Perfect free exchange is impossible, and in preferential treatment lies the bined, Russia excluded. When one only means whereby that binding principle can be applied."

Inter-British Trade.

We cull from the Empire with plea sure the following extract, in reference to England's trade troubles with hostile foreign tariffs:

"What then is the remedy? Great Britain must look to her Colonial Empire; offer discrimination in favor of the products of the Empire against any foreign countries which refuse to reciprocate, and receive in return the markets of those rising nations on the North Amercian continent and the great southern plains of Australia, which are now being exploited by foreign countries. She must increase the import of Canadian, Australian and Indian wheat at the expense of Russian, American and European grains, and thus by means of a family tariff and the abolition of the present £20,000,000 duties on tea, coffee and tobacco coming into the United Kingdom prevent German competition in Australia and India, as well as American competition in Canada, relieve internal taxation and give herself an allpowerful lever for obtaining reciprocal trade relations with the countries which the United States is apparently preparing to finally win over to the grasp of American commerce.

The advocates of this policy urge with great vigor the necessity of some action being taken, and claim that if, in addition to considering that the force of events is gradually inclining Great Britain in its favor, the other states of the Empire could move in ing senators. Canada's Future.

Interesting Address Before the National Club of Toronto, by Hon. Jas. Young. the Indies, Cathay and the South The last of the series of addresses on even in the immediate future, must be rooms of the club by Hon. Jas. Young, crease of 22,000,000 in ten years.

Mr. Young's Address

Mr. Young was enthusiastically is possessed of richly varied and inexhaustable natural resources, and blessed with a healthful and invigorating climate. This habitable area is greater than all the countries of Europe comcontemplates this vast area a loose rein can be given to the imagination and not exhaust the possibilities of empire to this great Dominion before the close of the next century. A dissertation on the material progress of Canada occupied a large portion of the speaker's time. The Dominion is essentially an agricultural country, the exports in this line alone reaching $51,000,000 in a single year, and the total production of the farms is estimated at about $506,-000,000 per annum. No country in the world is richer in minerals, and experts say that 650,000,000 tons of ore is in sight in the Sudbury district alone. Three of the national resources are especially worthy of mention, the forests, fisheries and shipping.

Canada Takes Fourth Place

among the great maritime nations of the world. Its canal system is very extensive. Thirty-one years ago there was 71 miles of railway in operation; in 1891 there is over 14,000. This in itself is an index of the wonderful pregress of the country, and another indication may be found in a comparison of the imports and exports in different years. For the first year after confederation these totalled $129,000,000, and in 1883 the figures were $230,000,000. Tae banking returns for the last 20 years tell a cheerful tale to the patriot. The speaker, after a comprehensive review of Canada's material progress, continued his remarks on the line of political and social conditions. The weakest points of the parliamentary system were pointed out to be "patronage" and the present mode of appoint-1,000,000 pupils.

The chief census commissioner's estimate of Ireland's population is 4,770,-127. This is 625,000 less than it was in 1801, 3,405,000, less than it was in 1841, and 377,000 less than it was in 1881.

The Indian census returns give a population of 285,000,000 for the whole of India, an increase of more than 30,000,000 since 1881. Of this, 220,000,-000 are in British India, giving an in-

It can be sent safely by express to any point.

The directions are plain and simple.

The Inhaler is easily understood—a child can put it in operation. The Inhaling liquid does not require to be heated, simply poured into the Inhaler.

The operation is more pleasant than painful. When the disease is in the throat you inhale throug the mouth. When the disease is in the head you inhale through the nose.

It takes from one to three months to cure a bad chronic case.
