STAINED GLASS WORK.

An Art in Which Methods Have Not Changed Much in Centuries.

The twentieth century American stained glass maker follows without important variation the simple methods of the French monk of eight centuries ago. The first requisite is the design. The artist makes a small water color sketch to show the general design and color scheme, accompaning it with detailed studies. From this two large drawings or cartoons are made, the exact size of the desired window. One cartoon shows where the leads will be placed—the thin strips of lead, hollowed on both sides and looking in a transverse section like the letter H, which form the framework to bind the pieces of glass together.

Another drawing gives the size and shape of each piece of glass. This cartoon is cut into its component pieces by a pair (or triplet) of three bladed saws, which leave between their parallel blades a space sufficient for the leads. These cut out patterns are put together again on a large glass easel, to which they are attached by wax, and the spaces between are blacked in to give the effect of the leads.

The easel is then placed against a window where the light can stream through it. The artist or his substitute replaces each paper pattern on the easel by a piece of glass of exactly the same size, cut from a sheet of glass of the color called for by the color sketch.

The sketch is not followed exactly; experiment with the actual glass will suggest improvements. To a greater or less extent this stained glass is supplemented by painted glass, on which the colors are fired as in china painting. When all the pieces have been cut they are transferred to the "leading" drawing, the flexible leads are twisted into shape and soldered at the joints and a special cement applied to make the whole water tight. The window is now complete, ready to be put in position, where it is made secure by copper wires fastened to the transverse bars of iron.

KOREAN PROVERBS.

* A man is good when he is old.

* A thing is good when it is new.

* One knows the face of a man, but not his interior.

* One can paint the fur of the tiger, but not his joints.

gins to grow smaller.

* Even the blind man can find his way

* When the ox has broken through the stall, repairs are first made.

* Mark Antony's Mistake.

At a performance of "Julius Caesar" at Hurst college, England, some time ago, Mark Antony made a mistake when the dead body of Caesar was brought in. He apostrophized the fallen hero with impassioned eloquence, and the audience felt acutely for the poor citizens, who were all presumably horror struck and overcome with grief, when Antony gently but firmly grasped, as he thought, the face cloth and slowly, very slowly, began to draw it back. Just then an excited whisper came from the other end of the corpse, "This end, you fool!" But Antony was luxuriatedly wrapped in grief. He perceived and disclosed the intensely gazing audience Julius Caesar's boots.

* Clever Smuggling Trick.

Smuggling from Geneva into France used to be carried on at a great rate.
Alexandre Dumas tells how Beate, a famous watchmaker of that city renowned for his skill in smuggling, got the better of the Count de Saint Cricq, King Louis Philippe's director of customs, who was traveling as a detective. The count bought 30,000 francs worth of jewelry on condition that it should be delivered free of duty in Paris. When he went up to his bedroom on arriving at the French capital he found his purchases on the dressing table. Beate had bribed the count's valet to stow them away among his luggage.

* Hard on the Doctor.

"Well, doctor, are ye gaun hame wif your work?" was the invariable greeting of a doctor to a tailor of his acquaintance when he met him carrying a bundle. Once the tailor saw the doctor walking in a funeral procession.
"Well, doctor, are ye gaun hame wif your work?" he asked.—From Reminiscences," by Sir Archibald Gelkie.

* Make Yourself Felt.

Let your education be so broad and thorough that, whether you paint pictures, write books, sell merchandise, make contracts or cultivate land, you will make yourself felt in your community as an all round man of broad ideas and general culture.—Success.

* Not Hungry at the Moment.

"Did Alkali like make that tender-foot eat his words?"

"No. The tenderfoot turned out to be one of those fellows who would rather fight than eat."

* Smoothing His Path.

Gus—You never had spunk enough to make a proposal in your life. Why did you tell Miss Frettle that you were engaged to two girls? George—So she'd want to get me away from them.

PNEUMONIA IS FILLING THE
HOSPITALS.

Every day we hear of someone being taken with pneumonia. The only preventive is to get strong and keep your body healthy. Take Ferrozone, which makes the rich, red kind of blood that nourishes and stimulates the entire system. "I was all run down and an apt subject for pneumonia," writes A. B. Charters, of Burlington, "when I tried Ferrozone.
I didn't believe it was possible for Ferrozone to build me up so quickly.
In a few days my appetite improved, color came into my cheeks and I felt stronger. I gained eight pounds and regained my old time vigor through using Ferrozone." Try Ferrozone, it assures health. Price 50c.

Wooden Shoes in Holland.

"The wooden shoe," said a native of Holland, "is worn almost exclusively by the peasant classes, and they find them more comfortable than the leather shoes that are worn in America. The feet are chafed in the heavy woolen stocking and then slipped into the shoe without fastening. They never fall off because the people are used to wearing them. They would not exchange, because any other kind would not be so comfortable. The shoes are of elm wood and cost from 10 to 15 cents of American money. Two pairs will last a year."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOL-ERA AND DIARRHOEA
REMEDY.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in use for bowel complaints.
It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take.
It is especially valuable for summer diarrhoea children and is undoubtedly the means of saving the lives of a great many children each year.

Animal Criminals.

As a species of hardened criminals among placid herbivorous animals none is worse than the bison, or American buffalo. Toward man and beast and even among themselves these vicious, vindictive and agile brutes, whose half brothers on the other continents do not fear even the terrific onslaughts of lions and tigers, are in a state of almost continual warfare. They are among the wickedest rogues ever seen in a zoo.—McClure's Magazine.

NEURALGIC HEADACHE IS US-UALLY

Attended with blinding pain, but relief comes quickly when Nerviline is applied, for it is the strongest pain-reliever in the world. "I consider Nerviline a most magical remedy for neuralgia. I am subject to violent attacks," writes Mrs. E. G. Harris, of Baltimore, "but never was I if Nerviline is in the house. The prompt relief that Nerviline brings makes it priceless to me. A few applications never yet failed to kill the pain. I can also recommend Nerviline for stiffness in the joints and rheumatism." Try Nerviline yourself. Price

Gentlemen,—Last November my child struck a nail in his knee, causing inflammation so severe that I was advised to take him to Montreal and have the limb amputated to save his life.

A neighbor advised us to try MIN-ARD'S LINIMENT, which we did, and within three days my child was all right, and I feel so grateful that I send you this testimonial, that my experience may be of benefit to others.

WHAT HE WEARS.

Comfortable Collars—The Convenient Collar in Favor.

It is a thoroughly well dressed man whose collar absolutely fits, and the precision herein expressed is carried into every detail of his apparel.
To such dressers it will be interesting news that a favorite brand of collars is now being made in quarter inch sizes. The former half inch scale proved inadequate to many men, who found an even number of inches a trifle small and an additional half inch just a shade too large. Splitting the difference has brought the fitting to a nicety never before attained, for with quarter, half, three-quarter and full sizes at command there is no possible excuse for man's discomfort in apparel, so far as his collars are concerned.

As far as styles in collars are concerned, fashion lays are not stringent, and conservative masculine dressers avail themselves of the blessed privilege of wearing whatever they consider is most becoming. More depends on how a thing is worn and when it is worn than just exactly what specific shape is worn. With a proper understanding of what items should and should not be worn in conjunction, and a reasonable compliance with the time and place requirements of dress ethics, a man is at liberty to follow his individual preferences.

Both wing and fold collars are popular, and, while the fold has heretofore been almost universally identified with the most negligee dress, it will be particularly smart this season to wear with a plaited, soft bosom shirt a low wing collar, supplemented by—not a four-in-hand, but a soft, broad end tie. The latest shapes in fold collars show well rounded points, brought closely together, or having moderate spacing; also the ultra fashionable shape, with sharp points three inches in depth.

In all collars medium heights prevail. This is speaking comparatively, for medium to one man may mean high to another and low to the third, and the correct height must afford no suggestion of a whitewashed fence surrounding the cars nor, on the other hand, leave an expanse of bare neck.

LATEST SHAPES IN FOLD COLLARS.

between the coat collar and hair. The former is bad enough, but the latter is positively criminal. Three of the newest shapes in fold collars are pictured on this page, and any one of them will prove comfortable for warm weather wear.

Shirts and shirtings are this season particularly attractive, showing a preponderance of fine, soft textures in delicate colorings and artistic designs.
Gray is strongly in the lead, and some of its combinations with either white or black are immensely effective. Gun metal colorings are even more in fashion than last summer and have a delightful coolness of appearance.

The vogue of the coat shirt steadily increases, and the only wonder is that any other cut can exist. Any shirt which opens all the way down the front comes under this title. The coat shirt in dress form as it originally appeared proved an immediate success and has now extended its province to all kinds, the latest development being the soft bosom negligee. The wash silk negligee shirt, by the way, has proved such a comfortable garment in the past that it will have another and probably many more summers of popularity.—Designer.

The Bolero in Its Latest Guise.

The sketch shows one of the season's latest productions so clearly that description is superfluous. The features of the model obviously are the wing-like sleeves, cleverly contrived in one with the bolero, which, by the by, is perfectly tight fitting at the back.

On the Day's Outing.

Before starting on an all day trip, anoint the face in the morning with a good cold cream or white vaseline well rubbed into the skin. This prevents its burning. A little face powder of good quality puffed on top of the cold cream or vaseline is better still and lessens the effect of wind and sun on the skin.
