GOOD SUITS $18

A customer recently told us that when we recommended a suit as "good" he regarded it as a high endorsement—higher than the superlatives in which so many freely indulge.

We believe most of our customers have greater confidence in us because of our conservatism in praising our offerings. And most of them realize that suits which term "good" are sure to prove satisfactory.

In this particular case we sincerely believe that the values are better than we have been able to offer previously. In our $18 line we offer several distinctive styles, which are especially pleasing to young men, as well as models suited to men of more mature years and more sober taste.

Fabrics, patterns, cut and tailorings are fully up to the usual 20th Century Standard. Could a higher recommendation be desired?

A still alarm was sent to No. 2 fire station at 9:20 o'clock last night for a chimney fire in Elmwood street. The chemical and No. 2 hose carts responded.

Irey Allan, for whom a letter was received on Saturday last by the chief of police received it yesterday, and was very thankful to the papers for giving him notice.

American schooner Loti D. Russell, Captain James, put into this port this morning for a harbor on her way from Hillsboro (N. B.), to New York with plaster rock.

Norwegian steamship Urania, Captain Jensen, which left this port on Saturday night for Malaga, Spain, took away 1,841, 138 feet of spruce deal, and 1,081 bundles of heads and staves.

The United States barkentine Ethel Y. Boynton, Captain Sanderson, from Halifax, N. B., for Chester (Pa.), with plaster rock, sprung a leak and was towed to an anchorage off Bird Island flats last Friday. In the Bay of Fundy, the barkentine was buffeted by gales, and a leak developed. Pumps were started, and kept the vessel afloat until she reached Rockland (Me.).

Thomas Evans, who escaped from the Brussels street lock-up, on Saturday, is still at large, and is said to have left. The police are keeping a sharp lookout for him, however. He was arrested on Saturday by policeman Nelson, charged with being drunk. He was in but a few hours, however, for he managed to beat the bars over the door of his cell, creep to the corridor and climb through a window.

Another body from the steamer Hestia was found this morning on the beach at Bullerwell's Cove, Chegoggin Point. There was no clothing on the body except a tan boot on one foot and a leather strap about the waist. The head was badly disfigured and it could not be identified. The body was that of a full faced man, quite stoutly built, 5 feet 7 inches in height. It was carefully prepared by Undertaker Sweeney, and will be buried tomorrow at 10 o'clock beside those of the other seamen.—Yar-mouth Telegram, Nov. 12.

Residents living in the vicinity of Gilbert's Lane and the east end of Wright street are complaining about the condition of the sidewalk in Gilbert's Lane from the dye works to the railway tracks. It is stated that the plank walk was removed about seven years ago with the understanding that an asphalt walk would be laid, but up to the present time the promised sidewalk has not materialized. Citizens who pass along the street there say that pools of water and mud have to be waded through almost continually and they think the civic authorities should take some action.

Leo Comeau, a Frenchman, told the court that he had come from Yarmouth and, having met some of his friends in a fishing packet in the harbor front, on Saturday had celebrated a little. They produced a jug of whiskey, and the result was that he was fined $2.

James Shaw and Jane Odell were fined $8 for similar offences. Bertie Artiss was fined $4 on a charge of being drunk near the I. C. R. station on Saturday. I. C. R. Policeman John Collins, who made the arrest, said that the prisoner had a narrow escape from death as he was lying helpless on the railroad track with a shunting freight train approaching. It was fortunate for him that he was arrested or he might not now be able to return to his home at Fredericton Junction.

Scott E. Morrell was granted a further postponement in the case of Alfred Monague of Halifax, who was reported for doing business in the city without a license. The case will come up on Thursday, but Mr. Morrell will interview the mayor in the matter in the meantime.

WEDDING DRESS ONE OF ARTICLES STOLEN

Martha Mountain, in Court Today, Brings Mysterious Mrs. Smith into Case

In the police court this morning, Martha Mountain, a 15-year-old girl, rather attractive in appearance, faced Judge Ritchie on a charge of stealing a number of valuable articles from the home of A. C. L. Tapley, Douglas avenue. She was remanded.

She told His Honor that her parents were living in Amherst, and that she had left her home there without their consent. She had worked with Mrs. L. Banks and Mrs. Currie in that city, and when she came here lived for a time with Mrs. Anderson in St. James street.

She claimed that two of the articles which she was accused of stealing, were given to her by a relative of Mrs. Tapley, a woman aged 70, named Smith.

A. C. L. Tapley, told the court that the girl had worked in his home for about two weeks. She said she had come from Amherst and had not lived in St. John before. He missed a dish, a butter knife and some other articles before last Monday, when the girl also was found to be missing.

She had not given any intimation that she was going to leave his household, when she went several articles had disappeared. The articles produced in court were Mr. Tapley's wife's wedding gown, a silk dress and opera cloak and opera cloak and the under garment from she left she was told that her services would not be required later than the following evening.

Detective Killen asked the witness if he knew of Mrs. H. W. Smith having stayed in that house on Sunday night last, but she told that the witness knew nothing of it.

The detective was sworn and said that in consequence of a message which he had received, he had made some inquiries and found that the defendant had left home on Monday for Amherst, after having attempted to pawn some articles. The detective followed and found the defendant in Amherst and brought her back along with the articles.

The girl said that she had received the opera cloak and the under garment from Mrs. Smith in St. John, who told her she was a cousin of the plaintiff and who had accompanied her to Amherst. The girl also told him she belonged to a place called Sand Hill, about one mile from Amherst. The prisoner was remanded.

POLICE COURT

Cigarette Case—One Man Who Should Be Thankful He Was Arrested

A quartette of Saturday prisoners, three men and a woman, faced Judge Ritchie in the police court this morning on charges of drunkenness, and their cases were speedily disposed of.

Frank Boyer, clerk in Frank Porter's drug store, Union street, appeared in court to answer a charge of selling cigarettes to Thomas Bonner, a minor and pleaded guilty to the charge. He gave a straightforward explanation of the charge, however, saying that young Bonner had told him the package was for his brother who was at home. Boyer said that he knew Bonner as a truthful boy and had not known him to smoke cigarettes.

His honor gave Boyer a warning on the subject and said he would allow a fine to stand against him.

Leo Comeau, a Frenchman, told the court that he had come from Yarmouth and, having met some of his friends in a fishing packet in the harbor front, on Saturday had celebrated a little. They produced a jug of whiskey, and the result was that he was fined $2.

James Shaw and Jane Odell were fined $8 for similar offences. Bertie Artiss was fined $4 on a charge of being drunk near the I. C. R. station on Saturday. I. C. R. Policeman John Collins, who made the arrest, said that the prisoner had a narrow escape from death as he was lying helpless on the railroad track with a shunting freight train approaching. It was fortunate for him that he was arrested or he might not now be able to return to his home at Fredericton Junction.

ANDOVER CLEAR OF FEVER EPIDEMIC

In conversation with T. J. Carter, of Andover today, the Times was informed that the fever epidemic at that place was practically a thing of the past, and that there were now only two people suffering from the disease. These were expected to be all better in a few days. The water system had been examined, and, having been found to be injurious to the citizens, efforts were made to purify it and no cases have since been reported.

The City Cornet Band's fair, which has been so successfully conducted during the past two weeks, will be brought to a close tonight when the drawing of tickets for the great lottery will take place, and the goods on hand will be sold at auction.

Boys' Overcoats and Reefers-- Surprising

Built so perfectly that, blow as hard as they will, the chilly winds cannot go through to the boy. One reason for this is the all-wool material used in the making. Mothers know that no cloth gives so good service, or keeps the boy so warm as these.

Then there is the making. Specialists, that know their business thoroughly, build these coats and you can rest assured that the garments are cut to fit the boy snugly and the seams are carefully closed.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Boys' All-Wool Nap Reefers, 6 to 14 years, $2.25 to $6.00; Boys' All-Wool Frieze Reefers, 6 to 17 years, $6.00 to $7.75; Boys' All-Wool Chinchilla Reefers, 6 to 15 years, $4.50 to $6.00; Boys' Russian Overcoats, 3 to 9 years, $3.75 to $6.00; Boys' Blanket Coats, 3 to 10 years, $3.50 to $15.00; Boys' Overcoats with velvet collar, 8 to 17 years, $6.00 to $20.00.
