ILLITERATE IMMIGRANTS.
South Africa Will Enforce Strict Exclusion.

London, April 1.—According to a Renter despatch from Pretoria, it is officially announced that an increasing number of immigrants are arriving at South African Union ports, who are unable to read and write of the European languages, consequently they are prohibited immigrants.
The provisions of the act, it is announced, will be strictly enforced in future, and friends or relatives of intending immigrants are advised to notify them of the requirements of the act.

THE TRAGEDY OF
PRESENT DAY
Lack of Co-operation for Prevention of Disease— Fifty per cent of Deaths of Babies Under One Year Due to Impure Milk.
(Montreal Gazette.)

"Kissing is unsanitary, and does not really tend to good health, and if one wants to kiss promiscuously one should choose somebody of one's own size. It is not fair to insist on kissing somebody else's baby if you happen to meet it in the street" said Dr. J. C. Elliott last night at his health lecture in St. James Methodist church on "Prevention of Diseases by Right Living." Dr. Elliott said the civilized nations of the world have studied this question of prevention of diseases until they have brought it to a fine science, and instanced the precautions that are taken at all the ports of immigration into these countries to ensure that no virulent diseases be brought to our shores. But the great tragedy of today is that the rank and file of men and women are lacking in co-operation for the prevention of disease, and for the preservation of their own homes and families. Every individual must be a conscientious laborer in this work, as well as the physicians and scientists.
"When digging the Panama Canal the French government failed, not because of any shortage of money, but because they could not induce men to go and work in that zone of death, Panama, as it then was. But when the United States government took over the work they sent an army into Panama. Not an army of men armed with picks and shovels, but a corps of civilians armed with cans of malaria, who exterminated the breeding places of the deadly mosquitoes, and made it possible for men to work in that area. And today the death rate of Panama is no greater than that of London, Paris, New York, or any other great city of the world."
And with the help of all the men and women of the world, must this question of the prevention of disease be dealt with.

One of the most widespread causes of disease is lack of proper care in regard to the food supply. "You may observe every other law of health, take sufficient exercise, bathe properly, breathe scientifically, and have the correct mind attitude towards health, but if your food supply is wrong, the others will not avail you anything," said Dr. Elliott.
"While I have done everything in my power to help the cause of prohibition in the United States," said Dr. Elliott, "I still hold to the opinion that more people die every year in that country from over-eating, than ever died in one year from over-drinking." Dealing with the question of how municipalities can help in the cause of prevention of disease, Dr. Elliott said a pure water supply is more important than the reserve of gold in the banks of a city. The City of Niagara, he said, used to have attacks of typhoid fever every fall some four or five years ago, and the city authorities found that this was because the water supply—the river Niagara—had been turned into a veritable river of death through the City of Buffalo emptying its sewage into the Niagara. Steps were taken to fight this, and a water filtering and purifying plant was built at Niagara at a cost of over $2,000,000 and the result was that these virulent outbreaks of typhoid immediately ceased. Cincinnati had a similar experience, and a similar remedy was adopted with equally good results.

No less important is the fact that the milk supply must be pure. Fifty per cent of the deaths of babies under one year are caused by impure milk. The meat supply is also of vital importance, and in his opinion the meat supply of Canada is the finest of which he knew.
"Expectoration on the streets of the city should be absolutely prohibited," said Dr. Elliott, "and I believe it is, but the law should be enforced, as this is a most serious cause of infection, especially in the summer."
meat supply is also of vital importance,
Canada is the finest of which he knew.

Shaughnessy heights, at a point situated equally between two districts which formerly had had a minister, but both of whom have gone elsewhere. A temporary edifice has been erected, but later an up-to-date church will be built, and this, task has fallen to the lot of Mr.
Lewis and his co-workers.

FLEET OF 80 FORDS
TO COMBAT CRIME
New York, April 1.—Police Commissioner Enright says that he intended in a few days to provide a Ford runabout automobile for every precinct to aid the uniformed force in running down robbers. He said that a sergeant and a policeman would be assigned to each vehicle for the twenty-four hours of each day.
The machine will patrol their precincts end the sergeants will keep in touch with the station by telephone so that in the event of a hold-up of other disturbance they can hasten to the scene and gather up other policemen on the way.
Although there will be about eighty runabouts used. There will also be twenty large touring cars for the use of detectives in branch bureaus and for members of the traffic squad. Detectives will cruise about in this car in these cars and also will serve as flying squadrons to await word of hold-ups at their respective headquarters.
It seemed last night as if all hands had taken a day off yesterday. The police had reported not a single serious hold-up all day.
The police also expect that under the powers conferred on the force by the bill recently signed by Governor Miller, which placed the licensing of automobiles in the control of the police department, the number of automobile thefts will be considerably decreased.
When the full force of police automobile squads was in operation, it was said at police headquarters yesterday, detectives aided by the uniformed force would begin a systematic search of the city for stolen cars.

POLICEWOMAN FACES TRIAL
Washington Lieutenant Accused of Refusing to Obey Orders.
Washington, April 1—Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, the only woman holding the rank of lieutenant in the Washington police department, must stand trial on charges of conduct "prejudicial to the good order, reputation and discipline of the department," as a result of delay recently in releasing two runaway aristocrats from Brooklyn, N. Y., who were arrested here.
Mrs. Van Winkle was ordered by her superior officer to release the girls, but declined, pending an investigation of the conduct of the girls by the Woman's Bureau, of which she is the head.
Mrs. Van Winkle was appointed to the police force by the late Superintendent Fullman several years ago. She was a resident of Newark, N. J., where she had engaged in social welfare work, which attracted the attention of the authorities here, who asked her to accept a commission in the police department.

London's Traffic.
On February 28, Princess Mary's wedding day, it is estimated that over five million passengers were carried on the underground railways in London. This is a record.
The L. C. C. tramways carried 2 1/2 million passengers, which is about 600,000 above the average.
At times the Underground companies were moving more than 500,000 passengers an hour.
