The Big Profits Are in Contented Cows

Cows, notwithstanding the layman's ideas to the contrary, are really highly nervous and sensitive animals, as all farmers know. Flies pester them and make them nervous and ill-tempered. This affects the milk and the milk supply and so decreases profits. Calves and heifers can't attain their proper weight, strength and vitality when worried by flies. Flies carry contagion and are in every way undesirable. Be humane—be comfortable and make your cows contented by using Pratt's Fly Chaser. It is easy to use and never fails.

MILLENNIUM HAS NOT YET ARRIVED

Mr. Holt Tells the Vancouver Canadian Club That While the End is Not Yet, the British Empire Can and Will Win Out.

Vancouver, May 28.—Sharp criticism of the policy of Government ownership of ships and a frank discussion of the position of British shipping on the Pacific occurred at the Canadian Club luncheon today in an address by Mr. R. D. Holt, senior partner of the great British shipping firm of Alfred Holt & Co.

Mr. Holt told his audience that American shipping on the Pacific had come to stay and after a general review of the situation as it affected British vessels declared that their future was assured if Britishers but remained true to themselves and put forth the best efforts of which Englishmen were capable. Referring to present-day unrest Mr. Holt said that things were not so bad as painted but that everyone expected too much.

"In our country a large number of politicians, probably for their own ends," said the speaker, "led the people to believe that the millennium would come after the war and everyone would be happy without having to do any work at all. It was, of course, a popular programme and, of course, didn't work out. We are gradually learning, however, that in the long run if the people do not produce that which they enjoy, they can not have those things. We are thus gradually going to settle down. Five or ten years is not a long time in the life of a nation, and so we will get over all our difficulties."

LLOYD GEORGE WILL MEET M. KRASSIN

British Premier to Discuss Economic Conditions With Bolshevik Minister of Trade.

London, May 28.—Premier Lloyd George will meet Gregory Krassin, Russian Bolshevik Minister of Trade and Commerce, this week, says The Times, which also mentions a rumor "circulated through channels closely intouch with the Prime Minister's entourage," that both the subject of negotiations and the persons engaged in them "would be more widely extended than at present acknowledged." It is said that Earl Curzon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, will, in addition to Mr. Lloyd George, confer with M. Krassin.

M. Krassin will propose, among other things, says the newspaper, to put tokens of Russian gold, stamped with the seal of the old Russian Government, on the British market, and it is believed the main object of his visit here is to obtain a general license to send such gold to the United Kingdom and sell it here. The Times adds:

"By receiving Russian gold, stolen by the Soviet, we would be virtually recognizing the Soviet Government. It is impossible to dissociate the two ideas of trade relations and official recognition. It is absurd to imagine the two countries can trade with each other and not have diplomatic relations."

London, May 28.—Premier Lloyd George who is much improved in health, returned unexpectedly to Downing Street today from his residence, and there met several of his Cabinet colleagues.

No statement concerning his discussions with the Ministers was given out, but it is understood that among other matters the Russian situation, and the visit to London of Gregory Krassin, Russian Bolshevik Minister of Trade and Commerce was taken up.

WILHELM TURNS TAILOR

London, May 28.—Wilhelm Hohenzollern, former Kaiser of Germany is trying his hand as a tailor, according to a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam. He is cutting out patterns for many new suits with which he is going to stock his wardrobe, and the dispatch quotes a trade paper as declaring he is "excelling at the job."

"How unfortunate it is," says this paper, "that Wilhelm missed his vocation. After all the notoriety he achieved as an emperor, one can imagine what would have been his fame as a tailor."

Ottawa, May 28.—In the Senate yesterday, introducing for second reading a Bill to continue the office of director of coal operations in Alberta, Senator Robertson said, in answer to Senator Belcourt, that he had consulted the justice department as to the constitutionality of the legislation and had been assured that it was not ultra vires.

OPPOSED TO SIGNING OF HUNGARIAN TREATY

Budapest, May 26.—Via London, May 28.—Stephen Frederick, former President, who is described by the people as the hero of two revolutions and who is violently opposed to Hungary signing the peace treaty, protested in Parliament to-day against Hungary entering the compact.

"This House now is applauding the work of the peace delegation in the same idiotic manner as when it cheered the declaration of war," said Herr Frederick.

Seattle May 28.—The accidental discharge of a pistol and the wounding of James Johnson, 32, longshoreman, resulted in the seizure of narcotic drugs of the estimated value of $5,300, and Johnson's arrest on a charge of violation of the Federal anti-narcotic statutes.

Johnson was cleaning the pistol, he said, when it was discharged, the bullet shattering the bone in his left thigh. The police who were called in to give aid to the wounded man, investigated his belongings, and found the drugs in a handbag.

SASKATOON'S UNIVERSITY FOR THE PRAIRIES

Upper Picture.—One end of the Administration Building, University of Saskatchewan, with the Engineering Building in the background.

Lower Picture.—A Travelling University, showing how instruction is carried to the farmers of Saskatchewan.

Long after the ivy peered in at the upper windows of such splendid universities as Oxford, Cambridge or Harvard, such an institution as the University of Saskatchewan had not even been imagined. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who laid the corner stone of this new university July 29th, 1910, was a student poring over his books few but Indians had stood on the height of land which is the site of the buildings shown in the accompanying photographs, and watched the waters of the South Saskatchewan River gliding swiftly and silently northward.

Although the prairie soil was as rich and the river as broad and full then as now, the City of Saskatoon and the site could hardly have been more fortunately chosen. It includes half a mile of well-wooded river front and altogether embraces 1,333 acres of rich land, 293 acres of which are set aside for a campus, 150 acres for purposes of agricultural experimentation and $80 for the Agricultural College farm. The plan provides for the eventual accommodation of 5,000 students.

The present buildings consist of an administration building, containing a hall and offices for the different departments as well as class rooms, two students' residences, one containing a spacious dining hall and the other a gymnasium and swimming pool; an engineering building; livestock pavilion and up-to-date model farm buildings. All the buildings conform to the preconceived plan and will, like those already erected, be of stone in the Gothic style. Work has just recently begun on a new science building. There are also several private residences on the campus, the two principal stone ones provided for in the architect's plan being those of the President of the University and the Dean of Agriculture. The buildings of Emmanuel College, a church of England Divinity School, the first of its kind in Saskatchewan also occupy a part of the campus. The University grants sites of from three to five acres to such affiliated colleges at a nominal rental. Eight thousand dollars have already been subscribed towards a beautiful structure which will be the home of the Presbyterian College. The university provides degrees in Arts, Science, Law, Agriculture, Civil Engineering and a Diploma in Pharmacy.

The present enrolment is between 1,400 and 1,500, including returned soldiers who are retraining in various branches of skilled work, particularly engineering. Scores of promising returned soldiers have been turned out as capable motor mechanics. Steam engineering and the handling and repairing of farm tractors are also taught. Agricultural students, principally the sons of farmers, are training in livestock handling and judging, and even in the care and management of poultry. An important feature of the work of the University of Saskatchewan
