DINNER PARTY

On Saturday evening, April 11th, Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne Nelly of Kingston gave a dinner party for the members of the Baptist Church. The ladies were beautifully decorated with roses and potted plants, and were laden with numerous varieties of dainties, arranged in an artistic manner.

Mrs. Evelyn Hatt, Mrs. Gladys Beardsley and Mrs. K. Hatt assisted the host and hostess.

After dinner, Mr. F. W. Foster spoke on behalf of the guests and thanked Mr. and Mrs. Nelly for their kindness. Then ordered complimentary tickets to all present to the theatre.

Rev. A. A. MacLeod responded to Mr. Foster's remarks and emphasized again how their true generosity in the community was appreciated. The enjoyable party closed with a song in honor of the host and hostess.

Needless Prejudice

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sarah E. Ward

The death occurred at Danvers, Mass., on Thursday, April 2nd, of Mrs. Sarah E. Ward, second daughter of William and Fannie Keith and widow of the late George Ward, Victoria Vale, N. S., of pneumonia at the home of her brother, Henry Keith, funeral service being conducted there on Sunday afternoon, April 5th. She was 61 years of age.

It came as a great shock to her relatives and friends, as she was enjoying her usual good health until about ten days before her death, when she contracted a cold which later developed into pneumonia with complications, the end coming very sudden.

She and her eldest son, Charles, had spent the winter in Danvers, with relatives and were making preparations for returning to their old home.

Death has laid a heavy hand on this family. Her husband, George Ward, died Jan. 27, 1923. His mother "Aunt Susan" was also called her, passing beyond on July 11, 1924, in her 100th year, and her eldest sister, Lillian died Feb. 21, 1925, and was buried at Pine Grove Cemetery Tuesday, Feb. 24th.

Mrs. Craig's death was the first break in the Keith family of ten children, which was very remarkable and exceedingly unusual, and in exactly six weeks, April 7th, the second sister, Sarah Ward, was laid to rest in Pine Grove, thus making four deaths in a little over two years.

Mrs. Ward was a woman of sterling qualities beloved by family and friends, endeavoring herself to all by her bright, cheery manner and great hospitality. She was a consistent and active member of the Methodist Church, where she lived also was her husband and sisters, all three sitting at the time when Rev. A. B. Higgins was their pastor.

The death of these three has left a gap in church, community and home life, which can never be filled.

She leaves to mourn their loss two sons, Charles and Percy, now of Danvers and two daughters, Helen, also of Danvers, and Mary, who is a nurse in the Y. A. also three brothers, Henry and William of Danvers and Calvin of Kentville.

S. and five sisters, Ida of Washington, D. C., Mildred, (Mrs. George Smith) of Litchfield, Conn., Althea (Mrs. Emory Simm) of Waverley, Mass., Maud (Mrs. Joseph Brown) and Kate (Mrs. Philip Burke) of Victoria Vale, N. S., also three grand children.

The many floral offerings from sympathizing relatives and friends were very beautiful, some of which were sent to the Memorial Hospital, Middleton, by the two sorrowful sons.

recall their father and mother's favorite hymn or one of them.

"On the crystal river's brink Some sweet day bye and bye We shall find each broken link Some sweet day bye and bye O loved ones waiting there By the tree of life so fair Till we come their joy to share Some sweet day bye and bye."

PORT GEORGE

April 13th—The Cantata "Gates of Hope" Messengers given in the Baptist Church on Sunday last was attended by a large and appreciative audience. $10.50 was raised for Grand Life Mission.

Mr. Roy Whitman and family of Lawrenceville spent Easter at the home of Mr. Whitman's sister, Mrs. Frank Rho.

Miss McDonald of Halifax is a guest of her aunt, Mrs. S. Spurr, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Neal were guests at the same home.

Mrs. S. Dyer and Miss Gates of Inglewille were week end guests of the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. (Joy) Craig and two sons were guests on Easter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hinds.

Miss Ina Stocumb spent her Easter holidays at the home of her father, Mr. James Stocumb.

Miss Muriel Saunders and cousin, Louis Nelly of North Kingsville, were Easter guests at the home of their uncle, Mr. David Weaver.

On Saturday evening, April 18th, there will be a "Meatless Day Party" in the Hall. Everybody welcome. Ice Cream will be served. Proceeds for Methodist Church.

The Ladies of the Methodist Church say: A Messing Party we give to you 'Tis something pleasant as well as new To help the funds on you we call To give three cents for each foot you're tall

One cent for each extra inch you'll give. And hereby show how high you live with games and refreshments. We'll have lots of pleasure. Let us meet one and all at our party of measure.

In the Hall Saturday evening, April 18th.

MOUNT HANLEY

A number of the people from this place attended the Easter Concert at Port George and enjoyed it very much.

Miss Margaret Dunn and Curtis Dunn from Nictaux Falls spent last Saturday at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bates.

Mr. Charles Bartheaux and Dorothy spent a few days last week at his sister's, Mrs. Alton Messenger, of on terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wallace have been calling on friends here of Mr. Louis Best and friends of Wilmot spent last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rafter.

Mr. Ingle Bartheaux spent the Easter holidays with his cousin, Mr. Willard Crockett of Centerville.

Miss Helen Beckwith spent the Easter holidays at her home in Nictaux West.

PROGRESS

The prosperity of a community is not measured by population, but by its civic and commercial progress.

A handful of workers achieve more than a city full of drones.

Team work is what counts in everything. A prominent football recently said: "Give me a team of average ability who will work together, each with the other and all for the team and I will win over any team made up solely of individual stars."

Individual ability makes great men—shining lights, but it is mass co-operation of energetic men of civic spirit, home pride and community enterprise that builds a town's progress and prosperity.

Men of this community, be ye more than mere residents—be citizens.

The shirker says: "Let George do it." The worker says: "Let me help."

AGE OF MIRACLES

This is an age of such wonderful things that we cannot afford to scoff at anything we read about or hear about. Men are lying through the air and contraptions that are heavier than the atmosphere on which they float.

One of those machines has been driven at the rate of five miles a minute. Not so very long ago we thought a railway train speeding along at the rate of one mile a minute was almost a miraculous thing. The British people are building steel houses with almost incredible celerity. In Los Angeles we are told one can order a five-roomed house in the morning and move into it in the evening. The house would probably not be considered a very elaborate establishment in any other part of America, but it appears to suffice. If the demand for such houses continue active, we can easily believe that Los Angeles will become one of the greatest cities in the world within a few years. And yet we have a feeling amounting almost to a premonition that we would not enjoy life if we were living in the City of the Angels.

MAN, THE TAXPAYER

A man is taxed from the cradle to the grave. The milk bottle which nurses him, the bonnet in which he goes to get christened, the diamond he gives his fiancée, the wedding ring he gives his wife, the drugs with which he tries to prolong his existence, the tombstone over his grave—all pay toll to the taxgatherer. He is taxed if he gets paid debts; he is taxed if he gives his neighbor a sale; he is taxed when he buys a paper, or goes to the movies, or buys a box of cigars, or goes to a prize-fight, or breaks the N. S. T. A.

The food he eats, the clothes that he wears, the amusement that he takes, the things that he reads, the radio that he listens in on, the new model that he buys, the tobacco he smokes, the stimulants he thinks he needs—everything, but his groch and his grievances—renders to Caesar. And if he happens to survive it all, and saves a little money notwithstanding, the taxgatherer takes most of it when he dies.

MY OBITUARY NOTICE

By Uncle Josh

Now when I die please do not try to write half a page. Just use some tact and state the fact, then give my name and age. If more you'd say be sure and pay for space you do not own; it's only fair to take your share of special favors shown. If you would raise your voice in praise, don't wait until I'm dead; a word of cheer will banish fear and lift my drooping head. I'll try to live that I may give my best right up to the end; then when I die someone may sigh and say—"I've lost a friend."

YOUR NEW SPRING HAT

AWAITS YOU HERE

Hats with higher crowns are in evidence, many of them have the new "over the top" trimmings. Bright flowers and colorful pom-poms are in many new varieties. Shapes and fabrics for foundations are as varied as the fancies of the women who will wear them. A large and dainty selection of hats for children in stock too.

The prices are different this year, being lower than ever before, but the high quality and latest in fashion go with this abnormal reduction making them equal in price to the lowest. Come in and see what a pretty and suitable hat you can secure for a small price.

HOLY WEEK OBSERVED BY THE CHURCHES

Last week was Holy Week, and all three churches united for its observance. On Tuesday evening, Rev. R. Miller, pastor of Holy Trinity, gave an address accompanied by lantern slides of the Passion and Death of Christ. Rev. D. R. Hemmeon, of Wolfville, was the special speaker at the United Church on Wednesday evening, and an interesting address was given by the pastor, Rev. W. D. Wilson. Friday evening all three churches were open for services. These meetings were fairly well attended.

The time to jump on the advertising is when business is dull. It has a magic effect. When business is good make it better with advertising.

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH (1925 MODEL)

Under an ad for gasoline The village smithy stands; He's agent for the Jinx machine And several other brands. He hasn't shod a horse for years, For fear he'd soil his hands.

He wears a gold watch on his wrist, A pearl pin in his neck tie, His links are made of amethyst, The finest he could buy. There's not a thing the smithy wears That doesn't please his eye.

Week in, week out, from morn till night, He sees the autos come. He knows that don't work right And axles on the bum. With gas, repairs, and grease and oil, He makes a tidy sum.

He has a staff of skilled men That number twenty-four Who toll from six a.m. till ten And sometimes even more. The smithy never does a stroke— He thinks that work's a bore.

The children coming from school Look in at the open door. And laugh to see some city fool Set up an awful roar. When called to pay some whooping bill The smith says grateful prayers.

He goes on Sunday to the Kirk. His mind quite free from care. Because his men are hard at work With punctures and repairs. And if the weather's fine and warm The smith says grateful prayers.

Oiling—refilling—repairing. Onward through life he goes. And never once despairing. So long as his income grows Bright night the thought of someone done Augments his sweet repose.

Make your paper breezy. Give it the news of your home, church, neighbors and district. This is one way to show your interest, and by so doing you help yourself, the paper and the community. Try it.

MRS. MARY M. REED DIES VERY SUDDENLY

The death occurred suddenly at 5 o'clock, Thursday morning, April 9, 1925, at her home on Commercial St. of Mary Reid, widow of the late H. E. Reed, postmaster. The deceased had not been in good health for some time, but was able to be about her home.

Mrs. Reed was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Muir. She leaves three sons, Maxwell, and Dr. Muir, of Middleton; Glen of Boston; and two brothers, Daniel, of Kentville; and William of Boston.

Interment took place in Pine Grove Cemetery.

Personal Stationery at The Outlook all printed with your name and address on the paper and envelopes for only $2.00 per hundred of each, or $1.25 for fifty of each. This is a chance not to miss.
