CAN DO BETTER IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Stock-raiser from Old Country Decides to Locate Here After Experience in Upper Canada.

Well pleased with Ontario, but believing that he can do better in New Brunswick, Arthur Trapp, an Old Country farmer, came to St. John the other day and will have a look around the province with the object of securing a farm. For some years, Mr. Trapp has been managing the big stock raising farm of Stewart Cameron of Bolton, Peel County, Ontario, a member of the Shorthorn Breeders' Association of Canada, and one of the best known cattle breeders and sportsmen of Ontario. Since coming to Canada, Mr. Trapp has taken a six months' course at the Agricultural College at Guelph.

"Bolton is situated in the great farming country north of Toronto, and I liked the country and the people," said Mr. Trapp, "but the price of land there is too high for a man with a moderate capital. About the only farm that would have suited me in any way would have cost me $4,000, and there was only 50 acres to it, and a frame house of not much account. Last year I noticed an article in a Canadian farm journal, written by W. W. Hubbard, about conditions in New Brunswick, and I wrote to the immigration office and began to make inquiries about the farming possibilities of the province. And from the information I gathered I came to the conclusion that I could do better by coming down here and acquiring a farm, and that if I could not make more money than in Ontario, I would have more comfort. My object is to develop a stock raising farm, and raise nothing but pure breeds. I have an interest in a farm in the Old Country, in the heart of a district where they raise pure bred stock and as soon as I get hold of a farm I expect to bring out some good stock.

"There is a lot of information I want to pick up before I decide to settle down here, but I can see no reason why New Brunswick should not be as good a place as any to start raising pure bred stock. The climate is good, the soil must be very good in many places, and you are close to the English market. Besides there ought to be a good home market here."

DEATH FOLLOWED ELECTRICAL STORM

T. Fred Powers was on Road to Recovery - City Loses a Prominent and Popular Citizen.

The death occurred very suddenly about 7.30 o'clock last evening of T. Fred Powers, the well known funeral director. The physicians in attendance state that the heavy lightning and thunderstorm was chiefly the cause of bringing on death. Mr. Powers had been ill since a week ago last Sunday and his chief ailment was heart trouble. He was regaining strength and was greatly improved yesterday afternoon, so much in fact that it was expected that he would be able to be around in a couple of days. His daughter, Mrs. Fred C. Thompson, of Moncton, who had been visiting her parents left for her home and had only reached the depot when she received the sad news of her father's death.

Mr. Powers was in the 61st year of his age. He was a son of the late Mark Needham Powers who established the business which the deceased conducted up to the time of his death. He is survived by a widow, formerly a Miss Stevens, daughter of Stephen E. Stephens, one son Mark Needham, and two daughters, Mrs. Chas. Thompson of Moncton and Miss Fredrick Powers a trained nurse who at the time was at home. There are also five sisters, Miss Nellie Powers, Mrs. E. K. McArthur, and Mrs. George Sugg of Orange, N. J., Mrs. John Robertson of Cambridge, Mass., and Mrs. Wm. Snider, of Brockton, Mass.

Few citizens were better known or more deservedly popular than the late T. Fred Powers. Of a kindly and genial disposition he was always a prime favorite. He was a prominent Free Mason, a member of the Canadian Order of Elks, and a member of the Independent Order of Foresters. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon from his late residence, 75 Princess street. Service will be held at the house at 2.30 o'clock.

Dwelling Burned.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon fire was discovered in the home of Charles W. Morell, No. 12 Middle street, and an alarm was sent in from box 17. At the time the fire was discovered the family were not at home and the fire had a good start before it was discovered. The blaze was mostly in the ell of the house. This was totally destroyed and the main house badly damaged by water. Mrs. Morell had only $500 insurance with Wm. Thomson & Co., on her furniture, which is totally destroyed. The house is owned by W. Frank Hatheway and is insured.

Heat Drove Them Out.

H. H. Clarke of the Militia Department at Ottawa was at the Royal yesterday on his way to Halifax to visit relatives. "The weather in Ottawa has been frightfully hot," said he, "and there has been a good deal of suffering among the people. Everybody that could find a place to sleep out of doors abandoned the shelter of their roof for the trees."

SUIT FOR DAMAGES AGAINST THE C. P. R.

Trial of the Case of Florence O'Regan against Canadian Pacific was Taken up in Circuit Court Yesterday.

The trial of the case of Florence O'Regan vs. C. P. R. was commenced in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice Barry, and the following jury: Doddridge L. Nobles, Fred E. Law, Harry E. Green, R. Dominic Hayes, Fred R. Patterson, Frederick Selbey and Wilfred C. Day. Homer D. Forbes and J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., appeared for the plaintiff, and Fred R. Taylor for the defendant.

The plaintiff was on January 2, 1909, employed as a laborer by the defendant in discharging and unloading the defendant's steamship Empress of Ireland. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant provided a gang plank for the use of the plaintiff and others in going on board the steamship, and through the negligence and default of the plaintiff, the gang plank was not securely fastened, which the defendant well knew, but of which the plaintiff was ignorant. The plaintiff further alleges that there were other gangplanks, but he was forbidden from using them, and expressly ordered to use the one at the forward part of the ship, which was not fastened. The plaintiff, for the necessary performance of his work, went upon the gangplank, and it gave way, and he fell, and in falling was struck by the gangplank and his foot was crushed, ankle hurt, and the cords torn, and he was bruised and permanently injured from attending to his occupation of a ship laborer. He claims ten thousand dollars.

The defendant alleges that the gangplank was securely fastened, and claims that there was contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff. At the hour of adjournment yesterday afternoon the plaintiff's case had been finished and Mr. Taylor had concluded his opening address to the jury. In opening for the plaintiff Mr. Forbes recited the facts of the case and said that the accident was caused by negligence on the part of the defendant's servants.

Andrew Harrington, Michael Donovan, William Watters, Herbert Shiley, James Moore, Dr. D. E. Berryman and the plaintiff testified at yesterday's session.

Mr. Taylor for the defendant then moved that the case be withdrawn from the jury on the ground that plaintiff had not made out a case. His Honor refused to do this.

Mr. Taylor then outlined the defendant's case to the jury. He said that he would show that the plaintiff was guilty of negligence by going on the gang plank against the express orders of the defendant's servants.

The deposition of Robert G. Gratta, taken before Mr. Justice McKeown some time ago, was read and received in evidence.

The case will be continued this morning at ten o'clock. His Honor intimated that he would impose a fine on the absent jurors, namely, Walter H. Irving, Alexander Corbett, Arthur C. Smalley, John Hannah, James H. Doody, Jr., and Sydney Gilbe.

THE WEST FOR MONEY BUT ST. JOHN FOR FUN

Ex-Member of Northwest Mounted Police Says West is All Right for the Making of Money.

James Beers, who left St. John some years ago, join back in the city on a visit to relatives. Mr. Beers says that he did not find life as exciting in the mounted police as he expected, and after serving some time he purchased his freedom and tried his fortunes in Regina, Sask., a city which he said was growing like a mushroom.

"The West," he said, "is all right for a man who is content to work hard, and attend strictly to the business of getting money. If you want to have a good time it is better to stop in the East. You can have more fun in St. John for nothing, than you can put West with a pocket full of cash. 'No, sir, I didn't have a single adventure while I was in the Mounted Police, though I rather liked the life. Not desperate, or a wild Indian came my way. The West is as orderly as a Sunday school picnic. 'Nevertheless I'm going back. It's a hustling country, and you get to like the spirit of the place. 'The crops were in fine condition when I came away and everything points to a bumper harvest.'"

Block System Disabled.

The Boston express, due at 11.15 o'clock last night, did not arrive until about 2.30 o'clock this morning. The delay was caused west of Vancouver, Maine, the block signalling system being disabled by the severe electrical storm. The trains had to be worked through by the flag system all along the line.

Sunday School Picnics.

The Fairville Methodist church held their annual picnic to Westfield Beach, yesterday. The outing was largely attended. The picnic of the St. Luke's church Sunday school was held yesterday at Walter's Landing. The usual games and sports were enjoyed. About 8 o'clock the storm broke and the picnickers were sheltered in some of the houses and on the pavilion on the grounds. They returned to Indian town about 8.45 o'clock last evening.

If You Wear Toric Lenses You Won't Have to be Convinced

All that we can say to convince you of the superiority of Toric lenses over the ordinary flat kind, does not for a moment compare with the realization of these advantages which you experience as soon as you have put on a pair. The person who wears Toric lenses cannot understand why anyone should be willing to wear any other kind. They know and we know that it is not because of the slightly greater cost, but simply because people do not realize how much better these lenses are. If you want all the comfort possible from glasses come in and have a pair of Torics made for you.
