EXPRESS ROBBED.

$25,000 Stolen Between Ottawa and Toronto. Not the First Robbery—Several Dismissals of Employees. (Special Despatch to the Times.) Kingston, Ont., May 27.—The facts are made public for the first time since the perpetration of the crime of a second daring and skilful robbery of a car, running between Ottawa and Toronto. In the first robbery several weeks ago packages of bills to the amount of $25,000, consigned from Ottawa to Toronto, were lost at some place in transit between those two points. In this latest robbery, however, an even larger amount than this was taken, the exact sum being unobtainable, but it is learned that the package contained gold and negotiable bills aggregating $25,000. Both robberies have occurred on the night run, and are apparently no clues to the robbers. Several messengers and other persons have been dismissed. For several nights after the robbery detectives slept in the car no robbers appeared. A few nights after they released their vigilance and the second robbery occurred.

THE ONLY GIRL

(Stuart B. Stone.) Gordon lined their photographs up on the mantel and thought and fought out the whole delicious, painful problem. There was Betty on the extreme right right by the gas jet—plump, saucy, brown-eyed Betty. Need ultra-critical man go farther? No, he would ask Betty the divine that afternoon, and Gordon raised the picture to his lips. In the act his eyes encountered the ocean-blue eyes of Nan, sweet, pensive Nan Bancroft, Ah Nan—gentle, loving Nan! A lifetime with her—had been all wrong about Betty. Gordon prepared to press a kiss upon the lips of Nancy Bancroft—and beheld Miss Allice Mahey. He wavered, then Dresden China Allice had her own exclusive three minutes.
