THE CAMERA CLUB BOYS PLAY TO A CROWDED HOUSE. A couple of carloads of the Camera Club Minstrels visited Merritton on Thursday night and gave a couple of hours entertain-ment in the town hall. The building was able of the concentration under a second packed with an appreciative audience who, to judge from the applause, thoroughly en-joyed the programme presented. Owing to the lack of accommodation and the small size poyed the programme presented. Owing to the lack of accommodation and the small size of the stage, the show had to be cut, and the drill corps could not appear, but the boys put up a good entertainment. The end men were the same as formerly, and their songs went splendidly. The tramp specialty of Messrs. Moore and Devaney took like hot cakes, while the dancing of Jos. Locke was much enjoyed, and great ap plause was given W. Carney for his mouth-organ solos. "Don't Give Us Away," is the name of a new song, which was rendered cap-itally by Chas. O'Donnell. This song was composed by David Battle, of Thorold, and is extremely pretty, both in words and music, and the audience was quick to applaud at the success. "The combate and how and the song the song the song." His Lordship Bishop Dowling was present during the devotions ; he assisted at the clos-ing agercises and expressed his gratification to see so much piety and devotion manifested by the people of the parish. On Friday last the forty hours devotion began at St. Lawrence. Solemn High Mass was celebrated by Father Brady. Father Kreitz, the eloquent Carmelite, conducted the mission exercises. The devotion closed Sunday evening, when an immense audience was present. Father Kreitz delivered an instructive sermon on devotion to the Blessed Sacrement. The Bishop chanted the litany of the saints and prayers, assisted by Fathers Kreitz and Brady, and he then carried the Blessed Sacrament in proces-

end of the song. It promises to be a great success. The orchestra work was especially fine, and the members received a hearty round of applause for their rendition of the overture. The proceeds will be handed over to John Wright, of Merriton, a young man who was unfortunate enough to lose a leg in an acci-dent. He will reap a nicelittle sum. At the close of the performance last night he re-turned thanks to all concerned for their kind-nezs to him.—St. Catharine's Journal, May 14.

"ST. PATRICK'S SETTLEMENT."

Temiskaming Lake, May S. 1867. Dear Sir-Allow me for the third and last time a place in your valuable publication. Since my two last letters published in the CATHOLIC RECORD I received a great many letters asking for information about the White river, better known perhaps as "St. Patrick's Settlement," at the head of the great Lake Temiskaming, My purpose in writing this sconcero, a collective answer. First, I maintain as true all I have already written on this subject, and declare my inten-ion of wishing to deceive no one. But every-body must remember that the settlement men-tioned is as yet only in contemplation. Conseody must remember that the settlement men loned is as yet only in contemplation. Conse quently, for the present, what is needed above dl else is good will, strong arms, and good armers ready to attack the forest, and, littl rmers ready to attack the forest, and, int - little, transform it into beautiful fair here many families will find comfortal imes. For the present, then, hot-lekepte crebants, tradesmen, or school-teachers ha ta very good chance of making a living eir professions. They could do so, howev ter a few years when the settlement will the fair of the settlement will be the settlement w

My conviction is that the head of Lake Tem, skaming is destined for a brilliant future, and t cannot be a long time before it will be horoughly settled since God has biessed it with good land and healthy climate. To all the future settlers of St. Patrick's Settlement I would say beforehand: "Wel come, in the name of the great and immortal patron of Ireland ! Let them come in larg numbers to range themselves under bla glori a monk of Cluny. He dauntlessly dared to resist Henry of Germany ; and, also, as we are told, "from the very commencement of his pontificate was full of the thought of driving the Mohammedans out of Europe, and of delivering the Christians from the yoke of the Saracens." God accepted his heart's desire, for, on the very day that he died in Salerno, the conquering armies entered Toledo, and replaced the sign of the crescent by the sign of the cross, after four centuries of Saracen bondage.

May 25 is the feast of Our Lady Help of Christians, that title added to her other glorious titles by the saintly Pope Pius V., whose feast we kept on May 5. He added this title in thanksgiving for the victory gained by her intercession over the Turks at Lepanto. His holy successor, Pius VII., instituted the feast in memory of his triuphant entry into Rome, after his five years' captivity under Napoleon I. God, in whose hand are times and seasons, ordered it that Napoleon should die May 5, that very feast-day of St. Plus V., whose name was borne, and not unworthily, by the meek pontiff whom the French emperor had in-sulted and imprisoned. May 26 is the feast of St. Philip Neri, who founded the religious community snown as the Fathers of the Oratory

In our own century it was this com munity which the illustrious convert, Cardinal Newman, joined, and which he introduced into England. To this, also, Father Faber belonged, and Father Bowden, and Father Delgairns, to name no others. We must men-tion, moreover, that May 27, the eve of St. Augustine's feast, is, this year, Ascension Day; and on his feast begin that first of all novenas, the novena to the Holy Ghest. Thirteen hundred years ago, the Benedictine monk Augustine came to England, sent by another Benedictine, Gregory the Great, Pontiff and saint. Gregory would have gone gladly or that missionary journey, but he could not ; so he bade Augustine go instead. Between them was the tie, not only of prothers in religion, under the one Benedictine rule, -- not only of fellow-Christians in the one Church of God there was another link in the three fold chain which can not easily be broken, the link formed by the power of mission and jurisdiction on the one hand, and of loyal submission and lov ing unity on the other. In that union was strength ; England became Catho ic ; and she became, moreover, the Island of the Saints. Men could cry Sing to the Lord a new canticle His right hand and His holy arm hath saved us. Where is the Island of the Saints, the Dowry of Mary, now? The saints are few to-day on her calendar, for the bond of submission and unity was snapped asunder, by the will of a guilty king, on an evil day. They who spurned the unity of the Christian Church on earth, ceased to ask the prayers of the blessed ones gone on to God, and their comprehension of what 'the Communion of Saints" implies grew dim. The thirteenth centenary celebra tion must make men thoughtful. They will ask: "Who was this saint? Whence did he come? What did he do in England? Who sent him there?" They will learn that he is not, as is sometimes ignorantly supposed, the great author of the "Confessions," bishop of Hippo in Africa ; and also they will learn that each St. Augustine looked to Rome, taught with Rome, and obeyed Rome. They will ask themselves whether, in case the St. Augustine of St. Benedict and of England could return to their land again, he would feel at home with their Anglican Bishops : or whether he would

St. Joseph's Court, No. 370, meets every second and fourth Thursday in each month, in Dingman's Hall, corner Queen and Broad-view. The meetings are largely attended, as Court 370, has a good staff of officers. The expeditious and harmonious system of con-ducting the business of the court is certainly inviting. At last meeting four candidates were initiated, five propositions received and four on the way - a repetition of previous meetings.

-----COMPLIMENTARY.

Mr. P. J. Neven, of London, representing the CATHOLIC RECORD, was in town this week calling upon the subscribers of that ex-cellent journal. The CATHOLIC RECORD is a first class, all around family newspacer, and every one of our Catholic friends should subscribe for their Church organ. In Mr. Neven the publishers have a real gentleman to represent them.- Wallaceburg News.

MRS. JOHN AMYOTT, ST. THOMAS. We are pained at being called upon to chronicle this morning, the death of Mrs. John Amyott, who, after two weeks painful illness, departed this life on the 13th inst., at her late home in St. Thomas. Mrs. Amyott (nee Fere) was born at St. Enstache, Que., about fifty-nine years ngo. Since her marriage she lived in Toronto about ten e a resident of St. Thomas. On account of her marriage she lived in Toronto about ten e a resident of St. Thomas. On account of her the League of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, from the day of its establishment in this parish by the Jesuit Fathers Devlin and Prendergast. She has been always formost in every work of religion and charity. She leaves to mourn her sad loss, besides her afflicted husband, two sons — Dr. John Amyott, Toronto, and Dr. Norbert Amyott, Belle River—and one daughter — Madame Sophie Amyott, Sacred Heart convent, Halikax, N. S. The two former were at her confort their skill and power could confer up to the last moment. Hith Mass of Requiem was celebrated in the Church of the Holy Angels, where her remains lay on Friday afternoon until train time. They were conveyed by the C. P. R. May her soul rest in peace ! MRS. S. CORBETT, ST. THOMAS.

arrief to her sorrowing orphan children, as it was a surprise and a shock to the very large circle of surviving friends. Mrs. Corbett—nee Hampton—was born in this patish sixty years ago. Her respected father, Michael Hampton, long deceased, was one of the first occupants of a confort-able homestead in the county of Elgin. About eight years ago she was left a widow with five children, since which time she has been a model of Christian resignation, and of unfeigned piety. Her zealous cooperation in all works of a religious or charitable char-acter shall be often missed in the parish of St. Thomas. Although her call was very sudden, she was voncharded the time neces-sary to share in all the comforts and conso-lations which the Catholic Church dispenses to her faithful children at the hour of death. Her funeral was largely attended to the Church of the Holy Angels, where High Mass of Requien was sung by Rev. Father Quinhan, P. P., of West Lorne, The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Flannery from the text, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

May she rest in peace !

MR. PATRICK BUTLER, Sr. THOMAS, Died on the 3rd May, much regretted by his afflicted family and a very wide circle of friends, Mr. Patrick Butler, in the sixty-fifth year of his age. The deceased was well known and highly respected in St. Thomas and Lucan, in which places he resided al-ternately almost from his childhood. A man of sterling worth and practical piety, he was ever found true to the cause of country and religion. After battling courageously through life's difficulties and overcoming prejudices of a denominational character without making one enemy in this world, he received the reward that always attends honesty of purpose, patient toil and sincerity of profession—viz., abcudant prosperity in his old age and grateful children to inherit his virtues and profit by his example. MR. PATRICK BUTLER, Sr. THOMAS.

A NOVENA FOR ENGLAND'S CON-VERSION.

The introit for the fourth Sunday after Easter exclaims: "Sing to the Lord a new canticle, alleluia : because the Lord hath done wonderful things : He hath revealed His justice in the sight of the Gentiles. His right hand and His holy arm hath saved us." The collect asks that God, Who makes the faithful to be of one mind, will grant that His people may love what He commands, and desire what He promises. And the epistle bids us receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save our souls.

These things have, to day, their special application. The general in-tention of the Sacred Heart League for May is that the thirteenth centenary

He became eventually the general of the order.

the successors of St. Peter in the holy city of Rome. "Whom the gods mean to slay," says the old proverb, "they first make mad." Looked at from human stand-points, the men would seem wrapped in proof armor of invincible blindness, who could convoke the Anglican assemblage that has been summoned for St. Augustine's year. We must pray, as we have never prayed before, that the darkness of their minds may pass away, that they may receive with meekness the engrafted word that is able to save our souls ; and that, loving only what He commands, and desiring only what He has promised, we may all become of one heart and mind in Him.-Sacred
