CENTREVILLE GOLD GETS ATTENTION

Newspapers are Spreading the News of the Alleged Rich Find

The excitement over the Centreville gold find shows no abatement and interest is soaring. A Fredericton correspondent to St. John papers says: "Fredericton, Dec. 9.—Already thirteen persons have obtained prospecting licenses covering claims ranging from thirty-five to eighty acres in area in the gold search, which at present is being staged between Centreville and Florenceville, Carleton county.

This demand for license to prospect in search of gold is the sequel to a discovery said to have been made by Charles Smith, of Florenceville, some three years ago, of gold traces on a farm situated about a half mile east of Centreville, knowledge of which was kept secret until recently when Mr. Smith, accompanied by two friends, made application for licenses.

Following publication recently of stories regarding the find, residents of Florenceville and Grand Falls immediately commenced staking out claims in the immediate vicinity and to make applications for prospecting licenses. Among those who have already obtained licenses are the following: Dr. C. A. Kirkpatrick and F. Pirie, of Grand Falls; Colonel W. W. Melville, George H. Wheeler, Charles Smith, William Stroup, B. C. McIsaac, G. W. Smith, J. McIsaac, Michael F. McCluskey, Herbert Mulhern and Bernice E. McKay, of Florenceville.

Forty licenses have been taken out by these applicants, covering various sections of the territory, which is being prospected, averaging between 40 and 100 unit areas per license. A unit area of 150 by 250 feet in dimensions.

CHRISTMAS TREES

A wagon load of Christmas trees went up the street the other day as J. B. Michaud, local agent of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, was talking with a member of the Edmundston Observer staff.

"I suppose," said Mr. Michaud, nodding toward the evergreens, "that at least one of those trees will be indirectly responsible for a fire in somebody's house before the holiday season is over."

"How so?" asked the newspaper man.

"Well, there are still some people who decorate their trees with tinsel and cotton and then use candles to light them. The combination is a bad one and has caused the loss of many lives and much valuable property."

"You may remember that Mrs. Harding was going to adorn the White House windows with lighted candles last Christmas Eve. A representative of the Underwriters Laboratories, an organization which devotes its energies to preventing fires, telegraphed to the President and asked him not to do so because his example would be widely followed and would turn Christmas Day into a day of mourning in many homes."

"The candles did not appear. I sincerely hope that the people of Edmundston will light their trees by electricity this year. A tree lighted by bulbs of different colors is just as pretty as one lighted with candles—and it isn't dangerous."

I want to tell you something about PRE-SHRINKING

EVERY YARD of cloth used in Dress & Well Clothes is shrunk at least TWICE and some of it THREE times before it is "made-up."

(1) The finer wools and worsteds are examined and "London shrunk" in the old country, by those world famous shrinkers—Jennison & Co.

(2) Every piece on arrival in Toronto goes to Jennison & Co., who have had many years of experience in Britain's best mills. Here every inch of it is carefully examined and if it is found perfect it is thoroughly shrunk. All cloth that is "harred," "streaked," or "shaded" is rejected and sent back to the makers.

(3) After the garments are cut each part is again shrunk before the sewing is done. Furthermore, the Irish linen covers used inside the coat and the linen tape used to "stay" the edges are also thoroughly water shrunk.

So, when I commend to you a Dress & Well Made-to-Measure Suit or Overcoat, I know that it has been properly PRE-SHRUNK and will always retain the smart style lines put into it by Dress & Well tailors.

"I Can Now Do My Work Without Feeling Tired"

Mrs. A. Moffatt, Ronton Falls, Que., writes:

"I suffered from a run-down system and nervous debility. I could not sleep or rest at night, and felt so weak I could not walk any distance. I took several tonics, but they only helped me while I was taking them. Mother advised me to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I felt great benefit from the first box, and continued taking several boxes. Today I feel like a new woman, and am able to do my work without that dreadful tired feeling."
