

The Fugitive Found.
Mr. M. W. Francis returned from Bangor last night, having seen and effected an "arrangement" with John Gray and J. H. Starr, who had absconded with $300 of the funds of his establishment. Some $300 of the money was returned, the fugitives asserting that this was all in their possession. Both showed indications of extreme penitence and were very free in their efforts to do all possible to atone for their actions. After paying the $300 they were released, and it is believed have gone West.

No further cases have been reported. All the patients are recovering and the indications are that the disease cannot spread beyond its present limits. Three patients, the two Hennebys and O'Brien, are now in the military hospital and with the exception of one of the Hennebys all are convalescent.

Common Council.
The Common Council met yesterday, and after a session of an hour and a half, broke up in disorder. During the period devoted to business they ordered a number of bills to be paid, gave Messrs. Scammell Bros. a vote of thanks for their services, and adjourned.

Missing men continue to be found frozen every day. Thousands of horses, cattle and other stock perished. Snow banks were higher than houses in many places, and many railroad trains were blocked up for days.
