Spike Kelly, Once a Prosperous Boxer, Now a Helpless Cripple

By TOM ANDREWS

If stars of the athletic world could keep up their bright side of life until the end, what a grand proposition it would be! But there are few of them who have the right finish.

Twenty-five years ago George (Spike) Kelly was a flashy young man and one of the real good light-weights of those days. He had plenty of money with all the good things that go with it and he was dined and wined aplenty. Later he became a trainer of boxers and had handled some of the best in the country, among them Battling Nelson, whom he helped when Bat was just beginning to blossom forth as a light-weight of the old school.

Today poor Kelly is a helpless cripple and blind, depending upon what help he can get from friends and what aid his good wife has been able to give him, also the aid of his faithful bull-dog, which has brought him a dollar by his clever tricks, for the unfortunate trainer. A few years ago Kelly was paralyzed and could only get around with the aid of crutches. He lived in Denver and all the boys were good to him, lending a hand whenever possible. He sold books and trinkets and with his trick dog did fairly well. A year ago he lost the sight of one eye and a few months ago had trouble with the other one. He went to San Francisco in the hope of saving the sight of the remaining good one, but now he has lost that one also, being left totally blind. He returned to Denver and is now having a hard fight to keep going.

It was Kelly who got Battling Nelson one of his early fights that helped push him to the front. He matched Bat with Adam Ryan at Little Rock, Ark., in 1903, and the $300 which Bat got for the bout helped him to more good ones. Kelly also trained Bat for a time and it must be said that Bat has helped the poor fellow more than once, not forgetting the past favors.

The hardest blow of all, however, came a little more than a year ago when Kelly was at Salt Lake City. He had gone there ahead of time, thinking the trusts are doing away with competition, and when competition, with its ill

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

George Elstone, of Leicester, N. S., yesterday received word from Butte, Montana, that his brother, James Elstone, had been killed in a mining accident. The deceased had left Nova Scotia about twenty-five years ago and is said to have amassed a fortune which will go to his brother, George.

Archbishop McNeil is ill in Toronto, and has cancelled engagements for the next fortnight.

The civic elections in Marysville yesterday resulted in the election of W. H. Gray for mayor, defeating C. A. Smith by four votes. For aldermen, Millard Reid, William Harrison, Aaron Peterson, Chas. McConaghey, Freeman Gilbert, Jesse Stafford, All Morrison and Norman Cochrane were elected.

Sir Charles Tupper will spend a week in Amherst during the latter part of this month, and plans are being made by the Amherst Canadian Club to tender him a hearty reception.

St. Stephen, April 7.—(Special)—Catholic elections took place today. Ralph T. Horton, Republican, was elected by a majority of 105 over Wallace W. Brown, Democrat. Five of the seven aldermen are Republicans.

IF CHURCHES USE "MOVIES," MUST MEET FIRE REGULATIONS

Spokane, Wash., April 8.—Taking the stand that churches in two years will be using moving pictures to enlighten their members, Spokane's commissioners have passed an ordinance that requires churches to secure fire regulations permits if they would use such pictures. Commissioner Hayden of the department of public safety insisted that when a church gives a moving picture show or an entertainment it is equally liable to regulation with a theatre. Under this interpretation, standing in aisles will not be permitted.

Mayor William J. Hindley, formerly a minister, told the commissioners "that churches as a rule are not under the necessity of hanging out the 'standing room only' sign."

The new ordinance leaves the matter of requiring permits on the part of churches to the discretion of the commissioner of public safety.

Says Rheumatism Chicago, April 8.—That rheumatism is caused by a germ is announced by Doctor Edward C. Rosenow, of Rush Medical College, who also asserts he has discovered the identity of the hitherto unknown bacteria. Doctor Rosenow made known his discovery for the first time to the staff of the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, to whom he described his research work. He said it had been carried on by experiments with rabbits into which he injected rheumatic germs taken from human beings.

Doctor Rosenow found the tonsils of several patients were inflamed. He injected bacteria from tonsils into rabbits and the identical symptoms developed.

There is nothing to indicate the disease may be transmitted through air, Doctor Rosenow said, and it is believed that the germs lurk in food and first lodge in the tonsils. His discoveries will be the basis for experimental work in search of a cure for rheumatism.

TAKING IT ALL IN. Miss Polly Juggles' mouth was exceedingly well developed. She sat in blissful contentment on the sea beach at Blackpool watching the restless sea and something of his grandeur shed its light upon her soul.

"Oh, Harry," she said to her young man, "how grand it all is, isn't it? I feel as though—well, as though I could open my mouth and take it all in."

A small boy who was nearby looked up, a startled gleam in his eye. "But I say," he remarked, "you won't do it, will you? We only come down here yesterday."
