Bargains in Ships.

MAKE BIG LINES COST VERY LITTLE.

How much do you think was given for that great liner, Majestic? Only one million pounds! Probably the greatest bargain ever made in the shipping world, for Majestic is the latest liner afloat to-day.

Had her owners built such a vessel themselves, it is quite safe to say that they would have spent three times this sum. Formerly she was not an English boat at all, but the German liner, Bertha.

Thanks to the war, we have made some really good bargains in boats. Take the case of the German liner, Imperator. She was started at the Italian Works, Hamburg, in 1922, a vessel of 42,000 tons—she was to be Germany's pride. War came and she was sold under the Cunard flag as the Berengaria. Yet the Cunard Line only paid the sum of £850,000 for her! Another fine vessel we got cheaply from the Columbus, a splendidly fitted liner of 34,000 tons.

She is called the Homeric now and sails under the White Star ensign. The cost of this firm a mere half million pounds. She has palatial halls and staterooms that are unsurpassed anywhere afloat.

Compare these prices with those of some of our other well-known liners. Olympic cost her owners as much as Homeric and Majestic together; Mauretania cost £1,800,000 to build, and Empress of Canada touched the two million mark.

This last is said by her owners to be "the most luxurious liner on the Pacific." But not one of these last three vessels is better than those we acquired through the fortunes of the Great War.

Craze for Bobbed Hair.

STRIKES MEXICO CITY.

MEXICO CITY.—Bobbed hair is now so popular in Mexico City that among young girls long tresses are considered unusual. The craze for short hair was started several months ago when a number of young women who had been attending schools in the United States returned home. The idea became popular and, overriding the old belief that only women of doubtful morals wore their hair bobbed, it was not long before the younger set of the capital adopted it unanimously.

MAGISTERIAL ENQUIRY.—The manslaughter enquiry will be continued in the Magistrates Court this evening. A number of witnesses have already given evidence. The enquiry should conclude in a few days.

Hats off to Nelson.

Most men making the round of the Nelson Monument yesterday took off their hats and adopted the most reverential way of approach which has become a habit at the Cenotaph lower down Whitehall. This is a change. It gave to the pause in Trafalgar Square the appearance of something more than an idle strolling of curiosity. Really for a few hours the monument shared with Cenotaph the particular purpose of honoring the dead fighters of our own generation as well as those of more than a century ago. A number of wreaths placed at its base were dedicated to the memory of men who carried on the Nelson tradition between 1914 and 1918.

Preparations for yesterday's decoration of the monument were begun early in the year. In February, somebody in New Zealand picked flowers and fruits and fashioned them into a wreath. The wreath was frozen into a block of ice, and that block slowly melted away at the foot of the monument yesterday afternoon, releasing the flowers in all their original beauty of form if lacking some of their original beauty of color. A representative of Newfoundland brought a model of Nelson's ship, the hull done in blue and white violets. Attached to various devices in flowers and jewels were the names of other overseas parts of the Empire, and the names of famous ships and famous regiments of Nelson's day.—Manchester Guardian.

L.G. IS IRONICAL.
NEWCASTLE, Nov. 7.

Lloyd George made sharp references to the Near East troubles in a political speech here to-day. "The Near East is beginning to show symptoms of inflammation," he said, "but whatever happens our flag must not be let down. We had got rid of the Turk, but he has looked over the list of our new ministers and come to the conclusion that this is the time for another try. If the Government stands by the flag, I shall be wholeheartedly behind them. I entreat the Government to show the Turk that he will not be trifled with, and that the Turk must stand by the document, signed a few weeks ago at Mudania."

SHARP AND POSITIVE.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 7.

There is reason to believe that Kemalists will yield to pressure brought to bear by the Allied united stand against the demands of Angora Government. A meeting held yesterday was sharp and positive, when the Allies told Rafet Pasha the clear terms they intend to maintain by military authority over Constantinople, until ready to formally turn the city over to the Turks. Rafet Pasha is conferring with his government.

ROME, Nov. 7.

Fascisti and Nationalists clashed yesterday at Taranto over the question of local police, seven being killed and many wounded. Count Storza, Italian Ambassador to France, was the object of a hostile demonstration by Fascisti, when he arrived at Bussoleo, in Turin, on the frontier, while returning to Rome for a conference with the new premier, Mussolini. Fascisti detached from the train, the carriage in which Storza was riding, but carabinieri rushed to the rescue.

Bowling League.

WILL MEET TO-NIGHT.

The Commercial Bowling League are meeting to-night in the Seamen's Institute, when the fixtures will be drawn up for the series of games between the various mercantile establishments. Fifteen entries had been received up to yesterday. Messrs. Harvey & Co. being the last named firm for entry. The Bankers League are opening their series of games to-morrow evening, when the Bank of Montreal will try conclusions with the Royal Bank of Canada. Now that interest has been stirred up so much of late in connection with the revival of the bowling leagues, it is an imperative necessity that the allies at the Institute should present a healthy and invigorating atmosphere. The benefit derived out of this popular indoor game is not only one of pleasure, but is an incentive for the young man in the office, at a counter or desk all day to get as much as he can out of a game which produces excellent exercise. The members of the respective clubs feel grateful to Mr. Watson, of the Institute for the deep interest he has taken in the formation of the leagues, and a little more attention being paid to the bowling alley will no doubt tend to make the games all the more interesting and a popular place for pleasure seekers for some time to come.

Opera "Erminie."

WILL PRODUCE COSTLY COSTUMES.

Judging by the demand for tickets for the Opera "Erminie," which takes place in the Casino Theatre, next week, the promoters feel assured that bumper houses will attend this splendid production. Those who have had the chance to get a glimpse of the rehearsals say it will be the finest opera ever seen in St. John's. The costumes, specially imported from a firm in New York, the price being $10,000, is ample proof that the company has not sacrificed their time and energy in making "Erminie" the success it is expected to be. Nothing will be left undone by the promoters to make the affair one of solid enjoyment during the nights of production.

70,000 Farmers guarantee this

The men of the Dairymen's League—seventy thousand farmers—with many hundred thousand cows, devote their lives to the production of pure milk and milk products.

They are as much a permanent part of American life as New York State or Florida is. When they make a dairy product and put their collective name on it, that product is good. It is made and sold not merely for a fickle demand of the moment, but for to-day, to-morrow, next year, and for years to come.

Not all the farmers in this territory are members of the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, Inc., for, to be a member, a farmer must have the right kind of farm and clean, healthy cows subject to a regular rigid inspection and to unscheduled inspections by government officials. This means much to all who buy milk or milk products.

For these seventy thousand men are in business to stay. The farms MUST produce all they can. The cows MUST give milk. It is the privilege and the desire of the farmers to give the people the best dairy products that can be made.

The storekeeper who sells Dairymen's League Dairy Products can depend upon the products now and in the future.
