A CURIOUS COURT

It is Held Annually When France Pays Tribute to Spain.

PRICE OF AN ANCIENT PEACE.

After More Than Five Centuries Three Calves Are Still Humbly Presented Each Year to the Haughty Descendants of the Victorious Spaniards.Every year there takes place in the Pyrenean highlands a remarkable feast.
It is held at the boundary stone of San Martin, which separates the French valley Bareton from the Spanish valley of Roncal. Every year the representatives of the French peasants assemble there in order to pay the Spaniards a tribute, which consists of three calves of the same age and the same color, and the delivery of the calves is accompanied by ceremonies which sufficiently indicate that the old inhabitants of the Roncal valley were once victorious over their neighbors.At 9 o'clock in the morning the mayors of the various villages in the Bar-eton valley, bravely adorned with their blue, white and red scarfs of office, march up to the boundary stone. In front of the column walks a lad, with a pike, from the point of which flutters a little white pennon as a gage of peace.
The three calves are dragged in the rear of the procession at the end of long ropes. Calves and scarfs take up their position by the stone and await the arrival of the Spaniards.They are soon visible in the distance.
In front walks a man clad in sheepskins, who waves a red pennon at the end of a pike as a sign of war. Behind him walks the alcalde of Isaba, the principal village in the valley of Ron-cal, and following him come the al-caldes of the other villages, their staffs of office in their hands. The bulk of the procession consists of shepherds, stern looking fellows armed with old sabers and matchlocks.The alcalde of Isaba is all glories to behold in a long black garment fastened by gold buttons, a tall white ruff, tight fitting knee breeches, red silk stockings and buckled shoes. A sombrero covers his head, and in his hands he holds the staff adorned with silver knobs, the emblem in Spain of magistracy.As soon as the Spaniards reach the rendevous the alcalde of Isaba steps to the front and addresses them in solemn ceremonial style:
"Are you come to pay tribute and swear friendship according to old custom and tradition?""That is the reason of our coming," answer the French.Then the two standard bearers approach the boundary stone and lay their pikes crosswise upon it. After a few moments the Spaniard takes his up again, sticks it into French soil and then places it as before on the stone.
On the cross formed by the two shafts the representatives of the two valleys swear to keep the peace with loyal mind.Then follows the delivery of the three calves to the Spaniards. They are examined by a veterinary surgeon and accepted, after which all present take up their stations under a shady oak, and, following the example of the good St. Louis of France and Alfonso the Wise of Spain, the alcalde of Isaba en-thrones himself among the garrured roots of the oak and proceeds to act as a magistrate.Shepherds and neatherds pass before him and prefer their international complaints. The judge listens to both sides, heads them bring forward their witnesses and delivers judgment without delay, inflicting a fine on one, awarding compensation to another, punishing one and affording satisfaction to his victim.After all the quarrels are settled the alcalde undertakes the appointment of the pasture-guardians for both valleys, so that he enjoys even greater authority in the township of Bareton than the president of the republic himself. Finally, they all betake themselves to Spanish soil, where a Homeric feast is set out, and till late in the night the banquet goes on, the descendants of the old warlike mountain peoples drinking together in brotherly unity in commemoration of the conclusion of the peace of 1375 and the installation of the above ceremonies.About 300 years after this treaty had been made the French began to refuse to pay the tribute, but after some negotiations they consented to continue it.
In more modern times they tried to get the tribute commuted to a sum of money, but the Spaniards declined, but agreed to forego the firing of guns in the direction of France as being a wound to French amour propre.—London Spectator children.To consult the Educational Association before the (issuance) of text books.

To rearrange the Public School Speller.To supply better maps.
To make manual training and domestic science compulsory.
Redistribution of grants to rural schools.Order that School Boards should pay teachers' expenses to the O. E. A. convention.To increase the number of public school representatives on the Advisory Council.To pass new requirements for public school Inspector's certificates.The public school section demonstrated its resentment of the printing of comic sections in the Canadian Press, and characterized it as demoralizing.

Seizure of Immature Veal

(Morrisburg Herald)

Dr. W. E. Crain, medical officer of health at Chrysler, has been recently performing some excellent work in the carrying out of the new Health Act.
For some time it has been a matter of notoriety that quantities of immature veal have been shipped from stations in that vicinity for human consumption.
Recently Dr. Crain seized 1,000 lbs. of this meat at Berwick station. The doctor consulted with Dr. Maloney, District Officer of Health, Cornwall.
The charge was laid against a Mr Page of Chrysler. The means of shipment was somewhat original. All the meat portions of the animal were stripped from the bones and shipped in barrels.
The plea put forward by the defendant was that this was intended for poultry feed. The provisions in the new Health Act, which requires those having such immature meat in their possession to prove that it was not for human consumption, enabled a conviction to be secured, as the defendant was unable to prove that the shipment was not intended for human consumption.Mr James Pollock, J. P., tried the case at Chrysler and imposed a fine of $25 and costs and ordered the immediate destruction of the meat seized.

which Canadian farmers use, with their own sand, stone and gravel to make concrete, is the only ingredient you have to buy.We have, by reason of our large output and scientific methods, been able to bring the price of "Canada" Cement so low that it is within the reach of everyone.An increase in demand results in a greater economy of production, and when conditions have warranted it, we have, from time to time, shared this saving with the consumer by reducing the price of Canada Cement. This demand will continue to increase—as fast as farmers learn of con-crete's superiority over other materials.When you buy cement, see that you get "Canada"
