MUNITIONS

(Yarmouth Post)
More munitions were used at the Battle of Neuve Chapelle than during the three years period of the South African war. More munitions were used during the first hour of the bombardment preceding the Battle of the Somme than during the whole period of the Battle of Neuve Chapelle. More munitions were fired in the three hours' fight off Jutland than were used in the world's previous naval battle history. Almost incredible but nevertheless a fact.

MANY VACANCIES IN PARLIAMENT

Eighteen are in House of Commons—Thirteen in Senate Making Thirty-one.

There are today thirty-one vacancies in the two houses of parliament, 18 in the Commons and 13 in the Senate. These are the actual vacancies, but they do not comprehend by any means the measure below strength of parliament, for there has been enacted a law under which there will be 14 new seats in the Commons and 12 new members of the Senate after the next election.

Therefore parliament in its two houses is 58 under strength.

The 18 vacancies, in the Commons include 11 Conservatives, 6 Liberal and one Nationalist seats.

In addition to the vacancies, next season will be conducted without the services of a number of members of the Commons who are on military service.

Never since Confederation has parliament been so short-handed. The Commons vacancies are:

KING'S COLLEGE PLANS PROGRESSIVE MOVE.

Will Put on a Campaign to Raise $100,000 For University

The Governors of Kings College, Windsor, are planning a special effort to improve the financial standing of the University and to increase its usefulness after the war. A determined effort is to be made to keep the College thoroughly abreast of the times and to meet the general expansion that is looked for throughout the Provinces. At meeting of the Board of Governors was held lately at which representatives were present from both Provinces. His Grace the Archbishop, presided. Arrangements were made for a new campaign for increased endowment. It was pointed out by the President that such a campaign is absolutely necessary to enable the College to carry on its work efficiently and provide for the needed expansion. With this in view it was decided to inaugurate a vigorous effort in the three Provinces.

A special committee was appointed to make the preliminary arrangements. Mr. R. A. Cassidy, who is already well known to the public in connection with College and philanthropic movements, has been engaged to assist. The amount required, and which there is every expectation of obtaining, is $100,000.

Plans are being formed to bring the claims of the College before the public. Lectures will be delivered in various centres descriptive of King's historic associations and the part played by distinguished Kings men, past and present.
