what is there about this Christmas season that makes people over temporarily; changes their point of view; takes the keen edge off their egotism for the time being and awakens them to the fact that there are others in this big round lodging house whose pleasures and pains are as important as their own? However self-centred and pessimistic a man, he expands a little at this time in spite of himself and may even be brought to feel that of public ownership. Every one of the time of the thirty-eight poils contributed to the majority; but there is a two-thirds majority, but there is a two-thirds majority in each ward and at every poll with three exceptions. In one of these three the vote for the bylaw was 62 to 32, and in another 81 to 42.

It is fitting that a city like Winnipeg, with a great future before it, and now in a state of rapid growth, should take the lead in this reformation. Sooner or later other Canadian cities will follow into consideration and deliver judgment after Christmas.

Contractor Edward Bates, of St. John, today appraised the loss to John Oldham's building on York street, at $1,550. The building was insured that $1,550. The building was insured with the Phoenix Insurance Co., of Hartford.

The unexpected death occurred at Marysville this afternoon from pneumoria of John Dunbar. He was a faithful employe of the Gibson Cotton Mills, was in his sixty-eighth year and leaves a widow, three sons and three and may even be brought to feel that the example.—Sun, there is joy as well as blessedness in the act of giving and that all the easure of Christmas is not cornered
