Canadian Bank of Commerce
Review of Industrial and Economic Situation in the World, and Particularly in Canada.

(Issued by The Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto.)

In previous letters it has been pointed out that commercial conditions in Canada cannot be settled until more definite progress has been made towards economic stability in Europe and elsewhere; and conditions in the United Kingdom, on the European continent, in the United States and in South America are still unsatisfactory. In Russia communism appears to have brought about the industrial chaos which was from the first inevitable. In the United Kingdom, where considerations of economy have caused the government to announce its intention of decontrolling agriculture after the coming harvest, trade disputes have halted the progress of readjustment in the chief industries. One factor justifying hopefulness as to the future of Europe is the decision of the German people to carry out the terms of the reparations agreement, as this involves more work per day on their part for many years to come. This stands out in sharp contrast to the apparent determination in English-speaking countries to enforce not only a shorter working day but remuneration on the high scale reached during the war.

By comparison with other countries, Canada is in a relatively satisfactory position. A break has occurred in the stagnation of the lumber export business in the maritime provinces. As yet, however, the prices offered abroad are being accepted only by those who are desirous of liquidating their stocks. The amount of residential building going on in the Eastern States is creating a certain demand for the lumber products of the maritime provinces.

Coast is adversely affected by unsatisfactory financial conditions in the usual markets abroad. In Cuba, South America and the Mediterranean countries there appears to be no immediate prospect of improvement. The salient features of British Columbia are facing similar conditions. Up to the middle of May, out of a total of 100 canneries in that province, not more than fifty had indicated that operations would be carried on as usual this summer. In the present condition of the market the operators preferred to shut down altogether rather than to operate at a loss. In almost all cases the canning will be restricted to the best class of fish, with the result that the output for the season will be below normal.

Export shipments from the mines of Nova Scotia have increased as a result of the dispute in the British coal trade. It is evident that factories in general are finding the public in an abnormally mood at present. The demand for goods at the prices at which they are available to the consumer, has fallen off. The orders received are meagre in quantity and of a hand-to-mouth character. Only in occasional cases are factories working full time, and many purpose closing down indefinitely for repairs and adjustments. Accompanying these conditions is the inevitable corollary to them, the unemployment problem, which is engaging unusual attention in this country as elsewhere. Wage reductions are being generally accepted without protest, but there are important exceptions to this rule, notably in the building construction group, where the reductions so far are not sufficient to affect the future of the industry either one way or the other. In some other groups, notably railway employees, definite steps have been taken by both management and men to bring about an adjustment of wages, a movement that it is hoped will reduce the cost of transportation, which is causing much concern in productive industries. Reports from manufacturing centres indicate that the number of unemployed during May and June was considerably greater than it was at this period of the year. Unless conditions improve very soon it is probable that during the winter months there will have to be a repetition, on a large scale, of the relief measures adopted during the winter of 1920-21, when nearly every city in the Dominion voted considerable sums of money for relief.

Unemployment is to be found only in the urban districts. Elsewhere the work of agricultural production is going on in unflinching vigor, despite the decline between April 1920 and April 1921 of fifty per cent. in the prices of cereals, of twenty-five per cent. in those of cattle and hogs, and of eighteen per cent. in those of dairy products. Wheat prices have risen slightly during the last few weeks as the result of a lower estimated production in other countries and it now seems certain that for the remainder of the year prices will be such as to yield remunerative returns.

That Canada has 8,000 drug addicts is regarded as a fairly conservative statement by the deputy minister of health. A continuous fight against this evil is kept up by the health department. They are co-operating with the mounted police and the customs officials in checking smuggling and illicit traffic in narcotics and they also assist physicians throughout the Dominion in standardizing the medical treatment of drug addicts as carried out in the special hospital in New York City.

To this end the health department supplies physicians and other interested with an outline in French or English of the treatment of the drug addict. The authorities admit that in case of sickness or trouble the discharged patients are very likely to return to the drug. So long as narcotics can be obtained clandestinely, there will be drug addicts to deal with.

OLD TIMER IS FOUND AT THE PAS-
The Pass, Man., July 12.—(Canadian Press).—Discovery of the fossilized remains of a pre-historic monster in the foothills of the Pasquage Hill, near The Pass, is reported by Dr. Ellis, of the Dominion Geological Department. He found the bones disconnected but in alignment, measuring forty feet in length. He is not prepared to state what class of animal the remains belong to, but regards the discovery of great importance to science.

"The Road to Run."
The British Science Guild have had an address from Dean Inge on "The Road to Ruin and the Way Out." He briefly described the road to ruin as that along which we are travelling.

"The most ruinous feature of modern science is the strike. By degrees the trade unions have ceased to be defensive organizations and have acquired the power of throwing the whole mechanism of civilized life out of gear and of blocking the nation. Strikes had become acts of civil war."
