

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 5, 1896.

The Closing Exercises at Acadia.

Another prosperous year has passed in the history of Acadia University. Once again classes have been ushered from her halls into the highways of active life. The year passed has been a most successful one in all departments. The classes have been largely attended and much interest has been manifested in the work done.

During the past week the town has been thronged with the large number of visitors which the various exercises usually attract. Wolfville has clad itself in its most beautiful robes of flower and verdure to receive its guests.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

The baccalaureate sermon was given by the Rev. Dr. Saunders in Assembly hall on Sunday afternoon. The speaker, spoke from Galatians vi. 10. The subject of his discourse was: "The religious influence exerted in the daily work of a Christian college." The office of a Christian college is not only to instruct in the general studies of the curriculum but its most important duty is to lead the unconverted students under its care, to Christ, and to fit the converted for a Christian life. To accomplish this and professors should be appointed who are God's servants and those by whom the professors are appointed should support them by their sympathy and prayer. Under such management the influence for good which a Christian college exerts is almost unbounded. The continual intercourse with Christian professors cannot fail to exercise an influence. The discussion of questions on belief, on the mooted conflict between science and philosophy, and Christian faith, are settled in the class-room in the interest of truth. The college life is also conducive to the forming of high ideals. Isolated from selfish motives the student arrives at lofty ideals which will determine his future life. The world stands in need of carefully educated Christian men. The nations of the past have fallen because they lacked great men to manage their affairs. The university which is faithful in the performance of this great work will in no wise lose its reward.

McLeod; song, "When the heart is young," by Miss F. Shand. Ice cream, cake and fruit were then served and general sociability prevailed.

HORTON COLLEGIATE ACADEMY.

The anniversary exercises in connection with the Horton Collegiate Academy took place on Tuesday afternoon. Principal Oat announced that the Academy was in a most prosperous condition. The enrolled number of pupils for the closing year was 48, and interest manifested in the work was all that could be desired.

The programme for the afternoon was much enjoyed. Music was furnished by Messrs. Slipp, Leonard, Goudy, Miss Lina Burgess and by Academy and Seminary choruses.

Of a class of twenty-four students six delivered papers. William H. Dyer, discussed in an intelligent manner "The Power of Habit." Robert D. Fugley, of Penobscot, N. B., spoke on "Tourist Travel" showing the benefits of increased activity in that pursuit. The "Armenian Question" was discussed by E. C. Stubbart, of Deerfield, Yarmouth Co. The Sultan received severe handling at his hands. Miss Manetta Crandall, made a very effective defense of Alfred Austin, as poet laureate. The "Valedictory" was well presented by Sheldon S. Poole, of Yarmouth. Very appropriate addresses were made to the class by Rev. Mr. Gumbert, of Boston, and by Hon. H. R. Emmerson.

The display of work in the manual training held in the "Edward Young Manual Training Hall" at the close of the exercises was much admired.

LADIES' SEMINARY.

Despite the showers of Tuesday night a very large audience attended the closing exercises of the Seminary held on that evening. The programme rendered was exceptionally interesting. The musical renderings both vocal and instrumental, were of a high order. Three papers were delivered by members of the graduating class. Miss Kezia Belle Banks, of Waterville, traced the history of the Holy Grail from its inception in heathen mythology to its development as the theme of a Christian poet's masterpiece. Miss Basile Norris Jost, of Guysborough, spoke in a pleasing manner on the "Elgin Marbles"—their fortune as a composite part of the Athenian Acropolis, their rescue by Lord Elgin, and the significance of their design.

The poem by Miss Grace Harriet Patrinquin, of Wolfville, on the class motto "Perseverando" evinced considerable poetical merit, and was charmingly rendered.

Diplomas in various courses of work were presented to the class of seventeen, after which the class was addressed by Dr. Steele, of Amherst, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, N. B., and Hon. J. W. Longley.

UNIVERSITY DAY.

Seldom on previous years have the Anniversary exercises been more largely attended than on this. On Wednesday at the public meeting for conferring degrees, the hall was not nearly large enough to seat all of the large audience which assembled. The exercises on that occasion were much enjoyed. A pleasing feature was the practicalness of the subjects assigned for essays, six of which were delivered.

Mr. Franklin S. Morse, of Digby, in a very thoughtful manner treated "The Permanency of British Civilization," showing that the argument for its decline from the analogy of other nations did not hold, and that the nature of the British constitution and the Empire were adopted to perpetuate its constitution. Mr. Fred Fenwick, of Bonnet, Montana, discussed the "Monroe Doctrine." The object in view in first originating it was self-defence, and in the case of the Venezuelan dispute it could not correctly be applied. Miss Minnie W. Brown put forth a clever and graceful plea for the "Study of Expression in the Arts Course," showing the necessity for it in making education of practical use. Mr. Howard E. Moffat, of Amherst, spoke on "The Future of Egypt," showing that this country's well-being depended on the pursuance of the present British policy. Mr. Lyman M. Denton, of Little River, N. B., delivered a much appreciated essay on the "Aesthetics of Rhythm." Mr. Frank E. Bishop, of Somerset, in a very philosophical manner discussed on Socrates as a Revealer of Unwritten Law.

A. B. degrees were presented to a class of 28. The following students received the degree of M. A. in course: S. J. Case, N. J. Lockhart, Miss Evelyn K. Patten, D. H. McQuarrie, H. S. Shaw, Miss Agnes Hoop, Miss Estelle Cook, Miss Hattie Morton, B. K. Daniels and W. R. Foote. The degree of D. D. was bestowed upon Rev. Dr. Saunders presided and excellent addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Trotter, Dr. T. H. Rand, Rev. J. B. Stubbart, and Dr. A. S. Gumbert. The last speaker spoke from the words "Honor the Lord with thy substance," and urged upon all the friends of the university the importance of a generous support.

During the evening excellent music was furnished by Miss M. H. Fitch on the violin, the College Quartette; and duets by Misses B. I. Barker and Mary B. Richardson.

At the close of the addresses the building was thrown open to the public and the audience were invited to remain and spend a time in a social way. The opportunity of meeting old friends was taken advantage of by the large number present and the time was pleasantly spent.

Finance Minister at Kentville.

Quite a number of "Wolfvillites" comprising both Liberals and Conservatives, went to Kentville on Saturday evening last, to hear Hon. Geo. E. Foster, minister of finance, discuss the various political issues of the day. The Drill Shed, where the meeting was held, was packed from wall to wall, a large number being unable to obtain admittance, and listened to the address from outside the building. Mr. Foster made a magnificent speech, which occupied a little over two hours in its delivery. He devoted about an hour and a quarter to the tariff question, of which he gave a very able exposition. He then took up the Manitoba School Question, showing that the stand of the government on that question was in the interest of justice and right. Mr. Foster closed with an eloquent appeal to the electors for the return of the Conservative administration, whose policy had been one of progress and development. As the talented minister of finance resumed his seat, the audience cheered and applauded in a most enthusiastic manner. W. E. Roscoe, Esq., was then called for, and gave a brief, but vigorous and argumentative address, which was well received. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one throughout, and the Conservatives are feeling quite elated over their prospects.

Somerset.

Parker Kinsman died at his home in Somerset on the 2nd inst, after but a few days illness, leaving a young wife and widowed mother and many friends to mourn their sad bereavement.

Our most venerable citizen, Mr. Edward Parker has been confined to his room since early in the year, and on account of his advanced years his recovery is not expected.
