lyon, who has just paid a visit to the battlefront south of Ypres, says that the Canadian infantry had no part in the advance. Canadian engineers, road-builders and railway construction men did a great deal of the work behind the front and they are continuing their task of running light railways and roads to the battlefront. Canadian doctors and nurses handled three-quarters of the wounded from the battle of Messines in their hospitals.

The Russian duma, at a secret session, ordered an immediate offensive by the Russian armies. This is necessary, the order declares, in order to assist the allies. The promptness in the execution of the Russian plan in the progress made in the reorganization of the Russian armies. Sir William Robertson said the other day that about 24,000,000 men of all belligerents were under arms. Since the British and the French have about 6,000,000 soldiers, the Italians 3,000,000, the Germans 6,000,000 and the German allies 2,000,000, the Russians must give, with the Rumanians, about 7,000,000 men under arms. This estimate gives the allies 19,000,000 men in the field. If Russia advances against Germany and Austria with her seven millions she should make a tremendous impression on the eastern front, because it is twice as long as the western front, and it therefore permits of more surprise concentrations than the west.

Portuguese troops in the west have engaged the enemy in minor actions during the past month. As both the British and Belgian official communications note the work of these new troops it may be inferred that they are established between the British and the Belgian armies. They have probably taken over a section of the front in Belgium from the French. These French had performed the duty of liaison troops for thirty months.

Capt. Charles Bathurst, parliamentary secretary to the food control department of the British Government, in a speech on Saturday night asserted that the submarine activity had not diminished and that the total destruction of ships for June would probably exceed that for May. He said that the enemy was concentrating his efforts against the large ships. The reason for this declaration is the incitement of the people to food economy and food production. The explanation for so many diverse statements, some sanguine, others the reverse, is that it is necessary to keep the British people in a mood of self-dependence at home and at the same time give the enemy no undue encouragement from his piracy to hearken his troops and to continue his resistance in the hope of winning the war with his submarines.

THOMPSON NOMINATED FOR S. WENTWORTH

Liberals Bring Out Candidate for Next Dominion Election, at Saturday's Meeting.

Hamilton, Monday, June 18.—That it was impossible that there would be any further extension of parliament, as all the provinces, with the exception of Prince Edward Island, Saskatchewan and Ontario, were strongly opposed to the idea, was the statement made by W. C. Rean at the annual conference of the Liberals of South Wentworth in the Sun Life building Saturday afternoon. The meeting was enthusiastic, and a feature of it was the number of women present, it being the first occasion upon which they had been permitted to take part in the choosing of a candidate.

Dr. A. B. Thompson, defeated candidate in South Wentworth at the last provincial election, was nominated to carry the standard of Liberalism in the coming fight. Others who were nominated, but declined, were Col. H. P. Van Wagner, Stony Creek; J. H. Dickinson, reeve of the Township of Ganfand, and nominee for the Dominion house; J. E. Calder, Ancaster, and Percy Crton Van Siclie, Ancaster.

Hugh Bertram, president of the South Wentworth Association, presided and was elected. The other officers elected were: Mrs. J. H. McNelly of Stony Creek, vice-president; C. E. Reinke of Ancaster, secretary; Mrs. Cecil Fettes of Fruitland, assistant secretary, and George Gorman of Stony Creek, treasurer.

Addresses were also made by Thomas Marshall, M.L.A. for the riding, and Mrs. Margaret Hyslop, field secretary for the Women's Liberal Association, and others. In brief, the speakers urged the electors to get behind the candidature of W. C. Rean, and to support him and subscribing to the campaign fund, which would need to be in the neighborhood of $600 for the South Wentworth riding.

"Let your Liberalism cost you something, and we will not lose out," said Mr. Rean, Liberal organizer.

WILLISON RESIGNS FROM DAILY NEWS

PAPER TO CONTINUE

New Editor-in-Chief Says Its Policy Will Remain Unchanged.

The resignation of Sir John Willison, editor and publisher of The Toronto Daily News, was announced on Saturday. Beyond the fact that he will sever his connection with the paper immediately, Sir John declined to make any statement to a reporter for The World regarding his future activities.

Frank Smith of The News gave out the following statement last night: "Sir John Willison has resigned the editorship of The Daily News, and I intend to devote more of his attention to The London Times."

SIR JOHN WILLISON

of which he is the Canadian correspondent. F. D. L. Smith, for many years editorial writer with Sir John Willison, has been appointed editor-in-chief. C. W. McDiarmid, heretofore advertising manager, is his general manager. Under his new management The Daily News will continue to advocate those policies to which it has been long committed and to promote the public interest to the best of its ability.

Sir John Willison is one of the best-known journalists in Canada. He was born in Huron County in 1856 and entered commercial life. He commenced his newspaper career in 1882, joining the staff of the London Advertiser in the following year to edit the Globe. He became editor-in-chief of that paper in 1890, a position he retained for the next twelve years, leaving The Globe to take a similar position on The News. Sir John Willison has written extensively, some of his publications being "The Railway Question in Canada," "Lessons from the Old World," and "Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal Party."

Sir John Willison, and as editor of The Globe was one of the foremost figures in connection with that party. When he joined The News he changed his political affiliations and, as editor of that paper, has become one of the leaders of the Conservative party in Canada. He is a clever writer, a forceful speaker and an unusual well-informed journalist.

horts Russians to "rally round the banner of revolution and increase the energy of the military power for the defence of freedom."

The proclamation cites the receipt of a wireless telegram from Prince Leopold of Bavaria to the commander of the Germans on the Russian front, asserting that the governments of the central powers are ready to conclude peace with Russia, and asking Russia to send delegates to confer with them.

"I am convinced that the stomach regulates the condition of the blood and is the fountain of health or disease as the case may be. As I have repeatedly stated in the past, my medicine is intended primarily for the regulation of the stomach and the correction of catarrhal inflammation, but it is no uncommon thing for persons who have used the Tanlac treatment to come to me and explain that it has relieved them of rheumatism, kidney and liver disorders and many ailments not generally recognized as having their origin in stomach and intestinal trouble."

"The announcement that this famous medicine has been placed on sale in this city has created widespread interest, and it is a foregone conclusion that hundreds of Toronto people will call at the local agencies within the next few days to obtain it. Tanlac is now sold in Toronto by Tamblin's drug stores."

"Right living and right thinking are the most important factors for health and for the restoration of individual health and vigor. Don't try to live on Tanlac or any other medicine. Whosoever eats, exercises, recreates, cheerfulness, food, exercise, recreation, cheerfulness, and things for you to use every day, and will notice that I didn't put alcohol or tobacco on the list. Stimulants and narcotics are seldom necessary. The people who make and sell Tanlac are treated in each and every sufferer in this country. We want you to get over your troubles and to be well and strong again. We don't want to abuse the Tanlac treatment to fall in a single instance, and we do not believe it will where suffering of any kind results directly or indirectly from disordered stomach, catarrhal condition of the mucous membranes or liver and kidney derangements."

Dental Women's Auxiliary Holds Session's Final Meeting

The women's auxiliary of the C. A. D. C. Military District No. 2, held its last meeting of the season on Friday afternoon, June 16, in the Royal College of Dental Surgeons. All the officers of the last season were re-elected. The president, Mrs. A. E. Weuster, in her address, outlined the admirable work done by the auxiliary in its brief existence. During this short period the goodly sum of $172.50 has been raised by entertainments and the generous gifts of friends of the Dental Corps. This money has been devoted to various good purposes. One of the most interesting of the auxiliary's undertakings is the furnishing of a recreation tent for the N. C. O.'s at Camp Borden and following the inauguration and following the inauguration of the tent, the auxiliary is progressing satisfactorily. They are also helping to improve the equipment in the various districts in the district. It may be interesting to many Canadians to know that the clinic at Camp Borden is the largest and best equipped army dental clinic in the world today. A liberal sum has been set apart for the comfort of the corps overseas. All the women have recognized the vital importance of the work undertaken by the auxiliary, and have realized that it is to do all efficiently, for nothing can be too good or too well done for the men of the profession who are sacrificing so much in this great war.

SWEDEN HIT ZEPPELIN.

Copenhagen, via London, June 17.—A zeppelin was observed about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon outside the harbor of Cimbriaburg, Sweden. A violent cannonade was directed against the dirigible, which withdrew in a damaged condition.

THOUSANDS ACCEPT COOPER'S THEORIES

Right Living and Right Thinking Are Most Important Factors to Health, Declares Celebrated Authority. Wholesome Food, Recreation, Exercise and Fresh Air Also Necessary.

The United States has produced many philosophers and teachers and has been electrified by many orators of world renown, but never in the history of this country have teachings taken such deep root and spread among all classes so rapidly as have the philosophy and theories of health and right living propounded by L. T. Cooper, the noted lecturer and millionaire manufacturer of Tanlac.

From an attitude of disbelief and criticism, leaders of thought and action have been brought to investigate the spreading phenomena of the growing popularity of this man's philosophy and hundreds of the skeptics have followed the thousands upon thousands of the masses of the people in becoming not only devout believers in his teachings, but practitioners as well.

Hundreds of thousands are now taking Tanlac, but the most convincing proof of the correctness of his theories is the testimony of the vast number of well-known men and women from all parts of the country whom he has actually benefited. It is not unlikely that Mr. Cooper may decide to visit Toronto at an early date. He is now at his home in Dayton, O., and in the event that he should decide to include this city in his itinerary, it is hoped he can be induced to deliver at least one lecture while here and give the people of this city the same benefits of his study and medicine that he has given the people of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Cincinnati, Atlanta, and other leading cities of the country.

Mr. Cooper is a man of rare talent, magnetic force and charm of manner. He never ceases to surprise you with the infinite variety of his knowledge and his absolute correctness and thoroughness.

The following is an extract from one of Mr. Cooper's recent lectures on health and hygiene.

"Don't expect to get over physical disease by taking my medicine and waiting a few days. It takes a long time to get the stomach and other vital organs to produce an invalid; and even with the aid of medicine, time is necessary to rebuild and the entire system put in working order—and kept that way by food and habits that render health possible."

"Right living and right thinking are the most important factors for health and for the restoration of individual health and vigor. Don't try to live on Tanlac or any other medicine. Whosoever eats, exercises, recreates, cheerfulness, food, exercise, recreation, cheerfulness, and things for you to use every day, and will notice that I didn't put alcohol or tobacco on the list. Stimulants and narcotics are seldom necessary. The people who make and sell Tanlac are treated in each and every sufferer in this country. We want you to get over your troubles and to be well and strong again. We don't want to abuse the Tanlac treatment to fall in a single instance, and we do not believe it will where suffering of any kind results directly or indirectly from disordered stomach, catarrhal condition of the mucous membranes or liver and kidney derangements."

Co-operation of the Patient Necessary.

"But we do say, here and now, that the faithful co-operation of the patient is absolutely necessary. Use your head and restrain your desires. Don't overload the stomach just because the medicine is beginning to do you good and then expect Tanlac to keep you progressing toward health. If you have been on liquid diet, do not expect the first dose of Tanlac to digest solid food. Remember this, right now and forever, no medicine in the world can continue to save you from the consequences of improper living. Attention to the diet and keeping the bowels open is a matter of first importance.

"Remember that Tanlac is composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to science. It is entirely vegetable and contains no ingredients to produce violent or sudden effects. Medicines that do bring immediate relief invariably have an injurious reaction that is dangerous to the system."

"Tanlac is none the less powerful in its final results. It builds, strengthens and tones the system as fast as nature can correct conditions, and it causes new tissue to grow. Any so-called cure that works quicker than this will do more harm than good. They poison and weaken for all time. You must be satisfied to assist nature and await her slow but inevitable action if you would regain your health. Trying to force nature is disastrous."

On one occasion Mr. Cooper was asked whether or not Tanlac would relieve rheumatism, catarrh, liver and kidney troubles and a dozen other ailments, and in this connection said:

"I am convinced that the stomach regulates the condition of the blood and is the fountain of health or disease as the case may be. As I have repeatedly stated in the past, my medicine is intended primarily for the regulation of the stomach and the correction of catarrhal inflammation, but it is no uncommon thing for persons who have used the Tanlac treatment to come to me and explain that it has relieved them of rheumatism, kidney and liver disorders and many ailments not generally recognized as having their origin in stomach and intestinal trouble."

The announcement that this famous medicine has been placed on sale in this city has created widespread interest, and it is a foregone conclusion that hundreds of Toronto people will call at the local agencies within the next few days to obtain it. Tanlac is now sold in Toronto by Tamblin's drug stores."

Sweet Harbinger of Peace Answers Call of Soloist

While the choir of Victoria Presbyterian Church, at their service last night, were singing the anthem, "O for a Closer Walk With God," and just as the soloist sang the words, "Return O Holy Dove, return sweet messenger of Peace," a white pigeon flew in the window of the church and perched upon the fanlight during the remainder of the anthem, after which it gracefully circled around, and out of the window, leaving behind a startled congregation, wondering if they had received a message of peace in answer to the request of the soloist.
