

A Few Words Concerning Our $18 and $20 Suits

THESE

garments should be judged not by their modest cost, but by their style and character which distinguish them from most suits at that price.

The man with a price limit is usually as particular as the one who does not study economy in buying clothes.

IT IS TO THE ECONOMICAL MAN THAT WE COMMEND OUR $18 AND $20 SUITS—satisfied that at that price they offer the utmost in style, quality and tailoring.

THE DEMOCRATS AND THE TARIFF

(Continued from page 1.) "The Canadian reciprocity bill is still on our statute book," Mr. Underwood suggested, "and we should not raise the slightest objection to the ratification of the agreement by Canada."

"If you give him all these things free, you will also have to give him free soap."

Mr. Kitchen is one of the members of the committee who are apt to make light of the influence of outside competition. He made light especially of the Mexican peril in the lumber trade.

Returning to the silk schedule, an interesting statement relative to wages paid in the trade was filed by the Silk Association of America. This gave the maximum and minimum wages paid to weavers as follows:

United States, $3 and $1 per day; Japan twenty cents and ten cents; China thirty and five cents; Italy, $1.25 and thirty cents; and France, $1.20 and fifty cents.

Hotace B. Cheney, who represented the association, was strongly pressed by the chairman on the question of "dynamiting" or weighting silk with tin salts.

"Was such adulteration not found on the continent?" Mr. Kitchen asked. "Suppose an import duty of $10 a yard were placed on loaded silk, and its manufacture in the United States made an offense, would that not protect the American manufacturer?"

But Mr. Cheney would not admit it. He contended that "loading" was only a fraud when carried beyond certain limits. "If it were not for tin salt," he said, "people would not get the thing they have for anything like the price."

Mr. Underwood declared his inability to see why an American manufacturer should adopt such an attitude. And as it is not his position he had to take, he said that which split down the seams the second time he had it out.

That was (reiterated), "all right," the witness sympathetically remarked, while the Republican members rejoiced. The argument of the manufacturer was interrupted, as might be expected, through the session, as might be expected, was for increased protection. Under the sting of pressure by the Democrats, one angrily exclaimed:—"You legislate to exclude Asiatics, why should you let their products in?"

WASHINGTON LAW TAKEN AS A MODEL

Workmen's Compensation Scheme Being Worked Out in Ontario (Mail and Empire). A clear exposition of the State of Washington workmen's compensation scheme, was given Sir William Meredith yesterday by F. W. Hirstale, chief auditor of the Industrial Insurance Commission which will probably serve as the model of the system to be put into force in Ontario.

Briefly stated, the Washington system is operated by dividing all industries that which will probably serve as the model of the system to be put into force in Ontario, into some forty-eight classes or groups, in which premiums are fixed on the basis of the hazard of each class. In this way each class bears its own burden of compensation. In case of fatal accidents, however, an estimate of the cost of gas transmission, including operating expense, interest and depreciation, at three cents per thousand feet.

TEN LITTLE SUFFRAGISTS STAND IN A LINE

Ten little suffragettes standing in a line; One epied a bargain sale, then there were nine.

Six little suffragettes, at a debate; One strained her vocal cords, then there were eight.

Eight little suffragettes, out until eleven; Her husband came after one, then there were seven.

Seven little suffragettes, up to cunning trials; One criticised another's hat, then there were six.

Six little suffragettes, for votes they did contrive; A tiny mouse scared one away, then there were five.

Four little suffragettes, making noise galore; A policeman arrested one, then there were four.

Three little suffragettes, to their movement true; One tried to make a speech, then there were two.

Two little suffragettes, with their work undone; The clock went back home, then there was one.

One little suffragette, in it just for fun; No one listened to her talk, so there was none.—Answers.
