U. S. SENATOR WANTS SLICE OFF CANADA

Would be the Price for U. S. Endorsement of St. Lawrence Waterway Project.

RESOLUTION NOW BEFORE SENATE

Move Made to Put Obstacles in Way of Projected Waterway.

Washington, Feb. 10—(Canadian Press)—Senator King, of Utah, who today introduced a resolution in the Senate looking to the acquisition by the United States of a slice of Canada in return for United States endorsement of the St. Lawrence waterways project, does not seriously expect that Uncle Sam will acquire added territory as a result of his move. To a Canadian press correspondent, in an interview tonight, he admitted that he was prompted by his opposition to the St. Lawrence project.

Senator King's resolution calls for thecession by Canada of the triangular section of the Province of Quebec, bounded by the Richelieu River and Lake Champlain on the East, the State of New York on the South, and the St. Lawrence River on the north. This would bring the district to the south of the St. Lawrence and riparian rights to the middle of that river within the jurisdiction of the United States from its source to tidewater at Saguenay.

Against Project

The move of the Utah Senator, so understood here, is intended merely to put obstacles in the way of the projected waterway, and the resolution was not presented with any serious thought that Canada could be induced to give up a rich slice of Quebec. The resolution, it is generally stated, has practically no chance of being adopted by the Senate. It is agreed, however, that, if the United States enters the project, it would be paying half the cost of a work which will be largely outside United States territory. "I am opposed to the whole proposition of this waterway," Senator King told the Canadian Press. "However, I take the position that it would be best to put up $150,000,000 to have something to say about the land on the south side of the bank. In order to exert power plants and the like, we must have riparian rights, and to have riparian rights we have to own the land. We can't afford to spend enormous sums of money in some other country."

NEW POPE WELCOMED BY ANGLICAN PRESS

See in His First Act Intention to Throw Down Barriers of 1870.

London, Feb. 10—(Canadian Press Cable)—The Anglican weekly church papers extend a cordial reception to the election of the new Pope. The Guardian sees in the earliest actions of Pope Pius XI, as head of the Roman Catholic Church, an intention to throw down barriers which may have been necessary in 1870, but are no longer needed in 1922.

MEDICAL SOCIETY BACK OF MOVE

Will Give Society's Officials Chance to Speak Authoritatively in Reply to Alliance.

Toronto, Feb. 10—A crystallization of opinion among thirty-five hundred Ontario physicians on the vexatious subjects of prescriptions, and prohibition in general, is to be brought about by a questionnaire now being prepared. The Canadian Medical Association, which the results of the questionnaire come in, will be possible for officials of the Association to speak definitely for the whole body of physicians on all phases of the matter, including the proposed restrictions on the freedom of physicians in prescribing drugs submitted by the Dominion Alliance.

Dr. Banbury, secretary of the association, said:

"In a normal year, so long as physicians believe that alcohol is beneficial and necessary in the treatment of certain cases—and many physicians do hold to that view—it will be very difficult, if not impossible, to give them the right to sue us for our judgment in prescribing it."

"Do not think that the law of the land could be made to proceed against physicians in cases where they find alcohol necessary and I think that it could be proved necessary in certain cases. It is competition authority. It would be a severe restriction on the dignity of the medical profession to attempt to impose restrictions on the proposed restrictions."

Montreal, Feb. 10—Silence is now the policy of the officials handling the Delorme murder mystery, and nothing was given out for public information here today in connection with the death of Raoul Delorme, 24-year-old Ottawa College student, found dead in his room in the north end of this city on Jan. 7 last.

Coroner McNaughton said: "I have nothing to say" and police officials make the same reply to questions.

It is thought in police circles that the suit of the books of the Delorme murder will be completed tomorrow, but it is understood that the report of the auditor will show nothing of importance. In view of the will made by the victim and drawn up and witnessed by one of the police, there is no possibility of recovering the captured man.
