

LATE NEWS AND VIEWS FROM SPORTING WORLD

THISTLES WON FROM
ROSES, SCORE 9 TO 6

Interesting Game in St. Peter's League Last Evening Filled With All Sorts of "Baseball."

The Thistles defeated the "Nomads" last night in a game of baseball full of thrills, hair raising plays, prize fights and controversies. The Roses started away like a house after piling up three scores in easy style in the first inning. Again in the second inning Meyers came through with another run.

The Thistles scored one run in the first, Milan doing the stunt. From that up until the fifth inning held the "Burr" on the bench. It was in the sixth inning that the Thistles got in their nasty work on the field retrifig "Nomads" in fast succession.

The eighth inning proved disastrous for the Roses, Leunhan placing the sphere in No-man's land, causing four men to cross the plate.

McGuigan started in the box for the Thistles, but he was swatted so rudely in the first inning that Gibson after holding a short consultation with Milan, ordered Milan to the slab.

Hanson pitched for the Roses during the entire game and was found for seven hits. His support was not of the best calibre last night, although an immense improvement on what turned out in the last game.

Meyers occupied third sack last night, but did not play as well in that position as he does on second.

E. Harrington was put in the outfield, McMurray taking his place at short. For the seventh Harrington brought the crowd to their feet when he tied the score.

There were a number of disputes and decisions last night on some of the decisions given by Billy Howard, culminating with McMurray and Lynch walking off the diamond, when Howard sent a man home on a balk. They returned to the game after a few seconds of despondency and continued until the game ended.

Following is the box score:

| Thistles            | AB | R | H | A | PO | E |
|---------------------|----|---|---|---|----|---|
| Milan, P.           | 4  | 2 | 1 | 0 | 3  | 0 |
| Gibbons, 2d base.   | 5  | 0 | 0 | 1 | 0  | 1 |
| Callahan, 3d base.  | 2  | 3 | 2 | 0 | 4  | 0 |
| Dever, C.           | 5  | 1 | 1 | 7 | 2  | 0 |
| Leunhan, ss.        | 4  | 1 | 1 | 3 | 6  | 1 |
| McAnulty, 1st base. | 5  | 1 | 1 | 1 | 1  | 1 |
| White, left field.  | 5  | 0 | 0 | 2 | 0  | 0 |
| McGuigan, r. f.     | 5  | 1 | 1 | 1 | 0  | 0 |
| Howard, c. f.       | 5  | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0  | 0 |

Roses

| AB                   | R | H | A | PO | E |
|----------------------|---|---|---|----|---|
| Meyers, 3d base.     | 5 | 2 | 1 | 0  | 1 |
| E. Harrington, l. f. | 5 | 3 | 3 | 2  | 0 |
| Lynch, 2d base.      | 5 | 1 | 2 | 1  | 1 |
| McMurray, ss.        | 5 | 0 | 2 | 1  | 3 |
| O'Toole, c.          | 5 | 0 | 1 | 1  | 3 |
| Garvin, c. f.        | 4 | 0 | 1 | 0  | 0 |
| McGuire, r. f.       | 4 | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0 |
| Murphy, 1st base.    | 3 | 0 | 1 | 0  | 1 |
| Hanson, p.           | 4 | 0 | 1 | 1  | 1 |

Score by innings:

| Thistles | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 |
|----------|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Thistles | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| Roses    | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 |

BLEACHER DOPE.

A suggestion for "Mugsy" when he smokes those cigar pipes.

That was "Han-some" pitching. "Lynch, the second baseman," was heard when Bucky threw down the glove.

A fan for the Roses to the third

BASEBALL IN THE BIG LEAGUES

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Richmond, 13; Buffalo, 7.
Richmond, June 19.—Richmond easily defeated Buffalo today 13 to 7. The score:
Buffalo . . . . . 300001300—7 11 1
Richmond . . . . . 52200610x—13 17 1
Batteries—Fullenwelder and Onslow; Rhoades and Reynolds.
Rochester, 5; Baltimore, 3.
Baltimore, June 19.—Bess hit, intermingled with their opponent's errors, enabled Rochester to beat Baltimore today 5 to 3. The score:
Rochester . . . . . 020010020—6 11 1
Baltimore . . . . . 001000020—3 7 1
Batteries—Hersche and Hale; Sherman and McVay.
Newark—Toronto, wet grounds.
Providence—Montreal, postponed to a later date.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Phila, 3; Brooklyn, 2.
Brooklyn, June 19.—Philadelphia won the first game of the series with Brooklyn today by a score of 3 to 2. The score:

JESS WILLARD'S
BACKWARDNESS

The Champion Side-steps
Dinners and Presentations
—He is a True Home-Loving Man.

Boxing fans are beginning to understand Jess Willard's backwardness as being a true sign that he is a plain, unassuming home-loving man," remarked Jack Curley the other day. "You wouldn't believe it if I told you some of the school boy pranks that he has indulged in on our swing around the circus circuit."

"Jess Willard will never be a Jim Corbett, a fellow to step out and grab his way through the world after he is done physically. He balks and shies at every little thing. A great many people want to meet him. Some arrange little dinners, so that Jess will attend and they can see and hear him. That's just when Jess beats it over the back fence for home. Why, even I arranged a little home dinner for Jones, Willard, Monahan, O'Rourke and myself. Jess promised positively to be there."

"He got as far as the front door, found that Jim Flynn was among the company, turned on his heel and went home to bed. All the excuse that he gave later was that perhaps he and Jim might get arguing about boxing. When he began training for Moran out in Chicago, he was a guest of the Chicago Athletic Club. They thought a good deal of big Jess, he so lacked brag and bluster."

"The night before he packed up to go on to New York to finish his training, the club members decided to give him a little informal dinner and as a mark of their esteem, they purchased a beautiful watch for him. It had a row of diamonds all around the edge. I daresay it cost $2,000."

"Jess started for the club to attend the dinner. He walked into the big entrance to the club and his eye fell sacker, "Myer" we loosing. Who was that long drink of pump water from Carlton? Morphy's Freddie became discouraged and left in the sixth."

"It's no use trying to win without 'Chaplin.' Billy Donahue may be required to referee the next game."

The Maine Carpet Manufacturing Company are now putting up cigars

St. John, N. B., June 17, 1916.
The officers and men of the 115th Battalion, C. E. F., take this opportunity on the eve of their departure from St. John, of publicly thanking the firm of J. & W. Shaw for the prompt delivery and the quality of bread delivered to us during our training in your city.

(Sgd.) C. F. SANFORD, Capt.
Quartermaster 115th Batt.

RESULTS OF THE
ROTHESAY SPORTS

Several Events Run Off Yesterday Afternoon and Well Contested—The Winners.

The closing exercises of the Rothsay Collegiate School were begun yesterday. The following events were run off in the sports:

Throwing Cricket Ball.
Senior school—First, P. Starr; second, Brydone Jack.
Middle school—First, Nae; second, Carson.

Junior school—First, McPhail; second, Sancton.

Running Broad Jump.
Senior school—First, Clowes, 18 ft. 1 in.; second, Brydone Jack.
Middle school—First, Nae; second, Carson.

Junior school—First, Peters, second, Sancton.

Quarter Mile.
Middle school—First, Carson; second, L. Diago.

Half Mile.
Senior school—First, Nichols; second, Brydone Jack.

This morning the sports will be continued and in the afternoon the distribution of prizes will take place at which His Lordship the Bishop of Fredericton will officiate.

RECENT GOSSIP OF
SPORT IN BRITAIN

Memories of Other Days Recalled Through Presence of Frank Slavin—English Athletics' Military Meeting Marked Success.

London, June 14.—Memories of other days are recalled by the presence of Frank Slavin in our midst. Old-timers will recall how the Australian visited England in the eighties, and met Peter Jackson in contest at the Sporting Club which was memorial. He subsequently went to the United States, and when the Klondyke "boom" came along, he was one of the hardy pioneers. Though Slavin is now over fifty years of age, he is still a tough proposition, as some German may have cause to know before very long.

The one-time champion, who is now in London, has been giving his views on boxers of the present day to a representative of the Weekly Dispatch. Slavin says: "The science of boxing has sadly deteriorated since my day. True I do not take the same interest in the game as I did in years gone by, but when called on to referee a bout between two fairly well-known men in Canada about three years ago I was astonished at the amount of hugging and wrestling which went on. The main feature of boxing, as I had been taught by Larry Foley, seemed utterly unknown to these boxers. Of course, there is a reason for this decadence and it is this: Many boxers of the present take the right foot off the ground when leading with the left. My point is this, whilst a tap with the glove scores a point, a real punch, with the driving power of the right foot behind it must be of more value. It stands to reason that the force of a hit must be lessened if its driving power is resting upon nothing more solid than air."

This opinion, as expressed by Frank Slavin, fully bears out what has so frequently been expressed, viz., that many of our boxers (of whom Billy Wells is a notable example) lack aggressiveness and the ability to hit, with the result that they are frequently knocked out by punchers who are inferior boxers from a scientific point of view.

A Reversal of Form.
The match between Young Symonds and another well known competitor, in

of Plymouth, and Fang Lee, of Scotland, created no end of interest in the Devonshire town, where the home man was fully expected to repeat the victory which gained him the flyweight title, only, however, to lose it to Jimmy Wilde. It was known that Lee had shown excellent form whilst training with Young Rosner recently, and there were more than a few of his countrymen who were prepared to see them make the spoils. Thus all looked bright for a determined contest, and which proved, victory seeming to hang in the balance for many rounds. During the third round Symonds sent his man to the boards with a left hook, and his stock soared in consequence. Lee, however, is a very tough man, and coming up strong and well for the next round, he became very aggressive, and it was the turn of Symonds to be toppled over.

The contest progressed on very even lines, and it was difficult to say which was on top at the end of the sixth round. After the eighth, however, Symonds showed signs of weakness, though he frequently rallied. It was Lee's turn to hang out signals of distress in the twelfth round, and Symonds made such an effort that he appeared likely to end matters in his favor. Lee, however, got over his bad time, and the pair continued to battle on in the gamest possible manner until the seventeenth round, when Symonds retired, following a hard right to the jaw. He was not knocked out, but virtually exhausted, which was the cause of his retirement. Thus ended a remarkable contest, and one of the keenest ever seen in the western town.

Athletics.
Military athletic meetings proved a big attraction to many sportsmen on Saturday, one of the best being the fixture carried through at Sutton Veng, and at which several well-known London athletes were prominent.

Much was naturally expected from C. H. Ruffell, an ex-English steeplechase champion, and winner of the last National Cross Country Championship. To the general surprise, however, he could only "run up" in the "half" and "mile" these events going to Lieut. R. D. Walker, R. E., and Rifleman Hickey, London Irish, respectively. It subsequently transpired that Ruffell had broken down in training and was afraid to go all out.

MASTER WORKMAN

SMOKING TOBACCO

The Civil Engineer says:—
"When I strike a knotty problem that calls for deep thinking, I want MASTER WORKMAN Smoking Tobacco"

This world-famous Brand can now be obtained for 15c. a cut at all the best stores.

Capt. A. H. Moncreiff, of the London A. C. and Surrey A. C., accounted for the quarter after a good race with his brother, Driver Moncreiff, A.S.C.

The programme included a 6-mile cross-country race, in which Pte. Callard, R.A.M.C., proved successful, beating Col. B. H. Lyberty, 20th London, by 62 secs.

The latter is a well known London athlete, which points to Callard being smart. Both he and Hickey, winner of the "mile," are new men and one of the most pleasing features of military sports is the manner fresh talent is being discovered.

Overseas Cracks.
Home athletes were naturally interested in the result of the annual Boston Marathon race (which fell to a local runner in A. V. Roth). It was a bit of a shock to learn that Jim Corkery of Toronto, winner of the London Polytechnic Marathon in 1914, had finished fourth. His numerous English admirers naturally wonder why he is not with the Patriots in the fighting area, seeing that he is fit to take part in a Marathon race.

Another overseas crack is Jack Donaldson, of Australia, the professional sprint champion, has just signed on to play for the Swinton Northern Union Football Club next season. This hardly looks as though he is going to follow the example of his great rival, W. A. Applethorpe (who beat him for the championship) and take a hand in protecting our womenfolk from the German savages. Some how one expects famous athletes to be in the fighting line and it is a bit disappointing to come across any who have not fallen in by choice.

of Plymouth, and Fang Lee, of Scotland, created no end of interest in the Devonshire town, where the home man was fully expected to repeat the victory which gained him the flyweight title, only, however, to lose it to Jimmy Wilde. It was known that Lee had shown excellent form whilst training with Young Rosner recently, and there were more than a few of his countrymen who were prepared to see them make the spoils. Thus all looked bright for a determined contest, and which proved, victory seeming to hang in the balance for many rounds. During the third round Symonds sent his man to the boards with a left hook, and his stock soared in consequence. Lee, however, is a very tough man, and coming up strong and well for the next round, he became very aggressive, and it was the turn of Symonds to be toppled over.

The contest progressed on very even lines, and it was difficult to say which was on top at the end of the sixth round. After the eighth, however, Symonds showed signs of weakness, though he frequently rallied. It was Lee's turn to hang out signals of distress in the twelfth round, and Symonds made such an effort that he appeared likely to end matters in his favor. Lee, however, got over his bad time, and the pair continued to battle on in the gamest possible manner until the seventeenth round, when Symonds retired, following a hard right to the jaw. He was not knocked out, but virtually exhausted, which was the cause of his retirement. Thus ended a remarkable contest, and one of the keenest ever seen in the western town.

Athletics.
Military athletic meetings proved a big attraction to many sportsmen on Saturday, one of the best being the fixture carried through at Sutton Veng, and at which several well-known London athletes were prominent.

Much was naturally expected from C. H. Ruffell, an ex-English steeplechase champion, and winner of the last National Cross Country Championship. To the general surprise, however, he could only "run up" in the "half" and "mile" these events going to Lieut. R. D. Walker, R. E., and Rifleman Hickey, London Irish, respectively. It subsequently transpired that Ruffell had broken down in training and was afraid to go all out.

Overseas Cracks.
Home athletes were naturally interested in the result of the annual Boston Marathon race (which fell to a local runner in A. V. Roth). It was a bit of a shock to learn that Jim Corkery of Toronto, winner of the London Polytechnic Marathon in 1914, had finished fourth. His numerous English admirers naturally wonder why he is not with the Patriots in the fighting area, seeing that he is fit to take part in a Marathon race.

Another overseas crack is Jack Donaldson, of Australia, the professional sprint champion, has just signed on to play for the Swinton Northern Union Football Club next season. This hardly looks as though he is going to follow the example of his great rival, W. A. Applethorpe (who beat him for the championship) and take a hand in protecting our womenfolk from the German savages. Some how one expects famous athletes to be in the fighting line and it is a bit disappointing to come across any who have not fallen in by choice.

Overseas Cracks.
Home athletes were naturally interested in the result of the annual Boston Marathon race (which fell to a local runner in A. V. Roth). It was a bit of a shock to learn that Jim Corkery of Toronto, winner of the London Polytechnic Marathon in 1914, had finished fourth. His numerous English admirers naturally wonder why he is not with the Patriots in the fighting area, seeing that he is fit to take part in a Marathon race.

Another overseas crack is Jack Donaldson, of Australia, the professional sprint champion, has just signed on to play for the Swinton Northern Union Football Club next season. This hardly looks as though he is going to follow the example of his great rival, W. A. Applethorpe (who beat him for the championship) and take a hand in protecting our womenfolk from the German savages. Some how one expects famous athletes to be in the fighting line and it is a bit disappointing to come across any who have not fallen in by choice.

Overseas Cracks.
Home athletes were naturally interested in the result of the annual Boston Marathon race (which fell to a local runner in A. V. Roth). It was a bit of a shock to learn that Jim Corkery of Toronto, winner of the London Polytechnic Marathon in 1914, had finished fourth. His numerous English admirers naturally wonder why he is not with the Patriots in the fighting area, seeing that he is fit to take part in a Marathon race.

Another overseas crack is Jack Donaldson, of Australia, the professional sprint champion, has just signed on to play for the Swinton Northern Union Football Club next season. This hardly looks as though he is going to follow the example of his great rival, W. A. Applethorpe (who beat him for the championship) and take a hand in protecting our womenfolk from the German savages. Some how one expects famous athletes to be in the fighting line and it is a bit disappointing to come across any who have not fallen in by choice.

Overseas Cracks.
Home athletes were naturally interested in the result of the annual Boston Marathon race (which fell to a local runner in A. V. Roth). It was a bit of a shock to learn that Jim Corkery of Toronto, winner of the London Polytechnic Marathon in 1914, had finished fourth. His numerous English admirers naturally wonder why he is not with the Patriots in the fighting area, seeing that he is fit to take part in a Marathon race.

Another overseas crack is Jack Donaldson, of Australia, the professional sprint champion, has just signed on to play for the Swinton Northern Union Football Club next season. This hardly looks as though he is going to follow the example of his great rival, W. A. Applethorpe (who beat him for the championship) and take a hand in protecting our womenfolk from the German savages. Some how one expects famous athletes to be in the fighting line and it is a bit disappointing to come across any who have not fallen in by choice.

Overseas Cracks.
Home athletes were naturally interested in the result of the annual Boston Marathon race (which fell to a local runner in A. V. Roth). It was a bit of a shock to learn that Jim Corkery of Toronto, winner of the London Polytechnic Marathon in 1914, had finished fourth. His numerous English admirers naturally wonder why he is not with the Patriots in the fighting area, seeing that he is fit to take part in a Marathon race.

Another overseas crack is Jack Donaldson, of Australia, the professional sprint champion, has just signed on to play for the Swinton Northern Union Football Club next season. This hardly looks as though he is going to follow the example of his great rival, W. A. Applethorpe (who beat him for the championship) and take a hand in protecting our womenfolk from the German savages. Some how one expects famous athletes to be in the fighting line and it is a bit disappointing to come across any who have not fallen in by choice.

Overseas Cracks.
Home athletes were naturally interested in the result of the annual Boston Marathon race (which fell to a local runner in A. V. Roth). It was a bit of a shock to learn that Jim Corkery of Toronto, winner of the London Polytechnic Marathon in 1914, had finished fourth. His numerous English admirers naturally wonder why he is not with the Patriots in the fighting area, seeing that he is fit to take part in a Marathon race.

Another overseas crack is Jack Donaldson, of Australia, the professional sprint champion, has just signed on to play for the Swinton Northern Union Football Club next season. This hardly looks as though he is going to follow the example of his great rival, W. A. Applethorpe (who beat him for the championship) and take a hand in protecting our womenfolk from the German savages. Some how one expects famous athletes to be in the fighting line and it is a bit disappointing to come across any who have not fallen in by choice.

Overseas Cracks.
Home athletes were naturally interested in the result of the annual Boston Marathon race (which fell to a local runner in A. V. Roth). It was a bit of a shock to learn that Jim Corkery of Toronto, winner of the London Polytechnic Marathon in 1914, had finished fourth. His numerous English admirers naturally wonder why he is not with the Patriots in the fighting area, seeing that he is fit to take part in a Marathon race.

Another overseas crack is Jack Donaldson, of Australia, the professional sprint champion, has just signed on to play for the Swinton Northern Union Football Club next season. This hardly looks as though he is going to follow the example of his great rival, W. A. Applethorpe (who beat him for the championship) and take a hand in protecting our womenfolk from the German savages. Some how one expects famous athletes to be in the fighting line and it is a bit disappointing to come across any who have not fallen in by choice.

Overseas Cracks.
Home athletes were naturally interested in the result of the annual Boston Marathon race (which fell to a local runner in A. V. Roth). It was a bit of a shock to learn that Jim Corkery of Toronto, winner of the London Polytechnic Marathon in 1914, had finished fourth. His numerous English admirers naturally wonder why he is not with the Patriots in the fighting area, seeing that he is fit to take part in a Marathon race.

Another overseas crack is Jack Donaldson, of Australia, the professional sprint champion, has just signed on to play for the Swinton Northern Union Football Club next season. This hardly looks as though he is going to follow the example of his great rival, W. A. Applethorpe (who beat him for the championship) and take a hand in protecting our womenfolk from the German savages. Some how one expects famous athletes to be in the fighting line and it is a bit disappointing to come across any who have not fallen in by choice.

NEWS AND

A REVIEW OF
ATTITUDE OF THE
NEW YORK MARKET

Plenty of Reasons for Enthusiasm and Rising Prices, but Equally Strong Factors to Check Extravagant Advances.

General business is proceeding prosperously and has taken on a further favorable aspect in that probably the crest of the wave in prices has been seen. This is the opinion of the Iron Age regarding steel.

The conservatism which has not allowed any undue inflation of credit is one of the gratifying features of the situation. Bank loans are far above those of a year ago, but this is the legitimate result of the great expansion in business, the really huge amounts of securities which we have bought back from Europe and the loans made to foreign countries to enable them to finance their trade with us. There is no apparent any overbuilding or undue extension in the industrial field.

The Stock Market Attitude.
The market is concerned, much seems to depend upon the course and developing prospects of the Presidential campaign. Neither side has an easy victory in sight.

There is prosperity enough in the country to cause a general bull market, and such augmentation in earnings and declaration of increased and extra dividends, as is daily taking place, would, under ordinary circumstances, produce enthusiasm and rising prices. But we have, to offset this, the heavy mobilization of American securities in London and the resulting great accumulation of high-class railroad shares, which may be fed out on our market quietly whenever prices are favorable. This, it seems, would stop any extravagant rise in the better railroad shares, this most important part of the market. The war stocks are mostly making large profits, but the uncertainty of duration of these handicaps speculation in that quarter. Further than that, loans in Wall Street are still too large for a bull market, except it be financed by outside funds. These are ready to come in, but only at lower levels. The pending of foreign loans here makes also, for hesitation until amounts and character of these is ascertained. All of this contributes to keep the market inert and irregular, its movements indicating no definite trend for the time being.

J. S. BACHE & CO.

FOUND FINANCIAL SENTIMENT IN LONDON CHEERFUL

Montreal, June 19.—G. W. Farwell of G. W. Farwell & Company, who returned today from a business trip to London, confirms the reports that financial sentiment at that centre is cheerful and confident, as indicated by the better tone in the stock and money markets.

Mr. Farwell stated that there is an impression in the best informed financial circles in London that so far as the actual fighting is concerned, the war will be over some time this year. The peace negotiations may run into the following year, but the bloodshed will be over before that if expectations are realized.

NEWS LETTER FROM
MONTREAL EXCHANGE

Montreal, June 19.—The Mexican situation today from a business trip to the American market today, and this had the effect of depressing prices on our local market. Our market acted well and took the liquidation. The only stock which showed any rallying power was Steel of Canada, but there was very little snafu shown in the market. We will undoubtedly be governed by the Wall Street market.

The American market closed at about the bottom. There still continues to be a good demand for the Dominion War Loan, and there is plenty of money offering.

McDOUGALL & COWANS.

NEW YORK COTTON
MARKET SALES

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.)

|                | High. | Low.  | Close. |
|----------------|-------|-------|--------|
| Jan. . . . .   | 13.17 | 13.10 | 13.15  |
| Mar. . . . .   | 13.31 | 13.26 | 13.30  |
| May . . . . .  | 13.43 | 13.40 | 13.42  |
| July . . . . . | 12.77 | 12.69 | 12.75  |
| Oct. . . . .   | 12.94 | 12.87 | 12.92  |

NEW SCHOONER ARRIVES.
The new tern schooner Lillian H. 423 tons, arrived on Sunday from New York with a cargo of hard coal. She is commanded by a St. John man, Capt. F. G. Howkes. The vessel was built at Port Greville, N. S., by G. M. Cochrane and is said by shipping men to be a splendid staunch craft.

Ch. red, 2 hats to 1. Co. No. inst. On. dard. Ry. Ba. Th. Ch. Po. La. Ri. Sept. July. Dec.

Ch. red, 2 hats to 1. Co. No. inst. On. dard. Ry. Ba. Th. Ch. Po. La. Ri. Sept. July. Dec.

Ch. red, 2 hats to 1. Co. No. inst. On. dard. Ry. Ba. Th. Ch. Po. La. Ri. Sept. July. Dec.

Ch. red, 2 hats to 1. Co. No. inst. On. dard. Ry. Ba. Th. Ch. Po. La. Ri. Sept. July. Dec.

Ch. red, 2 hats to 1. Co. No. inst. On. dard. Ry. Ba. Th. Ch. Po. La. Ri. Sept. July. Dec.

Ch. red, 2 hats to 1. Co. No. inst. On. dard. Ry. Ba. Th. Ch. Po. La. Ri. Sept. July. Dec.

Ch. red, 2 hats to 1. Co. No. inst. On. dard. Ry. Ba. Th. Ch. Po. La. Ri. Sept. July. Dec.

Ch. red, 2 hats to 1. Co. No. inst. On. dard. Ry. Ba. Th. Ch. Po. La. Ri. Sept. July. Dec.

Ch. red,