It was the impression in the city last night that the movement for a sugarless day as a protest against the present high prices of this commodity, started by the Women's Labor League of Winnipeg, would meet with a hearty reception and support here. No word had been received from Winnipeg but a telegram was expected.

ANTWERP ISOLATED BY THE STRIKE OF SEVERAL SERVICES

Postal, Telephone, Telegraph and Railway Employers Walk Out—Fears That Strike May Spread to Other Belgian Cities.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

and is apparently assuming grave proportions. The transportation of coal and coke was stopped by the walkout, and the Red Star liner Zealand was forced to abandon her sailing for New York. Consignments of fish and other provisions from England are being hauled to interior places by river boats and trucks, and perishable produce is being sold on the docks at whatever price it will bring.

Wire communication with other parts of Belgium is cut off. Reports reaching here excited fears that the strike might spread to Brussels and other big centres, and the Government is discussing the militarization of the services affected. The civic union is already being summoned to mobilize workers to take the strikers' places.

Brussels advices on May 9 announced a strike of the railwaymen, who said they were acting in sympathy with the protest of the employees in the Antwerp freight yards. Telephone workers to the number of 3,000 were also on strike, the advices said.

Elimination of the bogus detective and the standardization of charges for investigation so that such work may be done in a distant city for the same cost as at home, are also aims of the sleuths, who are seeking to elevate their profession and perfect their work.

Delegates from all over the country are present as well as several foreign members. Leon Leoni of Paris, is a scheduled speaker tomorrow. He is the man who arrested Landru, the French "Bluebeard." A. L. Dunlap, head of one of the principal fingerprint schools in the country, will speak on fingerprints. The effort to have everybody fingerprinted and their prints recorded at Washington is one of the aims of the association. This is not merely for the detection of criminals, but for the finding of missing persons, kidnapped children and similar uses. Such problems as the celebrated Charley Ross case would have been quickly cleared up with such means at the disposal of the authorities, according to the detectives.
