WALTER BELL IS PUT ON TRIAL IN BASEBALL CASE

Matter Arises From Winnings in Pool—No Civil Cases

A true bill was returned by the grand jury at the opening session of the September term of the Circuit Court here, this morning. Mr. Justice Byrnes presiding, in the case of the King vs. Walter Bell, charged on two counts with theft and obtaining money under conditions which required an accounting of which none was made. Trial of the matter was set for this afternoon.

This case arose out of a complaint laid by Benjamin Williams who was a joint holder with Bell of a prize winning ticket in a baseball pool. According to the complainant, Bell went to Montreal, collected the prize amounting to $880, and then refused to divide the proceeds. J. Starr Tall is appearing for the Crown and B. L. Gerow for the defence.

NO CASES ENTERED.

An unusual situation presented itself this morning when it was announced that not a single case had been entered on the civil docket for this court. It has been a great many years since the Supreme Court sat here without any civil business being recorded.

The grand jury empaneled to hear the evidence in the Bell case, which was the only criminal matter on the docket, was composed of: J. N. Bond, H. E. Palmer, Edward Walsh, F. M. Taylor, J. W. Black, J. B. Manson, L. P. Sharkey, F. L. Roderick, H. Nighrup, G. S. Campbell, E. W. Henry and J. C. Rockwell.

NOTED JESUIT IS TO CONDUCT RETREAT

Father Devine and Father Fallon Coming to Saint John This Week

It was announced at the Bishop's Palace today that the closed retreat for men, to be begun next Friday evening at Johnstone's Hotel, Loch Lomond, will be conducted by Rev. Fathers Devine and Fallon, the former of Toronto and the latter of Montreal, both Jesuits. Father Devine is one of the most widely known and most noted of the members of the Jesuit clergy, and among his other activities he is editor of the Messenger of the Sacred Heart.

The men who are planning to make the retreat are to meet at the Cathedral, where transportation facilities will await them, and will leave at 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon. They will have the evening meal at the hotel. The exercises of the retreat will continue until Monday morning. It is hoped that upwards of 50 men will attend, and it was said this morning that early submission of names to complete the list was desired. This is to be the first ever of its kind held in Saint John.

MAYOR W. WHITE TO PRESIDE AT CONCERT

Proceeds of Recital Go Toward Building Maternity Wing to G. P. Hospital

A splendid advance sale of tickets is given this evening in the Imperial Theatre under the auspices of the Women's Hospital Aid.

Mayor White will preside and William Heugahn, noted actor-singer will be accompanied by Miss Gladys Sawyer, pianist. The Grand Opera Club have reserved blocks of seats for their members, who will attend in a body.

The proceeds of the concert are being set aside for the erection of a maternity wing to the General Public Hospital.

Edward Galvan Honored by Friends on Eve of Wedding

A party of his friends entertained at dinner last evening at Johnstone's Hotel, Loch Lomond, Edward Galvan, vice here, in honor of his marriage, which will take place tomorrow. During the evening, on behalf of those present, D. S. Connolly presented a gift of silverware to Mr. Galvan, who replied to the presentation speech in suitable manner. The evening was pleasantly spent with music.

Mrs. T. J. Foley Dies in East Saint John

Many friends will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Annie Foley, wife of Thomas F. Foley, which occurred this morning at her home, East Saint John. Mrs. Foley had not been in robust health for some time, but her death was unexpected and came as a great shock to her family.

Besides her husband she is survived by four daughters—Misses Lucia, Kathleen, Ann and Mary, and six sons—Norbert, William, Thomas, Adrien, Maurice and Martin, all at home; three sisters—Miss Marion Fitzgerald, Sister Mary Lucia of the Sisters of Charity, St. Peter's Convent, and Mrs. J. H. McCloskey, and one brother, W. J. Fitzgerald, all of this city.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning to Stella Marie church, at 9.45, for high mass of requiem.

Mrs. Foley was a daughter of the late John and Jane Fitzgerald, of this city.

SEE THE FALLS

As high tide the water of the Bay of Fundy reaches a higher level than the water of the Saint John River. The water of the Falls, created by the rushing up river.

At low tide the water in the Bay comes so much lower than that of the river, that the fall of water is reversed and flows down river into the Bay.

At half tide, when the level in the Bay is about the same as the level in the river, the water of the Falls disappears entirely, and the water at the Falls becomes smooth as the surface of a lake.

It is truly a spectacle which the world it should be seen at all these stages.

The best time to view this phenomenon is:

It is likely that additions will be made to the program, details of which will be announced later.

PROPERTY CASES IN CHANCERY COURT

The September sittings of the Chancery Court opened here this morning with Mr. Justice Grimmer presiding. Two cases were entered for trial and court adjourned until this afternoon to hear the first of these, Harriet Robertson vs. K. A. Williams trustee. In this case, the plaintiff is asking the court to decide the ownership of a property in Dochester street, maintaining that she is the rightful owner. The defendant, who is not opposing the claim, contends that she has been trustee of the property and cannot assign it until the rightful ownership is established. Both parties are petitioning for a decision as to how the trustee should assign. K. J. MacRae appeared in support of the plaintiff. The other matter to be tried at this court is the case of Nugent vs. McLellan et al, an action involving rights of parties under a lease of the property known as the Wood Lake Fishing Club.

AS HIRAM SEES IT

THE SETTLEMENT—Me and the town feller hed a cur'ous experience las' night. We was settin' on the verandy lookin' at a patch o' moonlight 'gainst' through the clouds on Long Reach. The fust thing we knowed we seen a fleet of Injun war-canoes glidin' across the patch o' moonlight—goin' down stream, dippin' their paddles without a sound. The redskins was in war-paint an' feathers—but they never spoke a word.

"Them's ghosts," says the town feller. "They're the ghosts of the warriors that sailed down here in 1603 to join the 400 Micmacs old Chief Membertou brought over the Bay o' Fundy to go down the coast to 'Penobscot an' get a bunch o' scalps from the Injuns that hed killed one there with Champlain. They hed a hard fight—but they killed a lot o' 'em. You could hear their chief—an' 'I'll them Saint John Injuns from Pancks Hill to the Devil's Back when they was bringin' their share o' the scalps. That was more'n 320 year ago the moonlight on the river."

Well, sir—it made me feel kind o' queer to think we could see there an' see what happened hundreds o' years ago. Hanner said we must 'ave been treatin' our imagination.

Information About J. Evans Sought

Mayor White has received from Joseph T. Allan, a lawyer of Gibsonville, North Carolina, a request for information about Jeremiah Evans. The latter states that between 1860 and 1870 this man came from some part of Carolina to Saint John and may have changed his name to John Evans. His wife's name is supposed to have been Annie and there was at least one son, Robert D. Evans. If any person can tell what part of Carolina he came from to Saint John and if there were any other children, Mr. Allan would appreciate them sending him the information.
