RAISED $5 BILLS TO $20

Government May See Fit to Change Design of the $5 Bills.

(Montreal Herald)

One of the newest get-rich-quick swindles to come before the notice of the local police is that of the conversion or raising of five dollar bills to twenty dollar bills by means of the careful and patient manipulation of the figures and letters on both sides of the note. City Hall cashiers detected one of them this morning.

Up to the present the notes of two banks, at least, have been so converted and it is said that American bills are being similarly treated.

Although such juggling of figures and letters on the face of the notes would seem to the uninitiated to be an almost impossible feat of lithographic skill it is stated that, in all cases so far detected, the crassness and alterations have been so deftly managed as to deceive certain alert bank tellers, a few wide-awake civil servants and other persons who are not as a rule easily fooled with bogus funds.

Up to the present the identity of the forger or forgers as well as their habitat remains a mystery. The chance of a possible clue was lost this morning when it was discovered, much too late, that one of the many bachelors who had come to pay his land tax had discharged this onerous duty with the aid of one of these bogus $20 bills. The said bachelor might be quite innocent of the passage of bad money, but some links might have been recovered and followed out possibly to the original place of issue, the police say.

In the case of this note—originally a $5 bill—five alterations on each side of it were necessary involving both figures and letters; and it was pointed out by one of the money-handlers in the Income Tax Department that such a forger would be impossible in the future if the banks decided to scatter figures all over the bills.

In any case the public is warned against bills not only of the twenty dollar denomination but others as well, as expert forgers can manipulate one sort as easily as another.

TEN LIVE ON $25.

A local calculation by the registrar at Bloomsbury county court, England, showed that, after paying the rent, an unemployed ex-soldier, with a wife and eight children, had 21 sh. a week on which to live.

The case arose out of an application to levy distress for £4 6s. against the man, named West. The Comrades of the Great War were saying that association allowed West 21 sh. a week.

Registrar—I wonder you get it at all. West said his wife did not work a week, and received 6s. for it.

Registrar—You have 21 sh. a week, and your rent is 15s. 11d., so there is 5s. 11d. left out of the 21. Your wife has 5s. and your boy gives you about 15s. a week out of his earnings, so we have 15s. 11d. left. That is a wonderful sum for a man and his family to live on. That is a wonderful story.

The case was adjourned for a fortnight for further inquiries.
